City of Cronstadt Sacked and Burned by Men from Barracks.

BATTLE IN STREETS

Many Persons Are Shot Down While Others Flee in a Panic.

ST. PETERSBURG IS EXCITED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CRONSTADT, RUSSIA, Nov. 9.—The sailors in the barracks here have mutinied and today pillaged the town, precipitating riots in the streets in which many persons were killed, and many buildings burned. Hundreds of panic-stricken people fled from the town.

During the rioting last night machine guns were employed against the mutinous sailors who had been joined by a battalion of artillerymen from the fortresses which raised the total number of mutineers to 3,000. It is difficult to ascertain the number of casualties, but officers place the figures at 200. Many wounded persons are in hospitals. The sailors say their chief grievances are poor food and clothing and an insufficient amount of liberty from barracks.

Roughs joined in the pillage, but the workmen did not participate in it. Many of the workmen and the civilian population have either fled or are trying to flee the city and the docks are piled high with baggage and household effects.

The city is full of reinforcements from St. Petersburg and others still are arriving. Order has been restored and there was no renewal of the trouble during the evening. The fires are still glowing in the market and another group of buildings. The stores and houses are boarded up and troops are patrolling the streets.

Mutineers Holding Out.

Searchlights from warships and torpedo boats in the harbor are flashing across the waters in order to aid launches in their search for individual mutineers who are trying to escape to the mainland by boat. Though a majority of the mutineers have surrendered, several hundred are still holding out in the eastern section of the town. They have thrown up barricades but are surrounded and machine guns are posted at all the streets leading to their stronghold. It is expected that the remainder of the mutineers will submit tomorrow.

The heavens reflect the glare of smouldering fires this evening. However, the loyal sailors and troops apparently have the upper hand. Fighting has ceased in the streets, but fears are expressed that there might be further trouble. Tonight patrols are engaged in hunting down and capturing the mutineers.

The outbreak started yesterday afternoon when the sailors of the Seventh Fort Equipage revolted and, it is rumored, killed some of their officers. They marched out of the barracks and immediately plundered four spirit shops. Crazed with liquor they returned and seized their arms, and then went on the rampage, firing promiscuously upon the troops and the loyal sailors. Later they were joined by many of their comrades and fighting continued from midnight until this morning, when the terror-stricken inhabitants began to flee. The lowest estimates place the number of dead at 50. Several regiments with eight machine guns from St. Petersburg and Oranienbaum were landed today.

Alarm at St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 9.—At this critical juncture there is no attempt made in government circles to minimize the seriousness of the mutiny at Cronstadt, and it is admitted that if a battalion of artillerists joined the sailors in open revolt, the mutinous spirit must have been contagious. It is also admitted that while the Cossacks and the guards stood the severe test of shooting upon their fellows in another branch of the service, there is a fear that the mutiny will have a bad effect upon the morale of the troops which already has been badly shaken by the revolutionary propaganda.

As soon as the news of the mutiny was received here the Seventeenth and Eighteenth equipages of sailors of the guard were locked in their barracks and the barracks were surrounded by Cossacks. The sailors were furious with rage and shouted from the windows that they were ready to join their mutinous comrades.

This city was in a furore of excitement all of yesterday and late into the night over the news of the mutiny at Cronstadt. Every one of the exaggerated reports of the affair received credence in many quarters and half the inhabitants of the capital believed that the mutiny was successful, that the troops sent from here had joined in the revolt, that the entire garrison of St. Petersburg would follow suit today, and that the town of Cronstadt had been burned to the ground, together with the surrounding forts.

The place was represented as being in the hands of 5,000 sailors, who had murdered their officers, seized the arsenal and bombarded the imperial palace at Peterhof, across the bay. Butchery was said to have prevailed in the streets all during the day and the rumors even went to the extent of saying that Father John of Cronstadt had left the bed on which he was supposed to be dying to lead the mutineers.

The panic-stricken refugees who escaped by boat say the Maxim guns were fired all night and that this morning the streets were literally flowing with blood. They place the number of dead and wounded far into the hundreds.

NO COMMENT ON KING'S PROJECTED MARRIAGE

MADRID, Nov. 9.—The newspapers have published without comment the reported project for the marriage of King Alfonso to Princess Marie Antoinette of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, daughter of Duke Paul Frederick of Mecklenburg-Schwerin.

GEN. TREPOFF REMOVED

The Czar Also Abolishes Other Obstacles to Count Witte's Projects.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 9.—Gen. Trepoff has been removed from the powerful position of governor general of St. Petersburg and assistant minister of the interior, and Russia's premier has agreed to immediate universal suffrage. The retirement of Gen. Trepoff is hailed with delight. It strongly enhances the chances of the populace giving Count Witte time to carry out his projects, which were in danger, owing to the impatience of the revolutionists.

Gen. Trepoff.

Grand Duke Vladimir has been replaced as military governor of the district of St. Petersburg by Grand Duke Constantine Constantinovitch. This also is a sop to the workmen, who profess to hold the former responsible for the January shootings. M. Isvolsky, Russian minister at Copenhagen, succeeded Count Lamsdorff as minister of foreign affairs today.

The orthodox clergy have issued a stirring appeal to the provincial priests to aid in the restoration of peace in the country.

The following appointments to the new ministry are officially announced: Ivan Shipoff, who was Count Witte's assistant in the minister of finance and his associate at Portsmouth, finance minister; M. Kutler, assistant minister of the interior, minister of agriculture; M. Timriazeff, assistant minister of finance, minister of commerce; M. Nechaieff, president of the Southeastern railroad, minister of communications; M. Filossofon, controller of the empire.

JOHNSTOWN SHIVERS WITH GAS MAINS BROKEN

Peculiar Accident Wrecks Bridge and Cuts Off City's Fuel Supply.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Nov. 9.—Johnstown is without gas tonight. The rear car of a Cambria Steel Company train backing from the lower mill to Franklin jumped the track at 12:15 o'clock today and striking one of the steel uprights of the bridge across the Conemaugh river, sent that structure crashing into the river.

The bridge is a total wreck, while the gas supply of the entire city has been shut off by the severing of two mains which were supported by the bridge. The force of the fall snapped many of the heavier structural beams completely off, twisted the smaller ones and loosened the bridge from the southern pier. The repairs will not take over 48 hours, it is said.

The Tribune and the Journal are compelled to set their papers by hand owing to the fact that there is no gas for the linotypes, while the Democrat will be issued tomorrow morning from the Altoona Mirror office. The latter paper sent 20 men to Altoona this afternoon.

USE FOUND FOR ARK.

Professor Langley's Craft of Dismal Memory is Converted Into Boathouse for Varsity Crew.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—At last Prof. Langley's ark, the houseboat from which he launched his airship, has found a practical use. Although it cost the government many thousands of dollars it has been purchased quite cheaply by the Georgetown university and will be used as a boathouse for the university crews.

This is the third vocation the ark has found, for shortly after the experiments of the scientist with aeroplanes proved valueless, and no further government money for their continuance was forthcoming, it was sold to a syndicate which proposed anchoring it down the Potomac off one of the river resorts and converting it into a summer garden.

ESCAPES FROM HOSPITAL.

Delirious Typhoid Fever Patient Flees Down Street in His Nightshirt.

Julius Buinner, a delirious typhoid fever patient, escaped last night from the Passavant hospital and eluded capture for a while. Buinner was a patient on the first floor. While the nurse was away he got out of bed, opened a window, jumped to the ground, 10 feet below, and got away.

Clad only in his nightshirt, he ran down Miller, Green and Rose streets to Devilliers street. A crowd pursued him toward the Center avenue police station. The wagonman of the station saw him coming, captured him and returned him to the hospital in the patrol wagon. Buinner's home is at 1135 Penn avenue.

URGES MEMORIAL DAY FOR Y. M. C. A.'S FOUNDER

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The international committee of the Y. M. C. A. has issued a request that next Sunday, the opening day of the week of prayer for young men throughout the world, be observed as a "George Williams memorial day." Sir George's body will be buried at St. Paul's cathedral, London, next Tuesday.

BALFOUR SPEAKS WORD FOR RUSSIA

The British Premier Believes Arbitration Will Prevail in Europe.

BEST WISHES FOR THE CZAR

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Nov. 9.—"A century ago Pitt, standing where I now stand, prophesied war. Today I prophesy peace." This was the text on which Premier Balfour based his speech concerning the relations of Great Britain with foreign countries at the lord mayor's banquet in the Guild hall tonight. The premier's reference to Russia was particularly happy. He said:

"The task of the emperor and his advisers is, indeed, a great one, and those who for centuries have practiced parliamentary government know best the difficulties which confront them. There is not a citizen in Great Britain who does not wish them every success, and I express the earnest wish that the movement may not in the future be stained by the unnecessary effusion of blood. We hope that the movement will bring happiness to countless millions unsullied by a repetition of the painful and horrible events which made the initial process so lamentable."

The premier said that his majesty's government had done everything possible for many years to ward off the dangers of war and had done its best to develop a scheme of arbitration. He alluded to the difficulties attending boundary questions and said he hoped that these all might be settled by arbitration.

"I am sanguine on this subject," said the premier. "I think in the future we shall not see war unless, indeed, we can conceive of a nation or a ruler arising who will be unable to carry out a scheme of national aggrandizement except through trampling on the rights of his neighbors. However, I see no prospect of such a calamity in Europe."

Referring to the premier's expression concerning the probabilities of peace, Ambassador Reid said it was the business of diplomatists to make peace and not war, and for his part he preferred the court of arbitration to the arbitrament of the sword.

GOOD FELLOWS INDEED.

Fraternal Society Goes Out of Business With $178,000 Unpaid Death Claims and $14,000 Assets.

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—The state insurance commissioner announced today that the Royal Society of Good Fellows, a fraternal insurance company, had, after 25 years of existence, withdrawn from further business in this state.

According to a report made to the insurance department by a special examiner appointed to inspect the accounts of the order, due and unpaid claims, on October 14, 1905, aggregated $178,875. Against this the company had in cash on hand $11,286; in amounts due from members $2,771, making a total credit of $14,057, and showing a gross liability of $164,822.

MURDER AND SUICIDE IN BRIDAL CHAMBER

NORFOLK, VA., Nov. 9.—Helen Hope, who, last night, was married to Randolph C. Johnson, at Perquimans, N. C., was found dead in her bridal chamber this morning, with a pistol in her hand and a bullet wound in her head. Johnson was lying across the bed dead, with three bullets in his head and body.

Edward VII. Celebrates Birthday.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—King Edward celebrated his 64th birthday today at Sandringham. Congratulatory telegrams poured in from all parts of the world. The usual salutes were fired and there were the customary celebrations in Great Britain and in the colonies.

THROW BALLOT BOXES IN RIVER

Attorney General Mayer Has Plain Evidence of Crooked Work in New York.

M'CLELLAN ENGAGES PARKER

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Attorney General Mayer stated tonight that he had received information of the recovery from the North river of certain ballot boxes used in the election of Tuesday last. He said the matter was under investigation.

The contest over the mayoralty election, inaugurated by William Randolph Hearst, the Municipal Ownership candidate, developed into other spectacular features today. For two hours the boxes containing nearly 600,000 ballots cast in last Tuesday's election chocked the streets in the vicinity of the headquarters of the board of elections.

The ballot boxes had been gathered during the night by the police and conveyed in patrol wagons to the election board's headquarters. There the officials refused to receive the ballot boxes, and the police, acting under a court order signed by Justice Gaynor, compelling the police authorities to turn the ballots over to the election board, had nothing to do but remain outside and await the pleasure of the election officials.

Apprised of the situation, the attorneys for Mr. Hearst appeared before Justice Dickey of the state supreme court, and secured from him an order compelling John R. Voorhis, president of the board of elections, to accept the ballots. The order was served promptly and the ballots then were receipted for by the election board. Under strong guards the patrol wagons containing the boxes were driven to various warehouses in this city and Brooklyn, where the ballots were stored subject to the orders of the election board.

Another feature of the contest today was the announcement by the Citizens union that it would join the forces investigating the charges of fraud and wrong-doing at Tuesday's election.

Attorney General Mayer said tonight:

"District Attorney Jerome has placed at my disposal the machinery of his office and will co-operate with me in every way as I will with him in the prosecution of offences against the elective franchise."

Mayor McClellan today engaged counsel, among them being Alton B. Parker. Mayor McClellan tonight made the following statement:

"The election returns show my election by a plurality of 4,189 votes. These returns are the results of precedure prescribed by the law, and they are expressly declared by law to be presumptively correct. I believe they are correct. Therefore, I will take all legitimate means to protect my rights, as well as those of the voters."

EDNA WALLACE HOPPER IS LOSING HER SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The supreme court today refused a new trial of the issue involved when the court reversed Judge Coffey's annulment of the probate proceedings held here in the estate of the late Alexander Dunsmuir. Judge Coffey's decision was hailed as breaking the will so that Edna Wallace Hopper would inherit half of the millionaire's estate.

KING LEOPOLD ATTACKED BY A SOCIALIST DEPUTY

BRUSSELS, Nov. 9.—Today's session of the chamber of deputies was marked by a violent attack made by M. Bertrand, Socialist, on King Leopold, whom he accused of violating the constitution and of seeking to force parliament to undertake the extensive project of fortifying Antwerp. The president of the house rebuked M. Bertrand amid scenes of disorder.

NEW YORK LIFE GETS INJUNCTION

Court Issues Order Restraining Vandiver from Enforcing His Suspension of Company.

OFFICES AT WORK AS USUAL

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 9.—The New York Life Insurance Company this afternoon applied for an injunction to restrain State Insurance Superintendent Vandiver from enforcing his order prohibiting the company from carrying on further business in Missouri.

The application was favorably passed upon by Judge Adams, who issued a restraining order directing Supt. Vandiver to appear before the federal court in Jefferson City, November 20, to show cause why he should not be prevented from enforcing his order, and ordering that, pending the hearing, the superintendent's order be not enforced.

Notwithstanding State Superintendent Vandiver's order, it was stated at the St. Louis offices of the New York Life today that no attention was being paid to the order.

Supt. Vandiver said today: "My order refers to the writing of new business, simply this and nothing more. It may be added also that as the order is for suspension and not absolute revocation, the company may yet comply with the requirements at any time it chooses to do so and, of course, in that event the order would be vacated."

MR. CARNEGIE RETURNS IN GOOD HEALTH AND SPIRITS

Has Had Great Summer on the Golf Links and Feels Fine as Result of It.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Looking hale and hearty after a summer at Skibo castle, Scotland, Andrew Carnegie and Mrs. Carnegie arrived in port early tonight on the steamer Baltic from Queenstown and Liverpool. Mr. Carnegie seemed delighted at being once more in New York and of the friends who welcomed him he asked a hundred questions about mutual friends and interests.

"I have had a splendid summer abroad," said Mr. Carnegie, "and never was there such glorious golfing as I have had at Skibo. I will sorely miss the links now I am home again. Coming over I played shuffleboard on deck a great deal so as to make up for my lost exercise and we had a number of very good games."

He seemed much interested in news relating to the mayoralty election in New York, asked about the program for Prince Louis' visit and listened gravely to the story of the insurance investigation. He entered his automobile and, with Mrs. Carnegie, sped quickly to his New York home.

JOY ENDS HER LIFE.

Woman Who Was Ardent Admirer of Pattison Dies When She Hears of His Success.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Joy at the outcome of the election was the cause of the sudden death yesterday of Mrs. Elizabeth McPeake, aged 65. She took a great interest in politics and followed the campaign of John M. Pattison for the governorship with particularly ardent sympathy and was overjoyed yesterday morning, when the indications pointed to his election.

After breakfast she started from her home, 452 Riddle road, for her usual morning walk. At the corner of Clifton and Dixmith avenues she fell. She was removed to the German Deaconess hospital, but on arrival it was found that life was extinct. Her identity was for some time in doubt until her daughter, Mrs. Lillian West, with whom she lived, called and identified her at the hospital.

FRAUD IN THE SECOND WARD

"If you will drop all informations against our election cheaters, we will withdraw the informations we have made against some workers. Supt. Wallace sent me here to tell you this."

This was the bold message delivered to Assistant District Attorney Robb by Chief Ordinance Officer Livingston yesterday afternoon. Mr. Robb promptly replied:

"Tell Wallace we will prosecute all violators of the election laws, regardless of their party affiliations, against whom informations are made. Not only that, but we are going to make more informations. We have evidence against half a dozen men for fraudulent voting, and we will arrest them as soon as they can be found. Tell Wallace we will not withdraw any informations."

On Wednesday District Attorney Stewart instructed his force to secure evidence against every man suspected of fraudulent voting. Wallace heard of this order and commissioned Livingston to effect a compromise. Wallace's overtures were indignantly spurned at the district attorney's office.

Go After Leaders, Too.

"Wallace must think the district attorney's office is managed on the same lines as his police bureau," said County Detective Robinson. "We are not only going to prosecute the repeaters and cheaters, but we will prosecute the men who hired them."

Testimony that will create a sensation was developed yesterday by the arrest of W. C. Gainor, an employe of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, who was taken into custody by the county detectives on a charge of illegal voting in the Second ward. Gainor made a statement to District Attorney Stewart, with the result that several arrests will be made. The warrant for Gainor was sworn out before Alderman Toole. Gainor was vouched for as a legal voter by Rudolph Benjamin, who was arrested. Gainor lives in Connellsville. In his statement Gainor implicated a prominent city administration politician and named four repeaters, who, he says, were voted under several names.

Too Many Names in Books.

It is well known that the registry books of the ward showed twice as many residents as actually live there, and the Republicans suspected that repeaters would be employed to vote under names on the registry book. Gainor says that when one of the false names was called out one of the repeaters would step forward, a tax receipt would be handed him, he would get a ballot and would deposit it in the box. The prominent politician aforesaid stood by and saw the game being worked, Gainor says. In fact, it is alleged that he had prepared the plans.

There was considerable evidence yesterday to show the brutal election methods adopted by the Citizens and the protection accorded to them by the police. Some of it was brought out at the hearing of Robert Gray, charged with assault and battery in having beaten William Rowe, a Republican watcher in the First precinct of the Second ward, the ward in which so many frauds were committed. Rowe said:

Put Out of Polling Place.

"The overseer left the polling place and put me in charge, when this man and two others entered and refused to leave the place. I asked a county detective to put them out. Then two city policemen, Edward Frawley and James Baker, insisted that it was their right to put the men out. The county detective stepped aside and the policemen then refused to put the men out, but instead helped shove me into the street and arrested County Detective Robert L. McMillen. Then this defendant struck me three times."

County Detective McMillen said he and Policemen Frawley and Baker tried to quiet Gray and that he saw Gray hit Rowe. It was on this occasion that Frawley arrested McMillen, because, he said, McMillen interfered with his business. Gray was held in $500 bail for court. John A. Staley went on his bond.

Alderman Toole also held W. R. McKee in $1,000 bail for court on a charge of fraudulent voting, the information saying that he gave his address as 526 Second avenue, which is said not to be his residence. He waived a hearing and Alderman J. V. McMasters furnished his bail.

Accused Waive Hearings.

Rudolph Benjamin, who is charged with corrupt swearing by vouching for an illegal voter, also waived a hearing before Alderman Toole and was held in $1,000 bail for court, Alderman McMasters also going on this bond.

Police Lieutenant Charles Urbaes, Policeman L. Snyder and John Fox waived a hearing before Alderman John A. Martin on the charge of intimidating voters, and gave bail for court. Charles Wiseman, in two cases accused of aiding and abetting illegal voting, gave bail in $1,000 in each case, waiving a hearing.

Fireman Joseph Haley and Police Captain Cullen, charged with aggravated assault and battery by A. B. Abromovitz, did not appear. The hearing was set for between 9 and 10 a. m. Alderman

Martin was about to forfeit their bail bonds when, at 11 a. m., the defendants appeared. They said they understood the hearing was to be held between 10 and 11 a. m. The hearing was then continued until today. Abromovitz accused Haley and Cullen of assaulting a Republican watcher at the polling place of the Fourth district of the Seventh ward, and on Wednesday night, he also charges, Haley assaulted him on the street, for which alleged offense he brought suit.

Charge Against Murrin.

Police Magistrate Kirby heard the charge of interfering with an officer, brought by Special Policeman Frank Curran against County Detective Murrin. John Hughes, a witness for Curran, testified that Murrin was not to blame and that the arrest was not justified. Hughes said he himself pointed out a man named Michael Lawson as one who was trying to vote illegally and Curran arrested the man. Murrin tried to find out what Lawson had done and Curran, becoming excited fired a shot from his revolver. Curran admitted he had fired a shot, "to disperse the crowd," but maintained gravely that he had no intention of hitting anyone. He complained that County Detective McMillen and several deputy sheriffs rushed toward him in a threatening manner, when he arrested Lawson. Lawson got away. John McGarvey, the Democratic watcher, who assisted Lawson to vote, and who says Lawson is a legal voter, testified that Curran and Murrin both caught hold of Lawson to arrest him, and Curran erroneously thought Murrin was interfering with him. The magistrate postponed his decision.

Two Charges Against Jaffey.

John Prymes, a negro, was sent to jail by Alderman Martin on the charge of aiding and abetting illegal voting.

George Jaffey was held for court on the charge of aiding and abetting illegal voting, and before night two more charges had been brought against him. George H. Roman swore that he aided and abetted Henry Golden in illegal voting.

Jaffey is also charged by Aaron L. Abromovitz with assault and battery. Abromovitz's picture was in The Gazette yesterday, showing his face in the condition in which it was left, he says, after Fireman Joseph Haley beat him. Yesterday Abromovitz, with his head bound up, stooped and limping from the effects of the alleged beating, was walking up Fifth avenue near Federal street. Suddenly, he swore before Alderman Martin, Jaffey approached him and without parley proceeded to give him almost as good a beating as Haley had administered. Abromovitz will walk up Fifth avenue at the same hour today and he expects to do it tomorrow, too, if his physical constitution holds out under the repeated attacks.

Edlis Hears of Information.

Thomas Oppenheim was charged with assault and battery upon Jacob Bernstein, a Lincoln party watcher in the Second district of the Seventh ward, Oppenheim being also sued by H. Sappersteen, who says he was out of the polling place after the polls were closed. The suits were brought before Alderman Martin.

Ex-Alderman B. C. Barton, Ex-Representative Adolph Edlis and George H. Roman, a Republican watcher at the polls, heard last night that they had been sued before Alderman Louis Alpern by George Jaffey on charges of perjury and other offenses. Without waiting to be arrested, they went to an alderman and had a ball bond signed. The three men believe the suits were brought against them out of revenge because they were active in preventing and are prosecuting frauds at the polls.

GEN. SWEENEY TO TALK.

Former Minister to Turkey to Address a Revival Meeting at Noon.

Gen. Z. T. Sweeney, who was minister to Constantinople during President Harrison's first administration, will speak at today's noon meeting at the old Third Presbyterian church in Sixth avenue, under the auspices of the simultaneous revival committee of the Christian church.

Gen. Sweeney is pastor of the Christian church at Columbus, Ind., one of the largest of that denomination in the United States. He is also a member of the Indiana state fisheries commission, being one of the best fish experts in the country. He is well known by all members of the Christian church and recently addressed the County Teachers institute.

A party of nearly 700 persons, including many pastors and evangelists, will go to Bethany tomorrow, leaving the Union station at 7:50 a. m., to visit the home of Alexander Campbell, founder of the Christian church. The visitors will be entertained by the faculty and students of Bethany college.

GOTHAM GREETS ROYAL VISITOR

Hudson River Presents a Most Impressive Scene in Anglo-American History.

LOUIS REMEMBERS THE CITY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Nov. 9.

Right royal was the welcome to Prince Louis of Battenberg when his six British warships, with his rear admiral's pennant flying from the flagship, the Drake, steamed majestically up the Hudson river for a week's visit to the metropolis.

Twelve of the mightiest fighting machines of the American navy, all arrayed in holiday dress, roared a thunderous salute as the visiting fleet moved up the stream; the guns of Governors island added their iron voices to the chorus, the whistles of every craft in the river shrilled an accompaniment, and thousands of persons banked along the shores on either side, added to the din.

This was early in the morning. Until nightfall and long after the reception continued in other and more tangible forms. Visits were exchanged between the prince and the civic, naval and military authorities stationed in this vicinity; marks of courtesy poured in on the distinguished visitor from all quarters, and in the evening there was a notable gathering in the Waldorf-Astoria, where the St. George's society of New York entertained the prince at dinner.

Hardly had his flagship, the Drake, dropped anchor off Seventy-seventh street when the prince displayed a spirit of democracy by insisting he was here in the capacity of a sailor, and not otherwise.

Got What He Came For.

"I came to America 33 years ago, when I was a boy," he said. "I was a midshipman then and got a chance to visit New York while my ship was at Annapolis. I came here entirely for amusement, and, I assure you, I got it. I now wish to impress upon you, first of all, that I am here as admiral in command of this squadron and that my name and my personality are of secondary importance. I am more proud of the uniform I wear and the flag I serve than anything else."

Sir Percy Sanderson, British consul, made a brief formal call early in the day and a few minutes later the prince received the representatives of the press. After announcing that he wished to be regarded here merely in his capacity as a naval officer, he said:

"During the three days I was in Washington I had an interview each day with the president, and that is an honor that I prize most highly. It is impossible for me to express an opinion of Mr. Roosevelt, because he is too great a man for comparison. It was with the greatest satisfaction I made his acquaintance. He is such a many-sided man that to talk with him is illuminating and instructive. He possesses the same magnetic charm as our own king."

Admiral Prince Louis' cruiser squadron was sighted off Sandy Hook at 6:45 o'clock this morning, having made the run from Annapolis in about 24 hours. As the squadron passed Governor's island the flagship thundered forth a national salute of 21 guns, which the shore battery that guards the headquarters of the army of the east, answered in kind.

Accompanied by the American officers, the consul general, the captain and naval attache of the British attache at Washington, Prince Louis, visited the navy yard. The call was soon over and the prince then returned to Manhattan and paid his respects to Mayor McClellan at the City hall.

Generals Wade and Grant were the first official callers in the afternoon. They were followed by Rear Admirals Coghlan, Sigsbee and Nelson H. Henry, adjutant general of the state militia, and General A. B. Fry called to present the regards of Governor Higgins to the prince. About 4 o'clock the mayor, accompanied by Police Commissioner McAdoo arrived. Their call was brief.

It was late in the afternoon before the last of the visitors departed, the ship was cleared and the prince and his officers got ready for the evening's banquet. As night fell the lines of the ship faded from sight, but about 7 o'clock the watchers on the river banks saw the six British cruisers and the eight battleships of the American first squadron suddenly flash into view, their outlines marked by strings of electric lights. Thus illuminated they looked like ships in fairy land. Over the four stacks of the flagship Drake was a crown of brilliant red lights and beneath in gold lights the royal letters "E. R."

Facing the English ship lay the eight battleships, deck-line and superstructure outlined in electric lights, each with its name spelled in electric lights across the forward turret. "Maine," "Missouri," "Kentucky," "Kearsarge," "Alabama," "Illinois," "Iowa," "Massachusetts," the magic letters spelled. The unique feature of the illumination of the American warships was the use of the powerful searchlights which on each ship were trained on the flags that flew from foremast and mains.

Crowds watched the beautiful picture and cheered Admiral Prince Louis as his barge came alongside the boat landing and the prince, accompanied by the officers of his staff, clambered over the numerous obstructions and entered a waiting carriage which took him to the Waldorf-Astoria, where he was the guest of the annual dinner of the Association of British societies. The health of the President and the king was drunk amid great enthusiasm.

PRIZE FIGHTS MAY STOP AT THE NAVAL ACADEMY

President Roosevelt and Secretary Bonaparte Will Investigate Death of Branch.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ANNAPOLIS, MD., Nov. 9.—Full reports in the fight between Midshipmen Branch and Meriweather, which resulted in the former's death, have been forwarded to the navy department. A special board, of which Commander George P. Colvocoresses was president, investigated the matter before the death of Branch and an inquest was held according to regulations, Commander Thomas H. Howard being president.

The report was transmitted to the navy department today, together with exhaustive reports of the medical officers. The matter will now await the action of the naval authorities.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—James R. Branch of New York, father of Midshipman Branch, accompanied by his sister, called on President Roosevelt today. The President, who has known Mr. Branch for a long time, condoled with him over the unfortunate death of his son. Mr. Branch and his sister then called on Secretary Bonaparte at the navy department. The secretary expressed his deep sympathy at their loss.

HORRIBLE ATROCITIES ON AMERICAN WOMEN

Missionary Who Escaped Chinese Massacre Gives Details of Revolting Scenes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

HONGKONG, Nov. 9.—Dr. Machle, the American missionary who escaped the massacre at Lienchow, confirming the previous accounts of the outbreak, adds horrifying details of the atrocities committed on the American women. When the disturbances commenced the mob seized Miss Chestnut and Mrs. Machle and exposed them to public view in the Chinese temple. Amy Machle, the doctor's 10-year-old child, was carried off and flung alive into the river.

The rioters stripped Miss Chestnut and flung her into the river. While the two were struggling in the water three Chinamen speared them with tridents. Miss Chestnut's body and Amy Machle's head were pierced.

Mrs. Machle appealed to the rioters, but the mob stoned her brains out, stripped the body and flung it into the river. The mob then captured Mr. and Mrs. Peale, stripped them, exposed them for 15 minutes, clubbed Mr. Peale to death in his wife's presence and subsequently killed Mrs. Peale in the same brutal fashion.

SAVES GIRL FROM SUICIDE.

Park Policeman Catches Young Colored Woman Who Was About to Jump from Bridge.

Only by the quick action of Park Policeman John Zizterer was Minnie Johnston, a 17-year-old negress, prevented from throwing herself over the railing of the Haight's Run bridge yesterday afternoon. She was arrested as a vagrant and at the police station told the story of her difficulties.

The girl claimed that until a year ago her family had lived in Pittsburgh. They moved to Washington and she went along. She secured, on Tuesday, from the District of Columbia authorities, transportation to Pittsburgh, claiming that she could find work here. She did not get the work and all Wednesday night she walked the street. Most of yesterday she spent in Highland park, and her queer actions there caught the attention of the policeman, who followed her when she left. She will probably be sent back to Washington today by the department of charities.

BURNS TO DEATH IN JAIL.

Prisoner Cremates Himself in His Cell and Drive Fellow Inmates Nearly Crazy from Fright.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 9.—Michael McDermott, who was serving a sentence for drunkenness, burned himself to death tonight in a padded cell of the county jail, smoke from the fire and the odor of the burning flesh creating a panic among the hundred prisoners in the jail, which required the best efforts of the keepers to subdue. Men and women made frantic efforts to tear away the iron bars of their cell doors, and were in such a condition after quiet had been restored that medical attention was necessary. McDermott's clothing was burning fiercely when the guards arrived. At sight of the keepers the prisoner burst into cries of rage and fought their efforts to save him until he succumbed.

CUMMINS AND M'CLEARY DISCUSS THE TARIFF

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—At the dinner of the Economic club here tonight Governor A. B. Cummins, of Iowa and Henry M. Whitney, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor of Massachusetts, in the recent election, made addresses in favor of a revision of the tariff. The present tariff laws were upheld by Congressman James T. McCleary, of Minnesota, and Colonel Albert Clark of this city, secretary of the Home Market club.

Miss Roosevelt Will Attend Prince's Ball.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Miss Alice Roosevelt is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, and her cousin, Miss Corinne Robinson, at 422 Madison avenue, and will attend, with Mrs. Robinson's party the ball to be given by Prince Louis on board the flagship Drake. She will also be a member of Mrs. Ogden Mills' house party at Staatsburg in honor of the prince.

SPECIAL COURSE FOR TECH PUPILS

New High School Is to Be Closely Affiliated With the Carnegie Institution.

OAKLAND DOES THE HONORS

The public educational system of Pittsburgh has been pledged to co-operate with the Carnegie Technical schools. When the new High school is opened a short course will be devised which will prepare students to enter immediately upon the work of applied sciences. This pledge was made by D. L. Gillespie, chairman of the central board of education, at the banquet of the Oakland board of trade, held in the Hotel Schenley last night, in honor of the opening of the new institution in Schenley park.

Mr. Gillespie's promise gave the keynote of the spirit of the meeting. It showed that Pittsburghers in general were in hearty accord with Andrew Carnegie's latest gift to the city and that all the people stood ready to assist students who have the ambition to avail themselves of the school's advantages. The speakers did not spend much time lauding book learning. Pittsburgh was declared to be the natural place in all the world for a school of technology and here, it was argued, the future captains of industry would be trained.

Dr. Holland on the Ocean.

Covers were laid for 300 guests. Dr. W. J. Holland had been selected as toastmaster, but as he has not returned from his recent European trip, Congressman James Francis Burke officiated in that capacity, introducing the speakers in with jovial and eloquent little talks. Mr. Burke warmed up his hearers by stating that Oakland was the most important of Pittsburgh's suburbs. It was in Oakland, he said, that Andrew Carnegie, Henry Phipps and Mrs. Mary E. Schenley found advantages for their benefactions to the city, and that it was in Oakland that President Roosevelt first announced his policy of a "square deal to all men."

Charles H. Chance, president of the board of trade, presided and introduced the toastmaster. At the speakers' table the honor guests were Director Arthur A. Hamerschlag and the members of the faculty of the technical schools. William McConway, chairman of the technical schools committee, spoke of the progress made in Pittsburgh since the day when he first stepped off a canal boat and set foot on the soil of the city that was to be his home. He said the new institution would offer boundless opportunities to the ambitious to succeed in the world.

Opportunity to Secure Knowledge.

There would always be laggards, he said, but with Mr. Carnegie's institution there would be fewer young men thrown absolutely upon their own resources to secure knowledge. The technical schools, as outlined by Mr. McConway, is an institution where those will be helped most who show the greatest desire to help themselves.

Mr. Gillespie's address dealt with the affiliation of the new school with the public schools. His promise to provide a special course for prospective technical school students was received with hearty applause. Prof. Alexander Wurtz, a member of faculty of the technical schools, described some details of the work, as did also Prof. Samuel Smith Keller and R. H. Holbrook. Dr. Samuel B. McCormick, chancellor of the Western University of Pennsylvania, pleaded for the fostering of all branches of learning in Pittsburgh and praised the technical schools as a gigantic stride toward this end. James W. Wardrop, manager of the Merchants & Manufacturers' association, set everybody in a good humor by his remarks, which were distinguished by not being too academic in character.

In the School of Experience.

Director Hamerschlag said in part:

"The world is full of students; some of them are in school, but most of them are not. The world of human endeavor is the school in which mankind receives the kind of training and teaching which leaves its most indelible imprints, since it is the school of experience. Students are of all kinds—old, young and middle-aged; weak, strong, crippled, dependent and self-reliant. But the fine thing about them all is that they are knit together by a comradeship, since all are bent on the same purpose in life—in seeking an education.

"The Carnegie Technical school with its freedom from the traditional and conventional restrictions of the historical education of the past, its sole purpose to knit the scattered skein of the many-threaded questions of education, into a single, well-developed curriculum whose province is limited by the word technology. Truly catholic in its attitude to the community and to its educational environment, it seeks each student body from the toiler with his hands, from the skilled artisan, from the struggling apprentice, from the gifted youth of intellectual capacity, from matured men of experience and from the cause of every place in the social sphere where the aspiration to acquire the equipment for a struggle with the world is active and in earnest.

"The Carnegie Technical schools offer something which in the course of a lifetime each one seeks. It is known by the name 'opportunity.' Not the opportunity for wealth, nor position, nor dreams, nor study in musty books and prehistoric literature, but the opportunity which is the 'open sesame' to the door of the new era which unfolds before us. We are standing on the threshold of an era to be known as the age of applied science. And those who wish to join the aristocracy which must renew the world, must be equipped with the power to achieve, and the struggle of the ambitious, the strong and of the weak must all tend toward acquiring that constructive thinking capacity which lifts one man over another, and makes him the brains of many hands; the guiding principal of many tongues and a leader amongst men.

Death Follows Election Quarrel.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—John Forshan, an Italian employed at the Booth & Flinn quarries in the Packsaddle, died last night from a stiletto wound in the abdomen alleged to have been inflicted by Nick Jolly at Blairsville Intersection. The men quarreled on election night. Jolly is at large.

NO USE FOR COLORED TROOPS IN MONTGOMERY

Alabama Governor Orders Negro Company Mustered Out—Band Played "Hang Jeff Davis."

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Nov. 9.—Governor Jelks has issued orders to Adjutant General Brandon to muster out the Capitol City Guards of this city, which is the only colored military organization belonging to the national guard. The order reads:

"The organization known as the Capitol City Guards, Company A, colored troops, being an ineffective organization, the same is hereby ordered mustered out for the good of the service."

There has been considerable criticism against this company since it was alleged that the band marching in front of the company while returning from camp played "Hang Jeff Davies on the Sour Apple Tree." The officers of the company denied this, but there were several statements as to what the band was playing.

FIGHT STUBBORN FIRE.

Presence of Tar, Paint and Benzine in Building Puts Element of Danger in McKeesport Blaze.

A stubborn fire threatened the W. Dewees Wood plant of the American Sheet, Steel and Tin Plate Company, McKeesport, yesterday, but while the loss will be not more than $2,000, the fact that many barrels of benzine were stored in a dipping tank, near which was also a large quantity of tar. There were also several barrels of paint in the building. The fire is said to have been the result of spontaneous combustion near the benzine tank. In order to get water into the building it was necessary to cut holes through the wood and iron at different places and the smoke was so dense at times that it was impossible to get close to the building. The fire raged for about two hours but an explosion of the combustible material was prevented.

A dwelling occupied by Mrs. Emma Riddle, 139 South Twentieth street, was slightly damaged. The gas had just been turned into the house and turned on to dry out a new front. The woodwork became overheated.

Fire in a three-story tenement at 2813 Edwards alley, created considerable excitement but did no damage.

Tar boiled over at the home of William Bishop, Pacific and Columbus avenues, igniting the woodwork and causing about $10 damage. A small blaze at G. L. Young's plumbing shop, 6 Chatham street, caused a loss of $50.

REGRETS PUBLICATION.

Newspaper Announcement That Hunter Shot a Deer Results in Numerous Arrests.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 9.—When Secretary Kalbfus, of the state game commission, read in a Philadelphia newspaper this morning that Charles Jorgenson had shot a deer in Welsh mountains, Chester county, he dispatched a game warden to Coatesville with a warrant for Jorgenson's arrest.

Secretary Kalbfus was notified tonight that the warden had arrested four persons who had been recipients of the venison. They will be held pending the arrest of Jorgenson, who could not be found. The game laws prohibit the shooting of deer until after November 15.

PACKAGE WORTH $100,000 LOST IN PHILADELPHIA

It Disappears from the Satchel of a Special Delivery Boy to Whom It Had Been Entrusted.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—Foreign certificates to the value of $100,000, consigned to the Tradesmens National bank of this city by special delivery from C. Schumacher & Co., 25 Broad street, New York, have been lost by a special delivery boy in the employ of the local postoffice. The package disappeared about 9:15 o'clock last night and no trace of it has been discovered.

George Doherty, the messenger to whom the package was entrusted, has been suspended pending an investigation. The messenger discovered his loss after delivering two other letters on his route. One of the letters was addressed to a local hotel, and the boy says the bank's package was in his bag when he left the latter place, and on reaching the next address, two blocks distant, the packet was missing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—It was stated at the office of C. Schumacher & Co. that the securities lost in Philadelphia were not stock but duplicates of commercial bills, the originals of which had been forwarded to the point of landing in Europe. The duplicates were sent to Philadelphia for the signatures of the purchaser in that city. They have letters of hypothecation attached to them but cannot be negotiated without identification, which would make them more difficult to sell than stocks or bonds.

THOU SHALT NOT STEAL.

Under This Device, Says Grover Cleveland, Patriotic Citizens Should Do Battle Today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Grover Cleveland, who was to have spoken at the Princeton alumni dinner in East Orange, N. J., tonight, was unable to attend and sent a letter in which he said:

"No one who has the welfare of the country at heart need search for the field of patriotic duty. It is all about us and from every side those who are not wilfully deaf cannot fail to hear the call to conscientious activity in the cause of our people's safety and integrity. They should do battle under the banner bearing the device, 'thou shalt not steal.'"

Fatal Fall from Hotel Window.

Joseph Delegio, aged 35, an Italian of Monongahela City, fell from the third story window of the Roma hotel at Penn avenue and Slocum alley at 11:50 o'clock last night and was instantly killed. He had been in the room on the third floor for 20 minutes when a crash was heard in the rear of the hotel. An investigation showed he had fallen out of the window and had struck on his head, which was crushed.

SHARPLY SCORE CENTRAL BOARD

Sub-District School Directors Indulge in Some Scorching Personal Criticism.

OWING TO WAGE COMMISSION

At a meeting of the members of the sub-district school boards called to meet in the basement of the Forbes school building last night to "take up the recent decisions of the teachers' salaries commission," personal criticism was vented upon Superintendent Samuel Andrews of the city schools, the central board of education and the salaries commission.

The basis of criticism was due to the fact that 42 per cent of the teachers who took the recent examinations for an advance into Class B, which nets an increase in salary, had failed in their examinations according to the returns of the committee, and that the committee had failed to make known where the applicants had erred.

Andrew G. Smith of Mt. Washington was chairman and W. J. Fleming of the Sterret district secretary of the meeting. It was announced that the Highland board had refused to take any part in the meeting. Evan Jones of the Forbes school in the opening address declared that the words "public" and "free" should be taken off of every building while the "commission assumes rights that the czar of Russia would not claim." Secretary Fleming declared that the decision of the commission "smacks of discrimination."

Creates a Sensation.

He created a further sensation by the statement that teachers who had failed in the examinations and only such, had received circulars informing them that by attending a series of lectures in the Pittsburgh Academy at a cost of $10, they would be told some interesting things showing why they failed in their examinations. Dr. R. C. Clark, representing the Lawrenceville schools, cautioned those present to be temperate, and suggested that information be sought from central board representatives.

J. D. Sweeny, who represented the Peebles district, and who is a member of the Central board, assured those present that in the next examination inquiries would be made in the schools where applicants taught, regarding their fitness. He intimated that in many cases the teachers were at fault for failing, and cited the fact that many had answered to the question as to what school journals they read by naming several popular magazines of fiction.

C. W. Hawkins of the Sterret district, declared that Superintendent Andrews had not visited the schools of his ward in three years. Dr. J. W. Neely of the Thad Stevens district, declared the appointment of the salary commission to be wholly illegal, and claimed that it was composed chiefly of high school teachers who were only "worn out professors." William G. Thomas thought the teachers had made a mistake by agreeing to the commission and then complaining after they had failed. He thought, however, that they should be told where they failed and urged higher salaries.

Tart Criticism of Superintendent.

Dr. J. E. Gould of the St. Clair district, followed up some very personal attacks upon Mr. Andrews by declaring that he had not been in the Twenty-seventh ward for four years, "and the teachers in music and drawing do not know where the Twenty-seventh ward is." He then drew some sharp criticism because of the fact, as he declared, that High school pupils were examined by number and that the teachers were compelled to sign their names to their examination papers. Evan Jones ridiculed some of the questions asked by the commission by citing one which asked a teacher in his school where she spent her vacation and why, and to which she answered: "In Atlantic City looking for a man."

After personalities had been indulged in at some length, Abraham Oliver of the Twenty-sixth ward arose, and in dramatic style declared: "Let us meet as gentlemen, not to indulge in abusive personalities. Names have been mentioned here with gross ridicule and I want to say that some of these gentlemen have feelings that we should respect. I appeal to you to act with decency."

Chairman Smith, in conclusion, suggested that the Central board be appealed to as to the legality of their establishing the salary commission, and, if this failed, suggested that the matter be taken into the court. If the courts upheld the Central board he further suggested that the sub-district directors appear before the legislature for relief. A motion prevailed to have the chair appoint an executive committee of five to fix time and place of next meeting and to formulate a plan of action. Adjournment took place without the committee being announced.

TWO EXPECT TO SECURE LARGE FORTUNES AS HEIRS

Advertisement in the newspapers has brought to the notice of Mrs. Amelia Clymer of 6329 Shakespeare street, East End, the fact that she is heiress to a fortune at Stuttgart, Germany. The American consul at Stuttgart was asked to locate her. He wrote to Bellefonte, Pa., where she formerly lived. The Bellefonte postmaster forwarded the letter to Postmaster George Fox of Altoona, who advertised.

Emory Tifkofczi of McKeesport has returned from Hungary with papers which he claims prove him to be one of 17 heirs to a Chicago estate worth several million dollars.

DELIRIUM TREMENS VICTIM GETS A POMPOUS FUNERAL

Michael Succo, known as "Prince," who died of delirium tremens in the county jail last Sunday, was buried yesterday by his friends with great pomp. Services were conducted in the Greek church, Braddock, and the remains were buried in the Greek cemetery. A fund of $170 was raised to defray the funeral expenses and to erect a small headstone.

BOYS ARE CHARGED WITH STEALING RINGS AND MONEY

Charles Roberts of 111 Dinwiddie street, and William Neil of 115 Dinwiddie street, 12-year-old boys, were arrested yesterday afternoon. They are alleged to have stolen five gold rings valued at $75 and a $5 gold piece, from the residence of Israel Sider, 5 Dinwiddie street, on Wednesday. The rings were recovered but the boys had spent the money.

Loot Cash Drawer of $50.

Lewis Schappacasse, a fruit dealer of Braddock avenue, Braddock, reported to the police yesterday that three men had broken open his cash drawer and stolen about $50 while the family was at breakfast. A boy was attending to the store. Two of the men kept the boy engaged outside while the third secured the money.

Committees Have No Quorum.

The councilmanic committee on public works failed of a quorum yesterday and the scheduled meeting was not held. Several ordinances for grading, paving, opening and sewering streets are before the committee. The committee on surveys had no quorum. Two ordinances for the repeal of the Hamilton widening are before it.

Children Searching for Father.

Roger Sweeney, a blacksmith, disappeared from his home, 4429 Sherman street, Lawrenceville, several weeks ago and his family is looking for him. Two of Sweeney's children called at the morgue yesterday. Sweeney is aged 51 and the small finger of his right hand is missing.

Rankin Councilman Resigns.

Joseph M. Hollander, a Braddock druggist, resigned from Rankin borough council yesterday because he is moving from that borough to Braddock. He was elected last February on the Republican ticket, and has served only eight months of a three-year term.

Carnegie Superintendent Resigns.

W. H. Gibson, for years superintendent of construction at the Homestead steel works, has tendered his resignation. Peter Isle has been named to succeed him.

BANK DEPOSITORS ENGAGE COUNSEL

John Marron and S. S. Mehard Will Ascertain if Conditions Justify Legal Action.

FUND OF $500 IS RAISED

Several hundred depositors of the Enterprise National bank gathered in the Sixth ward public school, Allegheny, last night to take action toward protecting their interests and to devise means to recover as much as possible of their savings.

The Rev. D. A. Greene, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, presided. He said Receiver Cunningham had been asked what treatment would be accorded attorneys representing the depositors, and had replied that they would be given every facility. Mr. Greene said Attorneys Mehard and Marron could get all the information they wanted from Mr. Cunningham. If the attorneys found evidence that would warrant civil or criminal suits, they would be in a position to go ahead.

This led up to the proposition that the depositors present pledge the $500 needed as a retaining fee for Attorneys Mehard and Marron. Clerks went through the audience with subscription books, and those who were not prepared to pay at once pledged themselves to contribute their share. It is understood the required sum was subscribed.

John Sullivan wanted to know if the comptroller of the currency and the directors of the bank were not responsible for the money lost by those having funds in the bank. Sullivan's theory was that since the federal examiner went through the books of the bank last August and reported it in good condition, the federal government should be held responsible for all losses sustained. Mr. Greene had been advised on this point and informed Mr. Sullivan that the depositors had no redress from the government.

James P. Wall said there would be a great deal of litigation before the bank's affairs were adjusted, but remarked:

"I think every depositor will get considerably more than 10 cents on the dollar, as was reported at our last meeting."

Mr. Greene said he had "inside information" that would lead to the belief that not more than 25 cents on the dollar would be paid. The meeting was adjourned to convene again at the call of the chair.

Treasurer George B. Bothwell, whose office is in Franklin street, near Beaver avenue, will receive any additional contributions to the legal fund.

Attorneys Thomas B. Trimble and W. B. Rodgers, in behalf of the directors of the Enterprise bank, will likely file suit today to have opened the judgments entered by State Treasurer Mathues against the directors for $1,632,000 of state funds on deposit in the bank. Attorney Thomas M. Marshall is counsel for Mathues and has announced his intention of taking exceptions to the action of the director's attorneys.

Receiver John B. Cunningham announced yesterday he had located some of the collateral put up at the Enterprise bank as security for loans.

PURCHASES A FEW TOBIES; GETS A BIG ROLL OF BILLS

A thief got a $150 roll of bank notes yesterday at the store of Mrs. Andrew Kohary, 1046 Walnut street, McKeesport. The man went into the store and bought five cents' worth of tobies. He tendered a $5 bill and received the change from a pocketbook containing the roll, that was kept on a shelf behind some boxes. Mrs. Kohary went to the rear of the store for a few moments, when she again had occasion to look for the purse. It was not there.

PRICE AND KENNEDY ARE TO REPRESENT THE STATE

County Commissioner Charles B. Price and ex-Mayor William M. Kennedy have received from Gov. S. W. Pennypacker commissions naming them as representatives of the state in the national conference upon immigration to be held in New York on December 6 and 7 of this year. The meeting will be held in Madison Square garden under the auspices of the National Civic federation.

Pleasing Program at Organ Recital.

At the six hundred and eighty-second free organ recital at Carnegie Music hall, Allegheny, last evening, Caspar P. Koch, the city organist, was assisted by Mr. Edward P. Riehl, baritone; Miss Myrtle D. Bierer, violinist, and Leo Oehmler, pianist. The organ program included Guilmant's "Marche Religieuse," Gounod's "Funeral March of a Marionet," Schumann's "Traeumerei," Bach's Fugue "Short G Minor" and a fantasia on Gounod's "Faust" by Eddy. Mr. Riehl sang "Dreams," by Bartlett and the "Toreador's Song," by Cuchois, in excellent voice. The adagio from Concerto No. 2 by Ries, was given by Miss Bierer on the violin.

Arthurs Give Bail for Hearing.

A. E. Arthurs of 5709 Wellesley avenue, East End, has given $1,000 bail for a hearing on a charge of aggravated assault and battery preferred by Police Inspector Bailey. Tuesday night Arthurs is alleged to have run down with his automobile Elizabeth Dugan of Masontown, Pa., in Highland avenue, fracturing her left thigh. She is at the Pittsburgh hospital.

McKeesport's New Bank Building.

The new building of the Union National bank of McKeesport in Fifth avenue will be occupied for the first time tomorrow morning. The regular banking hours will be observed and a public reception has been arranged from noon until 10 p. m. The officers of the bank are A. B. Campbell, president; Philip Zenn, vice president, and Robert M. Baldridge, cashier.

Asks for a 20-Year Franchise.

Hays council held a meeting yesterday at which the South Pittsburgh Water Company presented an ordinance asking for a 20-year franchise through the streets, agreeing to make a reasonable arrangement for fire plugs in return. The ordinance was referred to the ordinance committee and the views of citizens will be obtained.

Creates a Good Position.

The High school committee last night recommended that the central board create the position of engineer and night watchman at the Central High school in Fulton street at a salary of $715 a year. William Berry of the Eighth ward, was elected to the position, subject to the approval of the board.

Mrs. Phillips Is Recovering.

Mrs. Zella Phillips, who was shot in the head by her husband, John L. Phillips, who later killed himself in Allegheny avenue, near Western avenue, on October 30, is recovering from her wound at the Allegheny General hospital. The bullet is still in the woman's head.

FREDERICK IS BACK ON THE POLICE FORCE

Removed on Charge of Grafting, Moore Rewards Him for Election Day Services.

Former Police Captain J. N. Frederick, who resigned last June, after being charged with grafting, was reinstated by Director Harry Moore yesterday. He was assigned as wagonman at the South Thirteenth street station house. His appointment is the reward for his work election day. Frederick lives in Director Moore's ward.

Frederick was charged with sending policemen to various corporations for duty and receiving the money for their services which he was alleged to have withheld for himself. At the same time Frederick is alleged to have reported the officer with being on his regular beat, the policeman receiving his pay from the city.

At the time of the charges Director Moore ordered a special investigation. Superintendent Wallace and Assistant Superintendent Kennelly obtained the most direct evidence against Frederick, and he was permitted to resign rather than let the case come to a hearing.

In speaking of the matter Director Moore said: "I understand the testimony against Frederick was furnished by an officer who was prejudiced, and for that reason I have reinstated him." Superintendent Wallace and Assistant Superintendent Kennelly said there was no doubt that Frederick was guilty at the time the charges were made.

BUYS SITE AT CHESWICK.

Pennsylvania Swedish Iron Company Will Build a $100,000 Plant.

The Pennsylvania Swedish Iron Company, through its representative, A. A. Bell, yesterday bought a 5-acre site at Cheswick from the Allegheny Coal Company for $7,500. The Land Trust Company handled the transaction through its agent, W. B. Rath, and the same company now has a deal pending which will likely result in the locating at Cheswick of a still larger industry within a week.

The site sold yesterday has a long frontage on the Cheswick & Harmarville branch of the West Penn railroad, which connects with the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad, thus giving it two good railroads for shipping purposes. The purchasing company will at once have plans drawn for a steel plant to cost $100,000 which will employ at least 100 men.

EXAMINE A GRAND

Very, very carefully before you buy it. If the frame work of a grand is too thin—(and some of the very small grands have this fault)—you never know when it will break under the tremendous tension it carries.

We have four different styles of miniature grands—made by Mason & Hamlin, A. B. Chase, Vose and Fischer.

While they differ in tone quality, not one of the four carries a structural weakness. You're welcome to examine our whole line of pianos, whether you buy or not.

Prices begin at $585.00. Monthly payments if you wish.

Women's Silk Hose, $1.00 Pair.

OUR regular popular prices for the same grades are $1.50 and $1.75.

We must be fair with you and state there are only 320 pairs. What we will have to contend against is that many women will get here early and buy them in dozen pair lots.

Make no mistake about it, for $1.00 we are going to sell you today a pair of stockings of pure silk, and you can have choice of either black, pink, sky, lavender or white.

Very Fine $2.50 Baby Shirts for 50c Each.

THERE'S a heading that will catch the eyes of mothers and hold them for a while—a fine shirt for one and two-year-old children, the shirts composed of two parts wool and one part cotton, with a silk finish. And they sell for $2.50 all the time.

Well, then why 50c? Only two sizes, madam, that's the reason.

They are Cartwright & Warner's goods, and women know their character. The makers having laid off manufacturing these goods for the time being, owing to the increase in price of raw material, decided to sell what they had on hand at a sacrifice. Remember, only two sizes for children, 1 and 2 years.

Other equally attractive bargains today in the Infants' Department, among them:

New coats for 1, 2 and 3-year-old children, for half prices—some are made of white cashmere, others of white silk, wadded with warm, light weight wool and most of them lined with silk. In the color range are red, navy and brown. The prices given here are about half what the coats are worth, and it will be noticed that the entire lot is composed of very fine garments, $3.50, $3.75, $4.75, $5.00 and by about the same half-dollar steps up to.....$17.00

A special lot of short dresses for children 6 months to 2 years—trimmed with tucks, lace insertion and embroidery, 50c each—long dresses at the same price.

Babies' Dresses at half prices. These are made of dainty nainsook and are trimmed with lace, embroidery and ruffles. Well worth their full price, which is twice what we quote here. Sizes 6 months, 1, 2 and 3 years. The prices are 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75.....$2.50

Special in infants' long hand-made slips. These garments are of fine nainsook with dainty hand-run tucks as a trimming—sleeves and neck finished with narrow ruffle, edged with narrow Val. lace. Our popular low price for these slips is $1.75 each—the special price for today on this particular lot is, each.....$1.50

Ribbons Within a Shade of Half Prices.

And in this sale, beginning today, choice is not from a few bolts of cast-off colors, but from a great variety of the very best sort of ribbons—ribbons that can be used for fancy work, for sashes, for girdles, for the hair, to tie Christmas holly, and for any other purpose for which ribbons are used.

35c Warp Print Ribbons, a yard.....25c
40c Mousseline Ribbons, a yard.....25c

85c Warp Print Ribbon, a yard.....50c
85c Double Satin Ribbon, 7 inches, a yard.....50c
$1.00 Double Satin, 8 inches, a yard.....55c

Today we will have our first showing of new Holly Ribbons for the season of 1905. These are in all widths.

Bows and sashes of any of the ribbons purchased made free of charge.

Our Noted Quartet of Dollar Gloves.

We are free to say that we doubt whether women could run across, anywhere in this country, a group of gloves selling for $1.00 a pair that could stand alongside of this quartet of ours. Each member is famous throughout Pittsburgh as being the best dollar kid glove to be found in the greater city.

$1.00 a pair—women's two-clasp Mocha Gloves, suede finish, black and colors.

$1.00 a pair—women's two-clasp French Suede Gloves, very dressy and the perfection of fit. All colors and black.

$1.00 a pair—women's two-clasp Kid Gloves, glace finish, all shades and colors, including white and black.

Women's two-clasp Cape Gloves, the famous glove for the street, as it is rather mannish—all the preferred street shades.

We also have sizes for boys and girls in the above lines—sizes for the child of one and two years, up to sizes for young men and young women.

$1.95 for a Good Umbrella.

Just arrived in the house late last evening, ready this morning. Another shipment, not a very large one, of those very excellent umbrellas that we have been selling for $1.95. Sizes for both men and women.

All pure silk taffeta, tape edge finish, case and tassel.

This umbrella is so good for the money that the manufacturer has many unfilled orders.

While we got our share, that share is not nearly so large as we could wish.

It's a great Christmas umbrella.

10-Karat Gold Spectacles, $5.00 and $6.00 Values for $3.50.

To all who are suffering from defective eyesight—

And now this day, Friday, November 10th, we give notice that we will sell $5 and $6 10-karat solid gold spectacle frames, fitted with the finest quality of crystal lenses, including a scientific and skillful examination of the eyes, for the extraordinary price of $3.50.

Gold eyeglasses are substantial Christmas gifts—are they not?

This department also carries finest opera glasses, field and marine glasses, automobile goggles, readers and magnifiers. All for lowest prices.

Women's Raincoats—Lay One By for a Rainy Day.

There's choice from the season's four most admired colors, and the choicest shades of each. The best oxford gray, best tan, best castor, best olive. The cloths are of a good weight, the designs up to our usual high standard.

$10.00—raincoats in olive and oxford, some made collarless with pleated, belted back, others with collar and half fitted back.

$12.50—a special lot of raincoats in fancy tan and oxford cravenette, made with plain collar, half fitted back, loose front.

$15.00—raincoats, including several styles in oxford and tan, collarless effect, five box pleats in the back, fancy belt.

$16.50—fine line of raincoats with half fitted belted backs, loose front, choker collar, in either oxford or tan.

$18.00—raincoats which have the empire effect—three narrow stitched straps under the arms from back to front.

Women's Handkerchiefs at a Great Saving.

Baby Covered With Sores and Scales. Could Not Tell What She Looked Like.

MARVELOUS CURE BY CUTICURA

"At four months old my baby's face and body were so covered with sores and large scales you could not tell what she looked like. No child ever had a worse case. Her face was being eaten away, and even her finger nails fell off. It itched so she could not sleep, and for many weary nights we could get no rest. At last we got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The sores began to heal at once, and she could sleep at night, and in one month she had not one sore on her face or body. —Mrs. Mary Sanders, 709 Spring St., Camden, N. J."

Friday, November 10, 1905.

Under pressure of unsatisfied demand the price of pig iron has been advanced again. No better indication could be wanted of the industrial activity of the country. Iron is the barometer of trade. The advance in price may possibly check demand. In certain degree this would not be an evil, for the expansion is already taxing transportation to the utmost.

No election is now impending so the Allegheny graft cases may be called without delay. They can probably be disposed of before the mayoralty nominations are made. Some good has been accomplished in the direction of cleaning up Allegheny, but more is to be done. The North Side city is most directly interested, but the matter is of moment to her neighbors, also.

Chairman Shonts of the Panama canal commission in his speech before the Hardware association threw some valuable side lights on the vast enterprise in his charge. Probably the hardware men can better appreciate than the general public the enormous quantities of supplies needed for canal construction. But even to the ordinary reader the figures are impressive.

When the finance committee decided to recommend payment of bills contracted by Morris Knowles, head of the filtration bureau, but to notify him that in future bids must be had on such work, it gave a Scotch verdict. These bills were not the first held up by Controller Larkin for the same reason. In fact the filtration bureau appears to be a chronic offender in this particular.

Insurance disclosures before the New York committee are commonplace only by comparison with the earlier discoveries. Comparatively unimportant companies are found to be paying enormous salaries to executive officers. They have followed the example of the larger concerns. The conclusion is unavoidable the people have been paying too much for their insurance and thorough protection can be given for less.

President Roosevelt has informed the Oklahoma committee he will recommend the admission of that and the Indian territory as one state, having no sympathy with the separate statehood idea. This probably means a single new state. Arizona and New Mexico are likely to be compelled to wait awhile. In half a century the Indian territory will be the more populous and important half of the state of Oklahoma.

Public interest in the mayoralty election is manifesting itself in a way that augurs well for the health of the body politic. This is the time to discuss men for the position. Opinion will crystallize on the right one at the end of the agitation. On measures the public mind is made up. Compensation for public franchises, elimination of graft and efficient public works and public protection are demanded. A man is wanted for mayor whose name will be a guarantee of fulfillment of these measures.

Simon Wolf's appeal to President Roosevelt in behalf of the Russian Jews will excite anew the sympathies of the chief executive and of the American people, but it can have no result. It would be indelicate for the American government to interfere in the internal affairs of Russia if the Russian government was in control of the situation. But the Russian government itself appears utterly powerless to act if it had the inclination. It is out of the question to send an American military expedition to restore order, so, what can the President do? An appeal in the name of humanity would hardly reach the barbarous mob that has been perpetrating the outrages.

Startling Suggestion.

An astounding exhibition of moral obtuseness was made by the message of the Pittsburgh police superintendent to the district attorney's office. As reported it was in effect: If you will withdraw prosecutions begun against violators of the election laws, we will not press cases against other alleged violators.

Very properly the assistant district attorney replied that office will drop no prosecutions begun and will enter as many more as they can find evidence to sustain. The prosecution of criminals is not partisan work. A proposition to let the offenders on one side go free if those on the other are given immunity is subversive of the very principles of justice. Until recently such a proposition would have been regarded an impossibility in this community. It affords an index to the rapid deterioration of moral tone under the maladministration of the powers in control. "Let our criminals go; we will not hurt yours!" What a standard of justice for men entrusted with enforcement of law.

Chicago's Election.

Chicago went Republican on Tuesday in a most decisive manner. The fact is significant. The result is directly connected with the failure of Mayor Dunne to redeem his pre-election pledges and the awakening of Chicago voters to the illusions of the "immediate municipal ownership" propaganda. Municipal ownership at any time would be dangerous under existing political conditions. The report of the Glasgow expert was suggestive along this line and a little sane observation is convincing that municipal operation of street cars would add enormously to the political spoils and detract from the public service.

These are the considerations, in part, that converted Chicago between elections from Democracy to Republicanism. They will tend, in addition, to convert the Republican party of that city from the theory of "ultimate municipal ownership," to the safer principle of municipal control of public utilities.

There can be no doubt public sentiment is growing in determination to have for the public a proper share of the benefits resulting from the grant of franchises. These benefits may be demanded in the form of rentals, share of gross receipts or reduced charges for public service, according to circumstances, but in some form the public is entitled to them. They are not to be had, however, through corrupt political management or operation.

The Russian Monster.

Count Witte has yielded the cardinal point to the Liberals—immediate universal suffrage. On this matter he held out against the zemstvoists for nearly two weeks, until, like the czar, he is forced by events to admit that surrender to democracy is the only road to peace and order. Count Witte is a bit more ready than his imperial master to make concessions to the populace, but even he is hardly able to keep pace with the demands for free institutions.

Meantime alarming conditions continue to develop. Yesterday's sensation was the mutiny of the naval artillerymen at Kronstadt, followed by a bloody conflict between the mutineers and strikers on one side and the troops on the other. Details are lacking, but the event has caused great apprehension in St. Petersburg. No one can tell where next the specter will appear.

Count Witte is finding great difficulty in forming a cabinet to cope with the situation. His invitations are declined. Gen. Trepoff, who has been credited with the maintenance of a semblance of order, has resigned and the consequences may be serious. Russian conditions are, indeed, frightful. The drunken giant has thrown off his stupor and Nicholas, emperor, awoke too late.

A Japanese Embassy.

Kogoro Takahira, Japanese minister, is going home to consult his government about raising the Washington mission to the rank of an embassy. This ought to be done. Japan's new place in world affairs suggests the step and the relations between Japan and America fully warrant it. Diplomatic usages are probably more freely interpreted in Washington than in other capitals and a minister there may be accorded favored nation treatment. Yet there are good reasons why Japan's representative should have the full rank of ambassador.

It is hardly necessary to dilate on the American attitude in this matter. Since Commodore Perry knocked at the gates of Japan and was admitted there have been cordial relations between this country and that. Japan has borrowed from America her best lessons in adopting western civilization; America has not hesitated to avail itself of much that has been found good in Japan. This country has welcomed Japan to its larger influence in world affairs and will welcome a Japanese ambassador, particularly if Mr. Takahira returns in that capacity.

Refined Oil Higher.

An advance of one-half cent a gallon on refined petroleum was proclaimed by the Standard Oil Company yesterday. This will probably be followed by further advances in the crude oil market, as the Standard company preserves a consistent relation between the prices of raw material and finished product.

These advances are warranted by the interruption of the Russian petroleum industry. There is no immediate prospect of resumption of production and refining at Baku. Arrangements have been made with the Russian government, but are of no force in face of the disturbed conditions prevailing.

In this country conditions are more favorable than last spring. The Texas fields have apparently passed their zenith. The decrease in production there amounts to probably 40,000 barrels a day and millions of barrels of surplus stocks have been destroyed. There was an actual decrease in Texas stocks last month. Stocks of Pennsylvania oil are being drawn on to meet high grade demand and Lima production is not equal to the drain for cheap export oil, now that Russia is out of the market.

Kansas and the territories have reached a production of more than 40,000 barrels daily. Of this Kansas contributes about 7,000 barrels, Oklahoma 17,000 barrels and Indian territory 16,000 barrels. The best grades of oil are produced in the territories. This production may be raised to 50,000 barrels a day and maintained for a considerable time, as there is much undeveloped territory. A 50-cent market will not encourage extraordinary rapidity of development, so while that price prevails an average production of 40,000 to 45,000 barrels a day may be regarded as maximum. A much larger production could have been realized on a higher market earlier in the year had storage and pipe line facilities been adequate to care for it.

Examining the Treasury.

At the meeting of the revenue commission, yesterday, the task of examining the bonds securing state deposits was begun and satisfactory progress was made. This movement was started by Secretary McAfee several weeks before the failure of the Enterprise National bank and is in no wise referable to that accident. Delay in making the investigation was caused by the necessity of having a legal opinion from the attorney general and the meeting yesterday was adjourned for further consultation with the legal officer of the state.

This inquiry into treasury affairs is needed. Mr. McAfee's initiative is likely to firmly establish a more correct procedure. Before the new treasurer comes into office the "lid" will be off and if there is anything wrong it will be in the way to be corrected. Afterward it may confidently be expected the other members of the revenue commission will actively assist Mr. Berry in keeping the business of the treasury in order.

Reforms are needed. The Gazette confidently expects the revenue commission to introduce them to the extent of its authority both before and after Mr. Berry becomes a member. Recent events indicate the need for further legislative regulations. It is probable the investigation by the commission and Gov. Pennypacker will give definite information as to the form these should take. In that case Gov. Pennypacker will be expected to recommend them, in his final message, to the next legislature.

It may be taken for granted that treasury abuses have never been as great as represented in the anti-Republican press. The worst administration was Democratic. This very fact is among the best reasons for perfecting a system that will put, as far as possible, out of the hands of the treasurer the power to abuse his trust. Treasurers come and go; the system is more permanent.

Yesterday the Dispatch plumed itself on its "independence" and its "influence." During the campaign this "independent" took a few weak flings at the Citizens party and roundly denounced the Republican party editorially, while throughout its news columns were colored favorably to the Democratic-Citizens coalition. The day before election it singled out W. B. Kirker, Republican, and James A. Clark, Democrat, as especially worthy of defeat. The measure of its influence may be seen in the returns published in its own columns. Mr. Kirker led his ticket, with the largest majority given any county candidate; Mr. Clark defeated his Citizens colleague, Mr. Dempster, supported by the Dispatch, by nearly 2,000. This "independent" paper also made a special attack on the Republican ticket in Washington county, which was elected by increased majorities.

It is worthy of note, the navy department has opened bids on 150,000 tons of tobacco, the annual supply for the navy. It is quite a tidy bunch of tobacco, but the naval officers rate it as a fighting brand.

Apropos the Roosevelt boom for a third term, it may be remembered that Washington, with a practically unanimous election prospect before him, declined.

Immediate municipal ownership got a bump in Chicago. Parties do not thrive on unredeemed promises anywhere.

New Coal Territory Opened.

Consul General Halloway of Halifax reports that according to late information from New Glasgow based on an authoritative statement from the management of the Acadia Coal Company's colliery, the famous Ford seam, measuring 27 feet in thickness, has been cut, the quality of the coal being of the very best. The depth at which the seam was touched was 1,200 feet. For a time the immediate work at the shafts will be of a constructive character. It is expected that within two years a staff of at least 800 men will be steadily employed at the mine raising coal from this Ford pit. This surety of renewed work in the old coal seam opens up an almost new era in the history of the Pictou county coal fields and presents to traders and tradespeople a most promising outlook of long-continued prosperity in the valley of the East river.

It Is a Hard Conundrum.

Secretary Taft calls attention to the fact that the Republicans repudiated their party bosses while the Democrats did not. In the boldest and best sense, is not that a Republican victory?—Cleveland Leader.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS ON WAYS OF WORLD

Where There Is a Will There Is a Way to Get a Husband.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Maybe you think it is the fault of the men that you are not married.

If so you should think again.

Possibly you have never thought of the qualifications of a practical, useful wife.

What are your qualifications? In what particulars are you fitted to become the wife of a man who has to make a living? What do you know about domestic economy, and in which branches are you expert?

A man of affairs, or one employed on salary, hasn't much time to devote to housekeeping and to looking after details at home, for he has enough to do to provide the means of support.

* * *

It isn't all of married life to get married, have a lovely wedding and a jolly honeymoon, for after these come the bills, the bother of setting up housekeeping, making provision for home expenses and arranging a course of living within available means.

What can you do to help a man get along comfortably and well? Can you take care of a flat or small house, provide meals for two, and for occasional visitors? Can you manage to keep down the expense account for clothing and luxuries?

There are plenty of good-looking girls who don't know the value of a dollar. These can spend more money than the average man can make honestly. And if they are not given all the money they want they become ugly, very ugly, for there can be no uglier woman than the one who frets and pouts because she can't get whatever she wants.

* * *

Getting married may be something of a picnic, but it's no joke, and don't forget it.

The picnic and love-making period is delightful, even with occasional heartburnings, dumpy spells, and flare-ups. But this is only the beginning of a much longer period, a period during which you can't quit when things don't go to suit you.

After the honeymoon sets, or goes into its dark quarters, things will appear that had not been dreamed of while this illusive moon was full. And some of these are so startling, and often so disappointing, that even your pride cannot hide them.

And yet, as a rule, those who find married life more difficult and strenuous than they had expected, are more apt to make a success of it than those who go sailing along without meeting contrary winds and breakers.

Successful marriage isn't thrust upon anyone, but is achieved by honest effort on the part of both of the interested parties. They aim at success, strive for it, and do not hesitate to sacrifice present comforts in order to make it sure in time.

* * *

Too many of our young women are looking and waiting for men with money enough to keep them in good style, provide servants and allow them to live like ladies of leisure.

And there are many mothers who encourage their daughters to look for, and to wait for men of means rather than to take up with honest mechanics, salaried men, or those who have fortunes to make.

These forget that very often the young man who has money which he did not earn, doesn't know how to take care of it, and when his pile is gone he is comparatively helpless, and practically worthless as a husband.

It is the man who can make money that can best use and care for it.

This applies to women also. The woman who knows the worth of money, what it has cost in toil and labor, is not likely to spend it foolishly.

Young men have discovered through observation that being pretty, and maintaining style, is quite expensive, and that is why so many of them are leary of marriage. They don't have to marry, for they can have all the company they want, and as for places to live they can have their choice, and for less than they can keep stylish wives.

* * *

Mr. Quiet Observer:—"Are matches made in heaven?" This question is once again to the fore. We scan the list of divorces and wonder if Satan did not match those who are seeking freedom in the divorce court.

He certainly has been busy since they have taken the vows to love, cherish and, if necessary, to forsake all in the world for one another, else is would be a pleasure to keep those vows, for true happiness cannot be found than that of pleasing the one you love.

Perhaps Satan got in his work during the courtship. He may have helped much in the practice of deception. He would whisper to the young man: "You don't need to tell your fiancee that you have been engaged a few times before, and to girls that you thought more of than you do of her, and would gladly have married any one of them had they not discovered that you were other than a high principled man."

Or, perhaps, to the young lady he whispers: "Why tell the man you have consented to marry that your greatest reason for your decision is that you are tired of earning your own living, your home life is not as pleasant as you would like, and after all his income is an item to consider."

They both listen and when the time comes when they have to spend day after day together instead of two or three evenings a week, how disappointed they are. The sweet girl of the pleasant evening proves herself the possessor of an ungovernable temper, the continuous companionship of the man she tolerated has disgusted her and she is unhappiness personified. How she wishes she were an old maid school "marm," milliner, stenographer, saleslady, or in fact anything with "old maid" before it.

The man who has purchased his wife with bon bons, flowers and theater tickets, feels that it was a poor investment. Secretly he longs for one of Cora's smiles, Elsie's kind words, or Kitty's caresses. He wonders if any of his former ladyloves would have been as discontented and disagreeable as is his wife.

Don't blame it on the Lord if your marriage is a failure. If you trust him and have your eyes open you will get just what you deserve.

If you are honorable yourself you will scorn a man whom you find to be dishonorable.

Do not marry one who is your intellectual inferior, one whom you have found untruthful, one who is jealous, conceited, uncharitable or queer.

If you are a city girl don't marry a country bred man. Even though he has acquired some polish in the latter years of his life, you cannot find him companionable.

There are so many things to be considered in the selection of a life partner that we can scarcely blame girls for preferring single bliss and an income from the various occupations open to them.

Good women are far in the majority on comparing them with the good men, so a man runs less risk in matrimony than does a woman.

There is a bit of a dig at ye Country Jake, but he is used to such things, and if there is any fellow on earth who can bear them with equanimity, he can.

And there is a pretty sharp dig at the other fellow in her declaration that there are more good women than men, so that the chances for men getting good wives are better than for women getting good husbands.

Right there is an opening for discussion that might prove very profitable if taken up by our women's clubs, particularly if discussed in meetings open to the men.

AMERICA'S THEATER FOUNDED AT LAST

Thirty Wealthy Men of New York Will Erect $2,000,000 Structure With Conried at Head.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—After years of agitation and discussion, America's theater has been finally founded by 30 wealthy New Yorkers who have subscribed $3,000,000 to the enterprise and have put at its head Heinrich Conried, director of grand opera at the Metropolitan. The financiers interested have already purchased the entire block front from Sixty-second to Sixty-third street on Central Park, West, and are having plans prepared for a $2,000,000 theater with a great foyer to be filled with works of art. A committee of women who are prominent in local society is also busy planning the social details and arranging for the proper disposition of the theater boxes.

"To make a long story short," said one of the financiers, when questioned about the details of the new subject, "a number of gentlemen were approached, after a few of my friends had talked the matter over with Mr. Conried, and it was at once found that they were heartily interested in the project. I need not mention them all, but may say that among them were Clarence Mackay, Henry Morgenthau, James Speyer, Mr. Stillman, Daniel Guggenheim and many others.

"The plan was that 30 gentlemen should subscribe $100,000 each and for their investment they should have as collateral, as it were, a site to be purchased for about $1,000,000 and the theater to cost $2,000,000 more. The 30 were readily found. In fact, we can make it 40 if we choose."

Caruso Does Pugilistic Stunt.

Signor Caruso, the Metropolitan opera house tenor, is again the hero of the musical season. He has not been in town more than four days and has not sung a note. It is the tenor's good right arm and not his voice that this time has brought him a rejuvenated popularity. Today in his rooms at the Hotel York Signor Caruso is busy receiving congratulations, flowers and telegrams offering assistance and support, all brought about by the way he punched a Broadway "masher" who spoke to his wife yesterday on the street. The upper register of the tenor's knuckles are a little bit strained as a result of the concert, but he is very happy and says in reply to all telegrams, there will be no contest and he will make no demand for a recount.

Starts in Steerage, Lands Grand Cabin.

On a westward bound train which left Jersey City today was one of the youngest and at the same time most popular immigrants ever landed on America's shore. She is Freda Petroski, five years old, and she is on the way to join her father and mother in Bismarck, North Dakota. She journeyed from Warsaw, Poland, to New York alone, just as she will travel to the far northwest. When the cabin passengers on the Hamburg-American liner Moltke learned, less than a day out from Hamburg, that a five-year-old tot was down in the steerage, "all by herself," there was a quick opening of hearts as well as of purses, and Miss Freda was soon installed in the first cabin, where she at once became the favorite of everybody, from bluff Capt. Ruser down.

Rockefeller May Be an "Angel."

A well-known musician is responsible for the story that there is a plan on foot for a new musical organization for New York, with a celebrated musical conductor of Europe as its leader; and that the proud position held in this country by the Boston Symphony is what the men back of the plan aspire to. The most interesting part of the story is that Mr. Higginson, of the new movement, is none other than John D. Rockefeller. There had been some talk before of a new orchestra for New York, and last year, when Weingartner was here, he was talked of as the man to lead it. Now, it is stated, one of the three big European conductors who are coming over here to lead the Philharmonic concerts are also being considered for the position of head of the new band.

Still Betting in Wall Street.

The remarkable condition of a betting market upon the result of an election which has been held, continued to be presented in Wall street today. Bets were made at odds of 1 to 3 that Hearst will prove to be elected on the recount of the votes. Two such bets were: $500 to $1,500, with A. H. Romberg and F. St. Gour; $200 to $600 also with Mr. Romberg. At noon William Bagley was offering to bet $2,000 to $12,000 on Hearst, while Mr. Romberg was offering $1,500 to $500 on McClellan. No bets on the mayoralty result have yet been paid by Wall street stakeholders.

More About City Beautiful.

J. G. Phelps Stokes, fresh from political experiences calculated perhaps to breed pessimism, said at the Architectural league dinner last night that if there were a bath house north of City Hall park and a better grouping of public buildings in other places, our municipal life would be much purer. Calvin Tompkins, president of the Municipal Art society, was of the opinion that New York's bridges, subways and public works in general, reflect seriously on the intelligence of the engineering profession in the city.

Hurrying Work on Brooklyn Subway.

"By Christmas we shall have begun the work of connecting the entire subway excavations of Brooklyn from the river to Flatbush avenue. By next summer we shall have through communication under the river to Manhattan." These statements were by Chief Engineer Rice of the Rapid Transit commission. Work is being hurried on all the Brooklyn subway sections with the exception of the stretch between Smith street and the borough hall.

CONSUMPTION CURE IS COLD, OPEN AIR

Has Been Tried With Great Success in English Atmosphere. Some of the Regulations.

One of the most interesting papers sent to the state department is that of Consul Mahin of Nottingham, England, who writes on the successful effort to cure consumption and smallpox by the open-air treatment. Mr. Mahin writes as follows:

"The open-air treatment for consumption has been initiated in this consular district with successful results. Three years ago a sanatorium was established in this county on elevated ground, with southern aspect, at the edge of a forest. It is primarily for persons of limited means or none at all, and is therefore supported mainly by contributions from philanthropic people. The cases of consumption in this district are mainly among the poor, and these can only be reached through charitable institutions. The annual number of deaths in this city from consumption is nearly 500, being about 10 per cent of the total number from all causes. The ratio in the entire county is about the same, the annual number of deaths approaching 1,000. An interesting fact is that the percentage of mortality among males is much greater than that among females, even where the two sexes are employed in the same trade, as in lace or hosiery manufacture.

"About 200 patients have passed through the Nottingham sanatorium since it was founded. Of these the disease arrested was in about 25 per cent, great improvement was reported in about 30 per cent, some improvement in 25 per cent, 'stationary' was reported for 10 per cent, while the remainder grew worse. No deaths are so far reported. Altogether this record is considered good, in view of the fact that most of the patients are in advanced stages of the disease. It is found very difficult to induce persons to take the treatment at the first signs of tuberculosis. An 'after care committee' endeavors to follow up leaving patients to discover is relapses occur. An organization is also effected to secure suitable employment for discharged patients. It is proposed, besides, to provide some light outdoor work, such as horticulture, for patients at the sanatorium.

The Sanatorium.

"The sanatorium is a long one-story frame building with a central part of two stories. A roofed veranda facing southward extends the full length of the one-story wings. Extensions can be made indefinitely as means are obtained. In Derbyshire the health officials have provided small huts with one side open for consumptive patients. These can be turned around with changes of the wind, to prevent its blowing directly on the patients in the beds. Besides sanatoria, various drugs have been tested in this country for the cure of tuberculosis. Encouraging results are reported from the use of a cyllin inhalant, the composition of which is not definitely announced, but is understood to be certain members of a new series of oxidized hydrocarbons.'

"The total annual number of deaths from tuberculosis in this country is placed at not less than 40,000, and the total number of sufferers from consumption at a given time is estimated at 200,000. Statistics, however, indicate a decrease of 50 per cent in the mortality in comparison with a few years ago in proportion to population. The improvement is attributed to advanced methods of treatment, to measures for preventing infection, and to education in wholesome ways of living and working.

Open-Air Treatment.

"The open-air treatment has also been successfully applied to smallpox cases. The health officer of Nottingham recently reported as follows: 'The uniform practice of nursing all serious cases singly in bell tents with open sides, i. e., practically in the open air, has been adopted with the best results. All cases so treated made a rapid recovery with a minimum of septic complications. In addition to the advantage to the individuals themselves there is the palpable advantage to other patients in hospital with them of being out of reach of the poisonous emanations from their bodies during the acute stage of their attacks. The progress of the cases so treated has been so much more satisfactory than that of those nursed in the wards that patients lately admitted to hospital have often asked, on the strength of what they had heard outside, to be nursed in the open air rather than in the hospital wards.'"

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

One of the most noted of America's literary men is spending a week in this city. He is Thomas Bailey Aldrich, the poet of New York. Mr. Aldrich, accompanied by Mrs. Aldrich and his son, and by Mr. and Mrs. George Vanderbilt, arrived in the city yesterday. They are spending a week as the house guests of Congressman and Mrs. H. K. Porter in the East End.

The visit of Messrs. Vanderbilt and Aldrich to the city at this time has no significance. At the Porter residence next Monday evening a musical will be given in honor of the guests.

Uniforms for Ticket Sellers.

In a short time the ticket sellers at the Union station will be forged out in brand new office coats of the uniform variety. This is a new departure for Pittsburgh, but the thing has been in vogue in the Broad Street station, Philadelphia, for some time. Measurements were taken yesterday for the coats. These garments will be made of suitable material for office wear. They will be of the straight, single-breasted cut and will have nickeled buttons and the well-known P. R. R. keystone design on the collar.

The Pennsylvania has only recently made the wearing of uniforms advisable by the enginemen and firemen of the passenger trains, but the uniforms are so neat and well liked that all of the passenger engine crews are wearing them. With the adoption of uniforms for the ticket sellers, there remain none of the Union station employes in the civilian dress.

✦ ✦ ✦

Will Hunt for Deer.

George Ayers, assistant station master at the Union station, accompanied by Ticket Examiner G. W. Barclay and L. D. Ferris, assistant foreman in the baggage department, will leave in a few days for a deer hunt in the wilds of Central Pennsylvania. Lock Haven will probably be their immediate point of destination, but they will pitch camp along Hyners run in Clinton county.

✦ ✦ ✦

Pawnee Bill's Men on the Boards.

Quite a bit of attention was paid by passengers at the Union station last night to a party of peculiar looking little men of darksome hue. They were taken to be Hindoos. Inquiry brought the information that they were nine little Singhalese from Ceylon. They have been connected with Pawnee Bill's wild west show, but this has gone into winter retirement at Canton, O., and the nine little men are going on the boards for a winter tour, starting next Monday with a two-week stand at Keith's theater, New York.

THE LONG AGO.

Oh! a wonderful stream is the river of time,
As it runs through the realm of tears,
With a faultless rhythm and musical rhyme,
And a broad sweep and a surge sublime,
As it blends in the ocean of years.

How the winters are drifting like flakes of snow,
And the summer like birds between,
And the years in the sheaf, how they come and they go,
On the river's breast, with its ebb and its flow,
As it glides in the shadow and sheen.

There's a magical isle up the river of time,
Where the softest of airs are playing,
There's a cloudless sky and a tropical clime,
And a song as sweet as a vesper chime,
And the Junes with the roses are straying.

And the name of this is the Long Ago,
And we bury our treasures there;
There are brows of beauty and bosoms of snow,
There are heaps of dust—oh! we loved them so—
There are trinkets and tresses of hair.

There are fragments of songs that nobody sings,
There are parts of an infant's prayer,
There's a lute unswept and a harp without strings,
There are broken vows and pieces of rings,
And the garments our loved used to wear.

There are hands that are waved when the fairy shores
By the fitful mirage is lifted in air,
And we sometimes hear through the turbulent roar
Sweet voices we heard in the days gone before,
When the wind down the river was fair.

Oh! remembered for aye be that blessed isle,
All the days of our life until night,
And when evening glows with its beautiful smile,
And our eyes are closed in slumbers awhile
May we dream of the friends gone to rest.

—Bayard Taylor.

JUDGES MAY NAME THE MEN MONDAY

Are Awaiting the Arrival of Judge Frazer to Appoint the Board of Tax Revision.

TALK OF MAYORALTY TIMBER

The appointment of the three members of the board for the assessment and revision of state and county taxes may be made Monday by the nine common pleas court judges having the authority to make the selections. There are a great many candidates.

The last legislature created this board, but the judges were doubtful of the constitutionality of the act. The supreme court has sustained the law, and the report was current yesterday the judges had decided to make the appointments Monday. Judge Robert Frazer, who is out of the city, will be home then.

The members of the board will each receive a salary of $4,000 a year, and are appointed for a term of three years. With the creation of the commission 183 ward, borough and township assessors will go out of office so far as the making of assessments for state and county purposes is concerned. The register assessors are not interfered with.

The act provides for the board dividing the county into "convenient" districts and the naming of a subordinate assessor for each district. These men will be paid $3 a day for the actual time they are employed. In addition to the assessors the board is allowed to appoint "such clerks as the salary board may allow."

Commissioners Lose Patronage.

At present the county commissioners have 54 clerks in their transcribing room. Except for the copying of the registry list these clerks are kept busy with the tax books. The new board will take over this transcribing room, and the commissioners will lose 54 appointees. This will cut the patronage of the commissioners to 178 appointments. Many of the clerks employed in the transcribing room are Democrats.

The official returning board is counting the vote of Tuesday's election, and expects to complete the work in four or five days. Unofficial counts of the vote cast for prothonotary, recorder and controller in the Sixth and Eighth legislative districts was completed yesterday. The result follows:

	Sixth.	Eighth.
Prothonotary—
Kirker	10,461	7,586
Mentel	7,142	5,932
Recorder—
Fahrman	9,848	6,909
O'Neil	7,759	6,958
Controller—
Booth	9,583	7,064
Cunningham	8,419	6,299

In the count of the Eighth district the vote of Rankin, first district of Swissvale, fourth district of the Second ward of Wilkinsburg and the First district of Plum township is not included. O'Neil carried the Eighth district, but is defeated in the county by a large plurality. Until the official count is finished it will not be known whether O'Neil or Cunningham led the fusion ticket. Kirker has the honor place on the Republican ticket.

Magee for Mayor.

Among Republicans there is a good deal of talk about the possibility of Former Senator W. A. Magee becoming a candidate for the Republican mayoralty nomination. He has been active in Republican politics and has a large following both in and out of the organization. He has given no intimation of what he intends to do. His successful fight against mighty odds in the Twenty-third ward on Tuesday is one of the much discussed battles of that contest.

The Municipal league may on November 23, the tenth anniversary of its birth, hold a town meeting and either name a candidate for mayor of Pittsburgh or delegate the power to a committee. The Independents are beginning to discuss the names of W. H. Stevenson, W. K. Jennings, H. K. Porter, Oliver McClintock, H. D. W. English and John Eaton as mayoralty timber.

Former Senator Charles A. Muehlbronner announced yesterday he had started his campaign for the Republican mayoralty nomination in Allegheny. He says he will make his fight at the primaries.

J. D. O'Neil, who was on Tuesday defeated for a re-election as county recorder, is talked of for mayor of McKeesport. There is a report he is trying to form a combination with City Treasurer S. C. Milliken.

Federation of Churches.

The federation of Allegheny churches will meet tonight in the chapel of the Allegheny Theological seminary in North avenue to discuss civic affairs. It is likely something will be said regarding possible candidates for mayor and some outline made of the plans of the federation in the February election.

The Rev. Dr. D. A. McClennahan, who is chairman of the executive committee of the organization, expressed himself yesterday as highly elated at the overthrow of the Wyman machine on the North Side. The defeat of Wyman, Dr. McClennahan says, is a big step toward good municipal government. In a candidate for mayor the federation, Dr. McClennahan says, will recognize no political party. The aim of the organization is to secure the election of a clean, honest man who will not stand for graft and corruption.

District Attorney Stewart said yesterday the pending Allegheny graft cases will be put on the trial list as soon as possible. There is some probability that some of them will be called next week. There are more than 100 indictments against women and gamblers who were taken by the county detectives and constables on warants issued by Chief County Detective Robert G. Robinson. Besides this there is a charge of extortion against Director Thomas B. Scandrett of Allegheny, that is still to be tried. Scandrett has recovered from his post-election indisposition and was about city hall yesterday.

James Clark, Gust W. Scheidhauer, Thomas Banks, George Abel and William G. Cowen filed affidavits for the use of the name Socialist Labor party in the city in the February election and in the county at the general election next November.

Henry Snyder, Herbert Sumner, Charles A. Smith, C. J. Clogan, J. P. Mahaney and Paddy Geary filed an affidavit for the use of the name Citizens party in Rankin at the February election.

BIG MEETING OF RED MEN.

To Hold Pow-Wow in Old City Hall Tonight—Prominent Members to Be Present.

The first annual pow-wow of the Red Men of Allegheny county will be held this evening in Old City hall. The 12 tribes located in the county will be represented, and the indications are that several hundred members of the order from Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virgina will be present. Invitations have been sent out as far east as Harrisburg, west to Columbus, north to Erie and south to Parkersburg. Thomas K. Donnally of Philadelphia, great chief of the records of Pennsylvania, will represent the great council of the state.

Paul Mason of this city will welcome the visitors and introduce the officiating officers. The council fire will be kindled at 8 o'clock, and about 100 candidates from all the tribes of the county will be adopted and raised to full membership. Mr. Donnally will arrive in the city at noon today and will be at the St. Charles hotel.

More Filtration Estimates.

Supt. Knowles of the bureau of filtration yesterday submitted to Controller Larkin estimates of work done on the filtration plant during October. The estimate for filters and basins is $72,755 65; filter reservoir, $32,752 01; river crossings and connections, $35,538 13; pump stations, $3,338 10; walls and intakes, $7,151 38, and pipe line to the South Side, $36,488 85, a total of $189,074 21. To date the total estimate on the work is $388,856 50.

Girl Wants Her Father.

A letter received yesterday by the police from John W. Douglass, agent of the board of children's charities at Washington, D. C., asking if Patrick McVerry, a laborer, or Owen McVerry, his son, formerly a grocer, lived in this city. The board has a young girl there who says her father and brother live in Pittsburgh but she had not heard from them for seven years.

KNOWLES' HABIT IS NOT APPROVED

Finance Committee Wants Filtration Superintendent to Obey Law on Supply Buying.

IT COMES TO LARKIN'S AID

The finance committee of councils yesterday instructed its clerk to notify Morris Knowles, superintendent of the filtration bureau that it will hereafter refuse to approve for payment bills for material amounting to over $250 unless the purchase has been made by competitive bidding. Controller Larkin has refused to pay such bills and yesterday a number of them were up for consideration by the committee after having been disapproved by the controller.

The bills aggregated $1,893 69, for office furniture and engineers' instruments, things on which there is not always a market price and on which there may be a large margin of profit if not bought under competitive bidding. One bill was for several hundred dollars for things bought from the same person and at the same time, or at least during the same month. The resolutions to pay these bills had been presented in councils after the controller declined to approve payment of them, and the resolutions were referred to the finance committee. After the resolutions were read yesterday Select Councilman S. J. Wainwright, Jr., a member of the finance committee, said:

"Mr. Chairman, it is plainly against the law for the superintendent of the filtration bureau to contract these bills without first having asked for bids. I suggest that the clerk of the committee be instructed to notify the superintendent that the committee does not approve of this custom and he must stop it."

Chairman Bole asked Mr. Wainwright if he meant his remarks as a motion. Mr. Wainwright said he meant what he said, but offered it as a suggestion.

Knowles to Be Warned.

Select Councilman Berry moved that the bills be paid, but that the clerk be instructed to notify Mr. Knowles how the committee felt about the matter. Councils will no doubt approve the resolutions as usual, and men are willing to wager that Mr. Knowles will send in bills in the same old way, for he knows Director Bigelow controls the councils and councils would not bear with his cussed a minute unless Director Bigelow wanted them to.

The ordinance providing for the appointment of a boiler inspector, who is also to grant licenses to stationary engineers, came up. Attorney James B. Drew spoke by permission in favor of the ordinance. A joint committee of organizations of stationary engineers was present, headed by H. L. Saddler.

Mr. Wainwright asked if the duties of the boiler inspector would not conflict with those of the county inspector, but he could acquire no clear idea on the subject. It was evident that the intent of the ordinance was to prevent the employment of anybody but a licensed engineer to operate engines of more than 10-horsepower.

Ordinance Improperly Prepared.

Mr. Wainwright said he favored this measure, but the ordinance was not worth the paper it was written on, as it was drawn up illegally.

Mr. Saddler said his committee represented 70,000 men, and if the finance committee turned down his committee it would turn down that many men, but nevertheless a motion was carried to refer the ordinance to a sub-committee of three, which will give the engineers a full hearing and will have the ordinance drawn up in a legal manner. At present it provides for the appointment of a boiler inspector and an assistant, but also carries an appropriation to pay their salaries, which provision will have to be incorporated in a separate ordinance. Chairman Bole appointed Mr. Wainwright, C. W. Helmold and C. Gallagher on the committee.

A petition for the annexation of West Liberty to Pittsburgh was referred to Councilmen Ward, Helmold and Hermes.

ILL HEALTH DRIVES RHODES TO SUICIDE

Former Popular Manager of Carnegie Art Galleries Ends His Life in Buffalo.

Charles Ward Rhodes, superintendent of the Pittsburgh Carnegie art galleries last year, committed suicide in Buffalo yesterday by taking potassium cyanide. Mr. Rhodes was aged 35, and was unmarried. He was a native of Marietta, O., where his mother still resides.

Mr. Rhodes was superintendent of the St. Louis museum for four years and came to the Carnegie institute with the highest recommendations. His administrations at the Carnegie galleries received the highest praise from his superiors, and three months ago he left to open an antique store in Buffalo. Previous to leaving Pittsburgh he suffered from brain trouble and complained of insomnia. His suicide is believed to have resulted from temporary insanity caused from an aggravated form of his malady.

"Mr. Rhodes was a model young man," said Director John W. Beatty yesterday. "He was one of the best men we have ever had in the business end of the galleries, and he left very much to our reluctance to enter business for himself. He was a patient sufferer while here, and I imagine that he was unable to find relief. We all deplore his death."

BOROUGH MAY INSPECT.

Avalon Residents to Be Safe-Guarded Against Falling Electric Wires.

Avalon council last night discussed an ordinance which provides for the placing of the inspection and supervision of all overhead electric wiring within the borough under the control of council and assessing an annual license of $2.50 per linear mile for the wiring. It was claimed that the companies neglect their inspections and thus endanger the lives of the people.

Councilman William Cotton said in making an inspection of the telegraph poles in the borough he found many of them so rotted that they were only kept standing by the wires supporting them.

The ordinance was favorably received and will probably be passed at the next meeting of council.

TWO ALLEGHENY HIGHWAYMEN ARE COMMITTED TO JAIL

John McCartney, alias John Moran and Clifford Mossholder, who were arrested early yesterday morning after Fulmer Conroy and Bernard Toole of 16 Boyd street were assaulted and robbed of two watches and $75 on Forbes street, were yesterday committed to jail by Magistrate Kirby for a hearing next Monday. Kate Meyers, who lives in the vicinity in which the hold-up occurred, identified McCartney as the man she saw robbing Toole. Conroy could not identify him.

VOMITING SPELLS

SYMPTOMS OF A CHRONIC STOMACH TROUBLE

Permanently Cured By the Tonic Method With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Few things are more weakening than frequent vomiting spells, but it is a mistaken idea to treat a delicate stomach with pre-digested foods and ferments. The stomach must be made to do its own work and this calls for a digestive tonic such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. With this treatment the stomach recovers tone, belching of gas and vomiting ceases and the digestive organs resume their function of properly nourishing the body.

Mrs. Sarah L. Brooks of No. 45 Lincoln Park, Chicago, Illinois, gives the following account of her cure from distressing spells of vomiting:

"For five years off and on I was treated in vain by different doctors for relief from a stomach trouble which showed itself in frequent and trying spells of vomiting. Part of the time I was able to work and again I would be confined to bed for three or four days in succession.

"My stomach was at times so delicate that it would not retain even plain water. The spells would sometimes occur at intervals of half an hour, and would leave me so weak that I would be compelled to lie down between them. I would have several of them during the night following a day of such attacks. Finally I became so weakened that I had to give up working altogether. I weighed only 94 pounds.

"Last January I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a paper and bought a box and began to use them. After I had used half a box I found that I could keep on my stomach the food I ate. I was encouraged by this and kept on using the pills for four months. At the end of that time the vomiting spells had ceased altogether and my weight went up to 142 pounds.

"I think I surely would have died if it had not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for I sometimes vomited clear blood, and for three or four days at a time I could not eat a bite of anything. The doctors said different things about my case; one said I had chronic inflammation of the stomach, and another said my difficulty was a cancer, but none of their medicines did me any good at all. Finally I concluded that I did not have blood enough to digest my food and I began the treatment that has cured me. I can eat anything now, and have strength for all kinds of work. I always keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills on hand, and I recommend them to my friends because I know they cured me."

If you would get rid of nausea, pain or burning in the stomach, vertigo, nervousness, insomnia, or any of the other miseries of a dyspeptic, get rid of the weakness of the digestive organs by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by druggists everywhere.

HEBREW LEADERS TO THE RESCUE

EXPECT TO RAISE $25,000

Horrified at the slaughter of thousands of Jews in Russia, 20 leaders of the Hebrew race in Pittsburgh met last evening at the home of Dr. Henry Finkelpearl, Fifth avenue, to protest in the name of humanity against the massacres, and devise ways and means for aiding the survivors. Preliminary plans have been formulated for holding a mass meeting Sunday night at the Washington street synagogue. At this gathering a vote of thanks will be tendered President Roosevelt for the interest he has displayed in the matter, and for his sympathy.

A committee appointed to complete arrangements for the meeting Sunday night is composed of Dr. Henry Finkelpearl, Dr. J. Spiro, Joseph Weisburg, A. C. Stein, Charles Sachs, M. L. Avner and Simon Sher. Sub-committees composed of 50 prominent Hebrew citizens will be named to assist the chief committee.

Jacob H. Schiff, chairman of the relief committee in New York, who contributed $50,000 to the relief fund, has been notified that Pittsburgh Hebrews have organized. It is proposed to forward all moneys collected to Mr. Schiff in New York.

The organization effected last night is comprised of orthodox Jews who will co-operate with the association now being formed by the Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy. The latter is making arrangements for the holding of a big mass meeting of sympathizers Sunday afternoon. Dr. Levy will be invited to participate in the meeting at the Washington synagogue Sunday night. An emphatic resolution will be adopted which will be cabled to Count Witte at St. Petersburg. The latter will be urged to further action in behalf of the Jews.

Rabbis A. A. Ashinski and M. S. Sivitz, who are striving hard for the sufferers, will be present at the meeting Sunday. Prayers are being offered daily in the local synagogue for the unfortunates. Attorney Stein in speaking about the meeting said:

"We will pack the hall. All races should protest against the massacres. The two committees should succeed in raising $25,000. I would not be surprised if the amount were greater. I don't think I am exaggerating when I say that the Hebrews throughout the country will raise about $500,000 for their oppressed brethren."

The Death Roll.

Harry Dean Reichwein.

Harry Dean Reichwein, aged 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Reichwein of 1417 Sedgwick street, Allegheny, former residents of McKeesport, died last Monday at Everett, Wash., of typhoid fever. Previous to going to Everett Mr. Reichwein was a resident of McKeesport. He was a member of Tube City council No. 278, I. O. of A., and other organizations. He is survived by his widow and four children—Margaret, Helen, Alice and Dorothy, and by three sisters and four brothers. Mr. Reichwein went west about seven years ago. The remains will be placed in a vault until a later date, when his family will return to McKeesport and the body interred there. Mrs. Reichwein was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keith of Ninth avenue, McKeesport.

Mrs. Loraine E. Beggs.

Mrs. Jennie Kuhns Beggs, aged 35, wife of Loraine E. Beggs, died yesterday at the residence of her brother-in-law, Dr. W. J. Rugh, 111 Park avenue, Mrs. Beggs was born in Newlinsburg, Westmoreland county, but lived in Pitcairn since her marriage about two years ago to Loraine E. Beggs, an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. She leaves her husband, her father, John W. Kuhns of Newlinsburg, and the following brothers and sisters: Jacob H. Kuhns and Mrs. Chalmer Hauk of Newlinsburg; John H. Kuhns and Mrs. W. J. Rugh of this city. Funeral services will be held from Hills church, Manordale, tomorrow afternoon.

Robert W. Bradshaw.

Robert W. Bradshaw died yesterday at his residence in Coal Valley. He was born June 26, 1821. Mr. Bradshaw, who was a lifelong friend of the late Capt. John E. Dravo, was an ardent Republican, one of a club of 10 to subscribe for The Gazette in his boyhood, and had been a constant reader of the newspaper ever since. He is survived by four sons and four daughters—Albert S., Dravosburg; the Rev. C. L. Brockwayville; F. K., Oakmont; Robert C., Coal Valley; Mrs. James H. Pavoc, McKeesport; Mrs. Dr. J. R. Scott, Mendelssohn; Mrs. William E. Reed, Duquesne, and Miss Anna Bradshaw, Coal Valley. The funeral will take place at the family residence at noon tomorrow.

James B. Devor.

BEAVER, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Attorney James B. Devor, aged 78, died this morning from heart failure at the home of his son-in-law, F. S. Dande of Beaver, with whom he had lived since he retired from the practice of law at Mt. Union a year ago. Mr. Devor was the son of James Devor and was born at Three Springs, Huntington county, Pa. He became a civil engineer and a lawyer, both of which professions he practiced at Mt. Union for 40 years; also taking an active part in county politics and holding several county offices. He leaves his widow, one son, Jerold L. Devor of Chicago, and one daughter, Mrs. F. S. Dande of Beaver.

Mrs. Sadie Steiner Brinker.

Mrs. Sadie Steiner Brinker, widow of Alfred Brinker, died yesterday at the residence of her brother, H. A. Steiner, 5815 Harvard street. Mrs. Brinker had been an invalid for many years, but was only taken seriously ill on Monday. She was formerly a resident of Turtle Creek, where she was born, but has lived in this city with her brother since the death of her husband. Mrs. Brinker was a member of Bethany Lutheran church. Funeral services will be held from the residence of her brother tomorrow at 2:30 p. m., and the interment will be at Homewood cemetery.

Miss S. Amelia Gunn.

Miss S. Amelia Gunn of New York city died suddenly of heart failure yesterday morning at the residence of her nephew, C. A. Gunn of 7414 Race street. Miss Gunn was on her way to California for the winter and had stopped in Pittsburgh to visit relatives. She was born in New York city 67 years ago and had spent her entire life there. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock and the body will be taken to New York, where it will be interred in Greenwood cemetery tomorrow. Richard D. Gunn, a brother, survives.

Jeremiah J. Kelly.

Jeremiah J. Kelly, aged 48, died yesterday morning at his home, 58 La Belle street, Mt. Washington. He was born in the west, but had been a resident of Pittsburgh since his youth. He was employed for many years at the Monongahela house and for 19 years had been a resident of Mt. Washington. He is survived by his widow, who is seriously ill; two sons, Daniel and Francis J., and a daughter, Elizabeth. Funeral services will be held at his late residence at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

James T. Gorley.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—James T. Gorley, aged 81, and formerly a leading merchant of Uniontown, died suddenly this morning. He had lived all his life in Uniontown. TELEPHONE MEN ELECT OFFICERS

Ex-Senator Kline of Hazelton is Chosen President of State Independents.

MAKING AN OPERATING UNIT

The election of officers for the coming year was the feature of the first day's session of the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Independent Telephone association, which assembled yesterday morning at the Monongahela house. The following were chosen:

President, ex-Senator C. W. Kline of Hazelton, president of the Consolidated Telephone Company of Pennsylvania; first vice president, Charles Griffith, president of the Johnstown Telephone Company; second vice president, James Collins Jones of the Keystone Telephone Company, Philadelphia; secretary, H. E. Bradley of Philadelphia, the former secretary of the association, who is also secretary of the Eastern Traffic association; treasurer, C. E. Wilson, general manager of the Keystone; executive committee, Edward Davis, Philadelphia; Judge R. E. Umbel, Uniontown, William B. Trask, Erie; F. D. Houck, Harrisburg; Charles West, Allentown; E. D. Schade, Johnstown; G. B. Rudy, York, and J. G. Splane, Pittsburgh.

The morning was devoted to a meeting of the executive committee, at which the following committees were named: Nominations, C. E. Wilson, Charles West, J. G. Splane; credentials, Charles Berk, Frank Hart, S. G. Latta; resolutions on death of First Vice President W. D. Barnard of Philadelphia, John S. Weller, Charles Russell, E. D. Schade; program, Frank Hart, C. E. Wilson and H. E. Bradley.

Vice President Charles Griffith presided at the afternoon session. The address of welcome, delivered by Assistant City Solicitor John A. Blair, was responded to by ex-Senator John S. Weller, vice president and general counsel of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company.

In the report made by Secretary Bradley it was shown that there are 50 fully organized operating telephone companies in Pennsylvania distinct from the Bell companies, and all of these are allied with the association. There are in all 83 independent telephone concerns in the state, but a considerable number are very small. The companies allied with the association operate 76,896 telephones and 71,142 miles of toll circuits, covering practically the entire state.

In reply to a question Secretary Bradley stated that the purpose of the association is not to bring the many independent companies into one concern financially, but to put into effect throughout the association's constituent companies uniform conditions which will make all the companies a uniform operating system. For this purpose the state has been divided into five districts. A traffic committee has supervision of the task of working the companies throughout the state into an operating unit.

TRAIN WRECKER IS SENTENCED FOR LIFE

MARENGO, IA., Nov. 9.—Eric von Kutzleben, alleged German baron, who caused a train wreck on the Rock Island at Homestead last spring, just to "see what would happen," was sentenced to life imprisonment here today. A number of lives were lost in the deliberately-planned wreck.

TWO PITTSBURGH BANKS WIN IMPORTANT CASE

Decision in Continental Iron Company Entails $110,000 Return for Loans.

Two Pittsburgh banks, the Fort Pitt National and the Fourth National, were victors in a decision rendered yesterday by Judge Cochrane of the United States district court, sitting at Cleveland. The decision means about $55,000 for each bank.

The suit was over a loan of $110,000 made to the Continental Iron Company, with works at Niles, O., and Wheatland, Pa. The company went into bankruptcy in 1902. The suit of the banks was against Trustee in Bankruptcy McKeefry of Leetonia, O.

The first decision was against the Pittsburgh banks on the ground of not complying with some requirement of the Ohio laws, but Judge Cochrane decided that the company was responsible. The case was handled for the banks by Attorney Thomas Patterson of Patterson, Sterrett & Acheson of Pittsburgh.

The decision in this case is the last of many cases against the stockholders, and it is expected that there will now be a division of the money in the hands of the trustee, realized from the sale of the company's property.

MAY BUY A CHURCH.

County Will Soon Decide Whether It Will Purchase Third U. P. Property.

The option held by the county on the property of the Third United Presbyterian church in Diamond street will expire on November 15. The church has agreed to sell for $350,000.

Commissioner Price says he will confer with his colleagues and the judges and expects to be able to give a definite answer before the expiration of the option. The property is wanted for an addition to the court house. The county owns the old university building, which adjoins the church.

an achievement

America has always been eager for Dry Goods of foreign manufacture, because American people appreciate merit and demand goods of class and character, but the day is drawing near when we'll send there for very little, as America is making extraordinary progress—and soon will be able to not only supply her own requirements, but enter foreign markets and win success.

Many American stuffs are even now successfully exploited on the other side.

If anyone questions the superiority of American fabrication as demonstrated in some lines, let them look at the showing of Cotton Velours for Bath Robes, Dressing Sacques, Bedroom Wrappers, etc., priced 12½c—heavy, velvety cloth—soft, luxurious fabric in beautiful appropriate printings.

Cloth, finish, patterns and colorings so far surpassing any foreign product as will prove a revelation and a delight to those who appreciate merit in these lines, and are ready to give American manufactures the preference—and save money besides.

TWO ARE KILLED AND TWO SHOCKED

William A. Parks and William G. Grimes Grasp Telephone Cable Charged With 2,500 Volts.

HEROIC COMPANIONS SUFFER

While removing a lead telephone cable from the poles at Daisy and Perrysville avenues, Allegheny, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, William A. Parks and William G. Grimes were almost instantly killed. Henry Neel and Harry Richardson, who tried to rescure their unfortunate fellow-workmen, were both badly shocked. Parks and Grimes died in the street. The accident was caused by the telephone cable coming in contact with a live electric light wire and becoming charged.

Parks, who was 49, lived with his wife and five children in the rear of 1206 Race street, Allegheny. Parks came here from Butler, Pa., and had been employed as a groundman by the Central District and Printing Telegraph Company for the last 17 days. Grimes was 24 and single. He came here from Lexington, Ky., and had been in the employ of the company since last April. He was a sub-foreman, and yesterday was acting foreman in the absence of Henry Ownes, the regular foreman, who is in Lexington.

Charles Riley, William Lowman and Albert Richardson each climbed to the top of a pole to detach the cable to be taken down. The other men were on the ground, and when an end of the cable was let down to them Neel took hold of it, and shouting that it was charged, let it fall. Before Parks and Grimes could be warned they had grasped hold of the cable, and both received the full 2,500 volts of electricity with which the light wire was charged. Both men were knocked down and the cable fell across the chest of Grimes.

Try to Save Companions.

The horrified men on top of the poles instantly discovered what was wrong and shouted to the men on the ground not to touch the cable. Disregarding the warning Richardson grasped Parks by the clothing and tried to pull him away. Richardson was shocked, but returned to the fight to save Parks, if possible. At the same time Neal tried to knock the cable off Grimes and he received a severe shock. He grasped the cable again and was almost knocked down. Cries of "let it alone" did not daunt either man, and Neel went after the cable again and was hurled almost across the street and partly stunned. Richardson succeeded in getting Parks' body away from the cable, but he suffered severely in performing the heroic deed.

Although both Parks and Grimes received the full force of the light current, neither of the men were burned by the electricity. After the cable had been removed from the light wire the bodies of the men were removed to the morgue. Late last night they were turned over to an Allegheny undertaker. Grimes' body will be sent to his home in Lexington.

While the bodies were being prepared for burial last night, Miss Bertha Gudenburr, Grimes' sweetheart, called at the morgue and requested Deputy Coroner John Black to place a small bunch of chrysanthemums in Grimes' hands after his body had been placed in the casket.

Sweetheart Visits Morgue.

The simple request of the young girl caused a most affecting scene, and after Black took the little bunch of white flowers from the girl she hurried out into the street. Black was touched by the girl's small token of affection and quietly went back to his duty beside the bodies of the man.

Many linemen visited the morgue last night to view the bodies of Parks and Grimes. Their sudden deaths unsettled the other men who saw them killed and last night they remained at their boarding houses in East Diamond street, Allegheny. Harry Richardson and his brother live at 717 East Diamond street, where his brother, Albert Richardson, said he was recovering from the shocks he received in rescuing Parks' body. Richardson said he feared for a time that his brother had been fatally shocked. Neel, who also suffered much from shock, lives in the East End.

Albert Richardson, who is an experienced lineman, said he and his brother last week discussed the possibility of accidents similar to the one of yesterday. At the time the elder brother told Harry that in case of an accident he should never touch the body of a man while trying to rescue him. He said the fact that his brother remembered his warning to grasp a man's clothes alone saved him from being killed.

Grimes boarded at 717 Washington street, Allegheny. Other linemen last night stated that the accident yesterday is the first in their recollection of two men being killed by electricity while working in the same gang in this section.

Fell Dead from Heart Disease.

Mrs. Mary Manning of Fifth avenue, McKeesport, died suddenly from heart disease yesterday at her home near the end of the viaduct at Riverton. Two small boys saw the woman first and notified Officer Joseph Maund, who reported the case to the police station. The remains were taken to the hospital but from there they were transferred to Volk's morgue, the woman being dead when found. She is survived by her husband and one son. She was president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the A. O. H. and a member of St. Pius Roman Catholic church.

An unknown white man, aged about 45, was killed by a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie train at Demmler last night.

Auxiliary Canadian Cruiser Completes the Latest Trip of the Season in Hudson Bay.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Nov. 9.—The auxiliary Canadian cruiser Neptune arrived here today after a perilous voyage in Hudson bay, which the cruiser entered later in the season than any other vessel is known to have done. The Neptune entered there October 3.

On board the cruiser was Maj. Moodie, governor of Hudson bay. He made the trip to supply winter stores to the remote police posts in the Hudson bay country. (Twice the Neptune struck rocks, and was leaking badly on arriving here.

BISHOP T. F. DAVIES OF MICHIGAN IS DEAD

DETROIT, Nov. 9.—The Rt. Rev. Thomas Frederick Davies, D. D., L. L. D., bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Michigan, died tonight of pneumonia, at his home in this city. He was 74 years old, and is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Henry S. Haines and Miss Marian Davies, of Detroit, and a son, the Rev. Thomas F. Davies, Jr., rector of All-Saints church, Worcester, Mass.

Mutinous Garrison Surrenders.

RIO JANEIRO, Nov. 9.—The garrison of the fortress of Santa Cruz at the entrance of the bay mutined, but surrendered to the authorities this morning. The mutineers, prior to their surrender, killed and mutilated a lieutenant. Order has been restored.

"Beats Jersey Justice By Mile," Says Prisoner

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—At 2:30 a. m., arrested for robbery.
10 a. m., held by magistrate.
11 a. m., indicted by grand jury.
11:30 a. m., pleaded guilty.
11:35 a. m., sentenced to three years.
12 m., in Eastern penitentiary.

Such was the swift course of justice in the case of Joseph C. Palmer of Trenton, N. J., that within 10 hours after committing a robbery he was behind the walls of the Eastern penitentiary beginning a three-year sentence, given by Judge von Moschzisker.

"This beats Jersey justice a mile," said the prisoner, as he was led to the waiting van.

HERRICK TALKS OF HIS DEFEAT

Says Ohio Will Return to Republican Principles When Clear Thought Comes.

GOOD WORD FOR REFORM

(By Associated Press to The Gazette.)

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 9.—Governor Myron T. Herrick tonight, gave the following statement to the Associated Press:

The people of Ohio, by a substantial plurality, have defeated me for governor. I bow to their will, and trust that their welfare may be the only aim of the new administration.

This overthrow of the Republican party in Ohio was not caused by business depression or industrial adversity anywhere in the state or nation, it was not caused by any mismanagement or corruption in the conduction of the state government; it was not caused by any discontent on the part of the people with the record of achievements of the Republican party in the administration of state affairs during the last 14 years. It was shown conclusively in the campaign that the business affairs of the state had been well managed; that all the state's debts had been paid; that there is a splendid surplus in the treasury; that the state institutions have been honestly, efficiently and economically administered and that nowhere in any office or department of the state government has there been any breath of scandal or of official misconduct.

In the legislative department of the government, the record of the Republican party has been equally as clean, just as praiseworthy. It has given the people wise and progressive laws; especially in the matter of moral advancement and temperance reform, and in the way of a juster and more equitable system of taxation, the party has deserved public confidence and approval.

A Wave of Reform Abroad.

But despite all these things, the people of Ohio have been swept away from the moorings of truth by a wave of prejudice and suspicion. Undoubtedly there is a healthy spirit of moral reform and a widespread insistence upon courage and honesty in public officers manifested all over the land. That spirit has shown itself in the election of Jerome in New York, the triumph of Weaver in Philadelphia, and action in the breaking down of party lines in Massachusetts, Minnesota and Missouri. This fact and these events made it easy to excite the suspicion, inflame the conscience and mislead the impulse of the people of Ohio.

Continuing Governor Herrick says that the great danger now confronting the nation is a complete breaking away from party fealty and principles. This offers a fruitful field for the demagogue and political adventurer. He says:

The individual who, in seeking self-advancement, is willing to allure the people from the principles and policies of government to the adulation of a popular idol, is an enemy of his country. The newspaper, which in order to swell the receipts of the counting room is willing to pander to sensationalism, to deceive the people and play upon the credulity of the unthinking, is an enemy of mankind.

Here in Ohio, in this campaign, and elsewhere in other political contests we have had too many instances of that spirit which is ready to defame and destroy in order to profit by the noise. The Democratic party is the immediate beneficiary in this state.

Democratic Success Shortlived.

But the success of Democracy in Ohio is as short-lived as it is infrequent. The principles of Republicanism are eternal, because they stand for truth, justice and progress. They will rise again. In this state at the next election, and they will have the support of many thousands of voters who will return to that party which they will find they had no good reason to desert.

I discharged my duties as governor of Ohio with an eye and purpose devoted solely to the best interests of all the people. My conscience is clear. What I did with respect to the Brannock law was done in the interest of justice and morality and intended to strengthen that measure as a temperance law. I would do the same thing over again. The unconstitutional measures I vetoed I would veto again. The extravagant appropriations that I declined to approve I would again decline to approve.

If the people of Ohio defeated me because they disapproved of my action with respect to those measures, they acted wisely, for if I had been given a second term I would have been actuated by the same motives and I would have pursued the same course whenever the occasion arose. From those same people, in whose ultimate judgment and sense of justice I have the profoundest faith, I bespeak for my successor that support and confidence which should always encourage the public servant, and I trust that for every exercise of any honest purpose to serve the general welfare he may receive that approval to which an upright conscience is entitled.

AWAIT OFFICIAL COUNT.

Ohio Returns Come in Slowly and Situation on All but Governor Is in Doubt.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 9.—Only scattered reports on the minor state candidates have yet been received but these indicate that at least some of the Republicans pulled through by safe pluralities, and in view of the size of the defection from Herrick it is possible that Republicans may have chosen all state officers below governor. The legislature, however, is Democratic in both branches.

Pattison's plurality for governor is 41,7 5, according to the official returns reported to the county seats and telegraphed to the Columbus Dispatch today, all counties being included.

HONOLULU MERCHANTS WILL BUILD A STEAMER

HONOLULU, Nov. 9.—Honolulu merchants in an endeavor to charter a steamer and establish an independent line between Honolulu and San Francisco, in order to secure lower fares and freight rates, are raising funds for the building of a large ocean steamer. It is reported that $1,000,000 has already been subscribed.

Gen. F. T. Sherman Dies.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Gen. Francis T. Sherman, chief of the staff under Gen. O. O. Howard in the civil war, died today at his residence in Waukegan, Ill. He was 80 years old. He served as postmaster of Chicago for nearly a year. Later he was a member of the Illinois legislature.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat. I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

PHILADELPHIANS SEEK REST CURE

Hunting Retired Spots to Recover from Strain—Civil Service Law to Be Made Real.

NEW BALLOT LAW IN PROSPECT

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.

Many of the prominent political leaders left town today. Some will take the "rest cure," while others who were on the winning side Tuesday will plan further victories. Mayor Weaver will spend a few days at the shore. His cabinet officers will also take a vacation. Before leaving the mayor was asked if he would be a gubernatorial candidate for next year's nomination.

"Have you ever been in public life?" asked Mr. Weaver. Then without waiting for a reply, he continued: "It gets tiresome after a while."

Few believe Mayor Weaver possessed of gubernatorial aspirations. It seems to be generally conceded that the Republican nominee will be a man from the western part of the state, though there is a renewal of the gossip that ex-Judge James Gay Gordon will make a fight for the Democratic nomination. Gordon deserves chief credit for the election of the City party ticket, but it is believed Col. James M. Guffey would oppose liquidation of the obligation by giving Gordon the Democratic nomination for governor.

Ex-Insurance Commissioner I. W. Durham, Republican State Chairman W. H. Andrews, City Treasurer Shoch, Register of Wills Klemmer, Daniel J. McNichol, George J. Brennan, Sheriff Miles and half a dozen others left today for San Lucie, Fla. Durham's health has been seriously imparied by the strain of the campaign and his friends are concerned about his condition. Thirty ward leaders were at the station to see the party off.

Civil Service to Be Real.

Senator Penrose is still in town but he declines to be interviewed or, in fact, to receive newspaper men. Senator McNichol, who had intended going to Florida, reconsidered and will remain in the city.

Mayor Weaver's future attitude on he subject of municipal patronage is causing much speculation. One rumor is to the effect that he will grant amnesty and recognize ward leaders and councilmen who from now on give him their support. This theory, however, received an official jar today. Select Councilman Alexander Craw of the Fifteenth ward, who supported the City party] and carried his ward by a reduced majority, gave the administration a chance to "serve notice." Crow wrote Frank M. Ritter, secretary of the Municipal Civil Service commission, asking for a list of men from his ward who were on the eligible list, information as to what positions were applied for, etc. Secretary Ritter this evening gave out his reply to Mr. Crow. It is fully explanatory:

Dear Sir—Your letter of October 24, 1905, reads as follows:

"Will you do me the favor to send me a list of names of the men in our ward who have filed applications for the civil service examinations; also all those from our ward whose names are on the eligible list, and greatly oblige."

Third Party Not Needed.

I cannot comply with your request. The civil service stands for a complete severance of influence over applicants or eligibles by any ward leader. These passing examinations will be duly notified from this office without the intervention of any third person, whoever he may be. The appliants can and will get all the information themselves by direct notification. Applicants will likewise be duly notified in the same way of all examinations to be held.

As I am anxious that all applicants and eligibles throughout the city shall be definitely informed of this fact, I furnish the newspapers with my reply to you, with the request that they publish it.

The letter established the presumption that the civil service in the future is to be a reality, but why Mr. Crow was utilized to demonstrate this fact is not known, unless it is because the mayor wants to rebuke him for his campaign tactics. It will be remembered that Crow forced Police Lieutenant Richards and other officers to resign a few days before election.

A movement is under way looking to a complete revision of the ballot law of Pennsylvania, and the enactment of a new law by the next legislature. It has been suggested that the work be placed in the hands of a non-partisan commission. It is proposed that commission be composed of representatives of the Republican state committee of Pennsylvania, the Committee of Seventy of this city, the chamber of commerce of Pittsburgh, the board of trade of Scranton and the City club of Philadelphia.

TEACHERS WILL NEXT MEET IN CALIFORNIA

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—The executive committee of the National Educational association, through its president, Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, superintendent of public instruction of Pennsylvania, has accepted an invitation from California to hold the next annual meeting of the association in San Francisco, July 9 to 13, 1906.

MULLANEY MINDS OWN BUSINESS

Signs Mutual Life Vouchers at Albany, but Doesn't Know Their Purport.

HE GETS $25 A MONTH

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The house in Albany, N. Y., which testimony before the insurance investigating committee has heretofore shown was for a number of years maintained by funds of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, was again given some attention by Charles E. Hughes, counsel for the committee, when Michael P. Mullaney, the caretaker of the house was called today as a witness.

Mullaney's testimony was in great part a corroboration of previous testimony that A. C. Fields, while employed as stationery agent of the Mutual, also looks after legislative matters, and paid the rent for the Albany house.

A number of vouchers signed by Mullaney were identified today by the witness, who acknowledged receiving the money for them. Some purported to be for legal services. Witness said he was not a lawyer, and could not explain why vouchers were made out to that item. J. M. Beek, counsel for the Mutual, however, took occasion to remind Hughes that all vouchers for the maintenance of this house, it had been testified, were charged to legal expenses. Mr. Hughes said that did not explain why some were for traveling expenses and some for sundries.

Mullaney Couldn't Tell.

Mullaney could not tell what the sundries were unless they were supplies. He had taken trips to New York to see Mr. Fields at the latter's suggestion. He did not know how many times he had been to New York. He sometimes bought tickets for Mr Fields. Nineteen vouchers were identified by Mullaney, for all of which he admitted he received the money, which aggregated $5,725. These were paid between March 7, 1900, and July 12, 1906.

Mullaney said his salary was $25 a month. He had never carried any money to Albany from New York for Mr Fields and had never paid out any money for Mr. Fields.

The greater part of the day William Barnes, Sr., sat in the committee room waiting to be called. Mr. Barnes figured in this investigation several weeks ago when vouchers for legal services, bearing his signature, were produced, together with a letter signed by William Barnes, Jr., of Albany, reminding the Mutual Life that his father's "honorarium had not been received," and further asking that a check be forwarded.

Hegeman Gets $100,000, Also.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company figured in the greater part of the day's proceedings. John R. Hegeman, president of the company, who was on the stand when adjournment was taken yesterday, was the first witness today, and the expenses of the company were further gone into. It was brought out that Mr. Hegeman's salary is the same as that of John R. McCall, president of the New York Life Insurance Company—$100,000. Previous to 1905, however, Mr. Hegeman received $80,000. The salary of Vice President Haley Fiske is $75,000, George H. Gaston, treasurer, receives $37,500, and Frank O. Ayers, third vice president, receives $15,250.

Mr. Hegeman said that when the finance committee consulted him about increasing salaries in 1904, "I said I had received $30,000 for two years' and was satisfied and gratified and did not need any increase. They agreed, however, in consideration of my 38 years' service, to increase it to $100,000. I have not drawn it, however, and do not intend to do so. Of all the words I abhor, the perpendicular pronoun has the primacy but I would like to say I have averaged a salary of $50,000 only, and have continued with the company to my pecuniary disadvantage. Fifteen years ago I was guaranteed $100,000 to go elsewhere."

His Memory at Fault.

"You were complaining yesterday of the great expense of the industrial insurance. Was this matter of expense taken into consideration when the salaries were increased?" asked Mr. Hughes.

"Everything was taken into consideration."

"Are you making any serious effort to reduce expenses?"

"We are always doing so."

"In what line have you done so?"

"It would be hard for me to state," answered President Hegeman.

In reply to questions by Mr. Hughes, Mr. Hegeman said the section of the state insurance law dealing with surrender values is waived by policy holders of the Metropolitan company, and he was not aware that in certain states this waiver was held to be invalid. Vice President Fiske, interrupting, said the waiver was held to be invalid in Missouri.

Asked what he did about that, Mr. Hegeman said he complied with the law, and that after premiums had been paid for five years the company paid surrender values. Five per cent of the policies issued by the company, he said, provided that after paying premiums for five years the policy holders shall receive paid up insurance but only for the period of his expectation of life as tabulated on the policy. Mr. Hegeman did not know why this limitation was fixed.

Death Claim Every Minute.

In detailing the growth of the company's business Mr. Hegeman said that 35 years ago less than $250,000 would have bought out the company, while today $250,000,000 would not do it. He remembered the time when the company had to go out and borrow the money to pay a death claim, while now the company has a death claim every minute of the 24 hours, and is able to pay them.

The system of agencies and the manner of obtaining business in the field was taken up. It was brought out that the average salary of an agent in the field is $11.62 a week. An assistant superintendent's salary averages $18 a week which, with commissions, may run to $25 weekly. The average salary of superintendents is from $25 to $50 a week. These officers are in the direct charge of the agents in the field.

Mr. Hegeman was unable to answer many questions of detail and James M. Craig, actuary of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, was called. He described the system of the Metropolitan in placing the rate of premium on policies, and the various forms of policies issued by the Metropolitan.

Lapses Are 56 Per Cent.

Mr. Hughes questioned the witness relating to infantile insurance.

"Do you have a reserve on infantile insurance?" he asked.

"Yes, we are carrying $6,000,000 reserve in excess of what it would have been had it been written as life policies. Infantile insurance since 1895 has been written on the endowment plan."

Mr. Craig declined to say what proportion of those insured at the ages of 2 and 9 years, respectively, would reach maturity. Of those insured at 9, he said, the number reaching maturity would be small.

Mr. Hughes elicited the fact that the average proportion of lapses in one year in infantile endowments was about 56 per cent.

Mr. Hegeman was then recalled. He denied that agents were encouraged to hold out an inducement that the Metropolitan is a mutual company. An official bulletin to agents was shown witness, who said he was out of the country at the time, but that Mr. Fiske wrote it. This bulletin stated that "this company is practically a mutual company." Witness said the company assumed its agents told the truth, and there is nothing in its literature that would imply it is anything but what it is.

Witness said that no moneys were paid for legislative purposes by the Metropolitan except in the retention of counsel to appear before committees to defeat obnoxious measures. Among those were bills in half a dozen states to do away with infantile insurance. These expenses are charged only to legal expenses. In 1904 the company paid $31,597, and this was reported to the state insurance department.

Woman's Relief Corps Meets.

WEST NEWTON, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—A district convention of the Woman's Relief corps, including the posts at Pittsburgh, Allegheny and nearby towns, was held here today. The meetings during the day were held behind closed doors. A camp fire at Markle hall closed the convention tonight. The principal speaker was Dr. Millie Chapman of Pittsburgh.

MAKING PROGRESS ON PANAMA CANAL

Chairman Shonts Tells Hardware Men Something of Task on Isthmus.

INTRODUCED BY PITTSBURGHER

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Theodore P. Shonts, the chairman of the Isthmian canal commission, was the principal speaker at a joint meeting of the American Hardware Manufacturers' association and the National Hardware association at the New Willard hotel tonight. There was a large attendance of members of both associations by whom Mr. Shonts was given a hearty reception. Vice President Henry B. Lupton of Pittsburgh, introduced Mr. Shonts, who spoke in part as follows:

In order to make the Isthmus a place fit to live in and to work in, there were three fundamental tasks which had to be performed in advance of all others. First, thorough sanitation of the Isthmus; second, providing suitable habitations for all classes of employes; third, providing a system of food supply which would afford to all employes opportunity of obtaining wholesome food at reasonable cost.

To fully understand what has been accomplished by our sanitary work it is only necessary to compare the present rate of sickness with that which prevailed on the Isthmus when the French were in possession. In August, 1882, the second year of the French occupancy, with a force of 1,900 men, the death rate was 112 per 1,000. In August, 1905, with a force of 12,000 men, there were only eight deaths, or two-thirds of a man per 1,000.

Providing Houses for Men.

The commission inherited from the French company more than 2,100 buildings, all in bad condition. During the last year over half of them have been repaired; two new hotels, three stories high and containing from 55 to 60 rooms each, have been completed, and authority has been granted for eight others, a portion of which are under construction at the present time. Work is in progress also on cottages for married employes and on bachelor quarters. In this work of construction 2,400 men are employed, and additional carpenters are being sent out with every steamer. This work is being pressed forward with the utmost vigor.

Owing to the fact that the natives never look beyond their present necessities, no surplus food supply ever accumulates. We were thus brought face to face with the problem of feeding 12,000 men, with base of supplies 2,000 miles away. We immediately arranged to open local commissary stores at every important labor camp, to provide mess houses, and to furnish food, both cooked and uncooked, to all employes at cost.

But in addition to these fundamental tasks of improving the health conditions on the Isthmus and providing for the physical comfort and well being of all classes of employes, another essential preliminary to actual canal building has been receiving our earnest attention. I refer to the enlargement and improvement of our facilities for receiving and distributing the immense quantities of materials and supplies which will enter into the construction of the canal, as well as into the work referred to. The only really valuable instrument essential to canal building acquired by our government in its purchase from the French were the Panama railroad. But this instrument, like all the others whose wrecks cover the Isthmus, had been neglected and its equipment allowed to become obsolete.

Real Construction of Canal.

As a general principle, in which I think you will all concur, it is inadvisable to attempt to run a railroad before the tracks are laid. We are now working, however, six steam shovels in Culebra cut, which is the largest single factor in the construction of the canal, and have removed approximately 1,000,000 cubic yards of material. By this work we are accomplishing two things: First, we are putting the levels of the cut in proper condition for the installation of the largest number of machines which can be effectively operated; and, second, we are gathering data which will be useful in future estimates of the cost of canal construction. In the Culebra work 2,600 men are now employed. We are also building railway tracks and yards, and are dredging at both ends of the canal, so far as advisable until the question of type of canal is decided. It should be understood that all the work we have done is applicable to any type of canal.

The question of labor is a grave and perplexing one. We have advanced far enough to know that we can secure a sufficient supply of labor from the tropics, so far as numbers are concerned. The question of quality is a very different matter. Unless a much greater efficiency can be developed than is secured at present, we shall have to look elsewhere. Probably I can best convey to you a just estimate of the quality of this labor by relating an incident which came under the observation of Senator Millard during his visit on the Isthmus: Sitting on the deck of the steamer "Havana," he was watching the unloading of a heavy piece of machinery from the hold of the vessel. The tackle got caught in the rigging on the deck above; the foreman in charge of the gang of laborers sent one of them above to free the tackle. The laborer went to the place to which he was sent, and did what he was told to do. The foreman, paying no attention to him after he started on his errand, missed him a few minutes later, and, looking around for him, discovered him sitting peacefully at the spot to which he had been sent. "What are you doing there?" yelled the foreman. "You told me to come here, sah." "Well, why didn't you come back?" "You didn't tell me to, sah."

It is this class of labor that we are paying from 80 to 90 cents a day in gold, and out of which it is estimated we do not get more than 25 per cent of the efficiency of labor in the United States. This is the kind of labor to which we are compelled to apply the eight-hour law—that is, to aliens who know nothing of the law's existence until they arrive on the Isthmus. Such application will increase the labor cost of canal construction at least 25 per cent, and will add many millions unnecessarily to the total expenditure.

What interests, except those foolishly dreading the competition of an Isthmian canal, would put up money to delay and possibly defeat its construction? That there are interests of that kind is not a matter of suspicion or speculation, but of history. They have been fighting a canal for more than half a century, and they fought it successfully till Theodore Roosevelt, armed with his "big stick," appeared as its champion. From that moment their efforts have been powerless, but they have not yet discovered the fact. They are wasting their energies and their cash, for behind Theodore Roosevelt stand the American people in solid mass and with determined front, shouting as one man: "Give us a canal that will be adequate to meet the demands of the commerce of the world, and give it to us at the earliest possible moment." That, gentlemen, is the command which the commission, under the inspiring lead of the President, is obeying to the letter. We are building the "Roosevelt canal."

FRANKLIN ON MAIN LINE.

Venango County Capital to Get on the Direct Way of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

FRANKLIN, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—The official statement was made today that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has expended $75,000 for real estate in Franklin and will enter the city proper with its Buffalo & Allegheny division, which it proposes comes within a mile of the business section. The extension will necessitate the erection of a bridge across the Allegheny river.

Woman's Troubles Are Piling Up.

IRWIN, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—The home of Mrs. John Lewis was destroyed by fire this evening. The woman and her two children are now penniless and without shelter. Her husband is serving a term in the Western penitentiary for larceny and the recent United States grand jury sitting in Pittsburgh brought a true bill against him for counterfeiting.

Holds Dead Man Responsible.

MONONGAHELA, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—The jury inquiring into the explosion at the Hazel Kirk mine October 29, in which five men lost their lives, brought in a verdict at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon. They found that Superintendent John Hornickel was responsible by not using proper precautions in opening the stoppings which had been built to confine the fire in the mine.

Says They Burned Spite Barn.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Louis Bourg and his wife, Mary, were today charged with arson by Matthew Drobesh of Hackett, this county, who claims that the Bourgs on May 25 last set fire to his barn, which he had constructed in such a way that it shut off their view to the public road. Bourg and his wife secured bail.

JUDGE SHEDS TEARS WHEN SENTENCING A PREACHER

Pitiful Tale Told by Traveling Evangelist Melts Court—Holds Revival in County Jail.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MARION, O., Nov. 9.—John Martin, alias John Knowles, of Adrian, Mich., the traveling preacher charged with horse stealing, was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary by Judge B. G. Young today.

During the time Martin has been confined in jail he conducted religious services, converting a number of prisoners, among them being James Kane, the mysterious burglar who, after his conversion, revealed his identity by writing a letter to his wife and child in Chicago.

The preacher when sentenced told the judge he stole the horse and buggy in order to take his wife to the home of her people at Callery Junction, Pa. She was about to become a mother he said, and he was without money. The judge shed tears in passing sentence.

DEDICATE NEW HALL.

Catholic Total Abstinence Union Holds Interesting Exercises at Derry.

LATROBE, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—There was a large attendance at the rally and reception held last night by the Catholic Total Abstinence Union at Derry. The exercises were under the direction of the Rev. Father Conlin in the new parish hall, which was dedicated with interesting ceremonies.

It was also the anniversary of the founding of the order. Addresses were delivered by the Rev. J. G. Beane, Col. E. E. Robbins, Stephen Madden, Father Boyer and others.

GIVES LIFE FOR HER CHILD.

Mother Rushes on Track to Save Her Baby—She Is Dead and Little One Dying.

SALEM, O., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—At the Mill street grade crossing of the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railway, Leetonia, this morning, Mrs. James Goughan, 40 years old, was instantly killed while her little son, James, 4 years old, received injuries from which he will probably die. The boy was running ahead of his mother and was on the track as the west bound passenger train No. 6 approached. The mother ran and seized her child but both were struck.

Find Human Body in Ashes.

BEAVER, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Ten hours after fire had destroyed two box cars on a siding of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad at Smiths Ferry, the workmen who were cleaning away the debris this morning found the charred right half of the trunk of a human body. The theory is that the remains are part of the body of a tramp who had been sleeping in the car.

SINKING FUNDS TO BE USED IN BUYING BONDS

Commission Meets in Harrisburg and Examines Depositories and Their Bonds.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, PA., Nov. 9.—The board of revnue commissioners met at the auditor general's department today to examine the list of the state depositories and their bonds to cover state deposits.

At the close of the meeting the board issued a formal statement to the effect that in view of certain legal questions arising a resolution was adopted inviting Attorney General Carson to meet with the board. The attorney general will be in Harrisburg next week, when the board will meet.

A private meeting of the sinking fund commission was also held today, the purpose not being disclosed by the members. It is believed, however, that the board will buy all state bonds which are offered for sale. The last report of the sinking fund commission shows a balance of more than $4,000,000 in this fund.

HEROIC BOY SAVES MOTHER.

Rolls Her Unconscious Form from Blazing Barn, but Is Himself Badly Burned.

WILKES-BARRE, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Ben Dean, a 10-year-old boy, living near Wyalusing, last night saved the life of his mother at the risk of his own, although he was badly burned in doing so. The barn at the Dean farm caught fire and the boy and his mother, who were the only ones at home, rushed into the barn to save the stock.

Mrs. Dean, overcome by smoke, fell unconscious. The boy could not lift her or pull her but he managed, by rolling her body over and over, to get her to the door and then pull her out. She was badly burned about the head and chest and his arms, hands and legs were severely burned.

LACK OF WITNESSES ROBS CHARITY OF ITS BEQUESTS

Will of Mrs. Margaret A. Little, Leaving Large Sums for Education and Churches, Is Invalid.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 9.—Because her will was not witnessed, several bequests made by the late Mrs. Margaret A. Little of Washington, are inoperative.

The will was filed today and among the charitable bequests were $6,000 to Washington and Jefferson college; $5,000 to the Home and Foreign Missionary societies of the Second Presbyterian church of Washington, to be invested for 10 years, the principal then to be paid over; $1,000 to the Washington Young Men's Christian association and $1,000 to the Westminster Presbyterian church of Greensburg.

In addition the will provided, after bequeathing large amounts to relatives, that the residue of the estate be divided equally among Washington and Jefferson college, the Young Men's Christian association, the missionary societies, the Westminster church and the board of ministerial relief of the Presbyterian church.

According to law a will making charitable bequests must be witnessed. This was not discovered until the instrument was probated. The amounts intended for charity will be divided among the heirs of the estate, which is a large one.

COMMISSIONERS IN BAD FIX.

Order to Remove Bridge Means Jail If They Do and Prison If They Don't.

JEFFERSON, O., Nov. 9.—G. S. Harvey, S. T. Coughlin and A. D. Davis, county commissioners of Ashtabula county, were taken into custody today by United States Deputy Marshal Fanning of Cleveland on the charge of refusing to obey a recent order of the secretary of war that they remove a swinging bridge at Ashtabula harbor, held to be an obstruction to navigation.

Since the issuance of the order by the war department, taxpayers have sought and obtained an injunction from the circuit court ordering the commissioners to expend none of the public funds to have the bridge removed. The commissioners are thus placed in an unusual predicament. They will be taken to Cleveland to appear before the United States district court.

Starting a Boom for Huff.

NEW KENSINGTON, PA., Nov. 9.—At the election in Arnold last Tuesday George E. Moore had printed a large banner bearing the inscription, "Vote your choice for the next governor of Pennsylvania." He had also a supply of special ballots prepared, and every voter was requested to signify his choice. Every man of the 712 who cast a ballot for the state and county candidates voted for Congressman George F. Huff for governor.

CHARGES PARSON WITH THEFT

Preacher Confiscates Racy Yellow Backs and News Dealer Accuses Him of Larceny.

STROUDSBURG, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—W. D. Lamb, owner of a news stand and variety store at Delaware Water Gap, today appeared before Justice Groves and swore out a warrant for the arrest of the Rev. W. E. Coffman, pastor of the Delaware Water Gap Methodist Episcopal church, charging him with larceny.

Pastor Coffman, who has been leading a moral crusade, recently visited Lamb's store, and, it is alleged, confiscated three books, which he claimed were improper. He placed them in the hands of District Attorney Gearhart for his inspection. Gearhart today pronounced the books as decent as the average love story. Coffman returned the books and Lamb withdrew the warrant.

GREENSBURG MAY GET POST.

Barracks for Company of State Constabulary May Be Arranged for There.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 9.—Capt. John W. Borland of Grove City, of the state constabulary, is here to arrange for the establishment of a company of the mounted police. He has been in conference with Col. Edward E. Robbins and Postmaster R. A. Fulton Lyon relative to the site for barracks, and it is understood that he has recommended that Greensburg be selected as the seat of operations for one of the two companies which will be assigned to Western Pennsylvania.

The other company to be located in this end of the state will in all likelihood go to Dubois. Capt. Borland wants to secure the entire building for barracks. Fifty-five men and two officers will be assigned to each company, and each one will have a horse.

DEMOCRATS SHY ON LEGS.

Three Ohio Towns Elect Unterrified Mayors Who Have but Three Good Pins Among Them.

WHEELING, W. VA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—The strongly Republican Ohio counties of Martins Ferry, Bridgeport and Bellaire elected Democratic mayors last Tuesday, and the fact that there are but three sound legs among them is being commented upon.

Dr. J. M. Blackford of Martins Ferry has two sound legs, but Mayor Bresock of Bridgeport, has but one, while Mayor Kompart of Bellaire, lost both legs in an accident at the steel works.

Duel Is True to Life.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—In a wild west exhibition given by young boys today, Willie Bratchie, aged 12, received a large gash on his left arm, and before medical aid could be summoned he had almost bled to death. Bratchie and a companion engaged in a duel. An artery was severed.

RUMORS ABOUT POPE'S HEALTH CAUSE ALARM

Heart Trouble, Gout and Vatican Politics Break Him Down. Cannot Stand Fatigue.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—A Journal cable from Paris says: Dispatches from Rome has given rise to much disquietude regarding the health of Pope Pius X. His immediate entourage and the whole vatican have become greatly worried at evidences of a physical decline. It has been discovered that the pope has been suffering for several years from an affliction of the heart, which latterly has given his physicians much anxiety. His sufferings from gout, which has become chronic, have also lately become considerably aggravated.

The pope's closest advisers have cautioned him not to engage in fatiguing receptions such as that held recently in the vatican for the athletes of the great Catholic festival.

They have told him that his temperament is quite the opposite of the late Leo XIII., who was so well able to stand long fatigue. While Leo was inclined to be rather cold and completely self-contained, Pope Pius is of an emotional disposition, impressionable and easily agitated.

The adherents of the old papal policy of rigorously upholding the church's right to temporal power, opposed by the late Pope Leo and equally set aside by Pope Pius, are giving the pontiff considerable trouble in undermining his policy of maintaning the entente cordiale with the Italian government. These cares and worries, added to his natural physical failings, are said to be surely undermining his health.

Man's Teeth Are Poisonous.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Nov. 9.—Conductor J. W. Welsh, a well-known Baltimore & Ohio railroad passenger conductor, is in a serious condition here as a result of a slight wound received several days ago while ejecting a man from his train. When Conductor Welsh put the man off, the latter's teeth struck Welsh's hand, making a slight abrasion. Blood poison has set in.

Mammoth Sign Is Finished.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—The Enamel Iron works has just completed an iron sign for the American Sewer Pipe works at Barberton, O., which is said to be the largest enameled iron sign in America. It is 303 feet long, seven feet wide and weighs two and one-half tons.

Wife Is Given Divorce.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—A decree was handed down here today granting Mrs. Georgianna McClurg Rush a divorce on the ground of infidelity, from her husband, Charles H. Rush, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Rush were married in Pittsburgh, September 7, 1898. Mr. Rush has been in the hotel business in Uniontown and Connellsville.

BIG MEETING BY W. U. P. STUDENTS

Five Hundred Undergraduates Chant Songs to Team at Practice at Exposition Park.

CAPT. THOMPSON IS PLEASED

W. U. P. undergraduates never had such an enthusiastic mass meeting, for the purpose of encouraging any athletic team, as that of yesterday afternoon at Kenyon hall, Allegheny, when the high dignitaries of the university spoke words of encouragement to the students on the eve of the renewal of football relations with Washington and Jefferson.

Over 500 students gathered in the hall. They listened to inspiring speeches and they sang the college anthem, and at the conclusion of these ceremonies they formed a line of march and wended their way to Exposition park, where they sang, encouraging the team at practice.

Each department had representatives at the meeting. Among those who spoke were Chancellor McCormick, Dr. Ingram, representing the faculty; R. M. Calvert and Dr. Riddle. Chancellor McCormick after expressing his gratitude at the large turnout of students, spoke for clean methods on the gridiron. Another speaker urged that the W. U. P. students show every courtesy to the W. and J. team and partisans Saturday.

The W. U. P. team had a light practice yesterday. Capt. Thompson last night said it was one of the most satisfactory practices of the year. Griggs and Bolsseau were at quarterback and ran the team well. Perry, the end, will be out for practice today. He is the only man on the hospital list.

While there is interest in the game tomorrow no bets of any larger proportions have been recorded. No. W. and J. money has as yet come from Washington.

WASH.-JEFF. TEAM IS TRAINING IN THE COUNTRY

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Back in the country southwest of Washington, 10 miles away, is quartered the Washington and Jefferson football squad. Coach Pickarski took the team out of town yesterday in order to give the men a change of scene and a complete rest before the contest Saturday with W. U. P. No reports are being sent out from the rural training quarters, but all the men were in fine fettle when they left Washington. The program mapped out by Coach Pickarski before the team left consisted of daily signal practice, long tramps through the country with punting, kicking, skirt and end running after light work simply to keep the players in condition. The team will return to Washington tomorrow evening.

PITCHER LEW SCHETTLER IS WANTED BY MANY CLUBS.

Lew Schettler, the local pitcher who made such a showing with Sharon last summer that the Chicago Nationals picked him up, would have little trouble in securing a good job next year, if the big leaguers turn him lose. Jimmy Casey wants him to go to the Eastern league with him. Yesterday Schettler received three letters: Toledo, Sioux City and Savannah, respectively, asking for his terms.

Jack Young of New Castle will meet Bobby Hughes of Youngstown in the 10-round semi-final, and Young Zahniser of New Castle and Frank Holmes of Youngstown will meet in a six-round bout. Murphy is training at Youngstown and Dunn in New Castle.

Foursomes Are Extended.

On account of the muddy condition of the grounds at the Pittsburgh Field club, which prevented many of the women from entering in the contest for the George McPherson cup on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the competition has been extended until Saturday, when those who failed to enter or complete the play will have another chance. The contest is a mixed foursome.

Grove City Reserves Defeated.

GROVE CITY, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—The New Castle High school team defeated the Grove City College Reserves in a pretty contest today, 6 to 5. Each team made one touchdown, but Grove City was unable to kick goal. The field was muddy.

In a South Pittsburgh league match last night, on the Southern alleys, the Southern swamped the Senators for all three games. The Southern team ran up some good 800 scores and were never in danger. A remarkable feature was the number of players that participated, the Senators using as many as nine. Yet with all their reserve force they could not defeat the proud Southerns. Hirsch was the bone bowler, having high score and best average. Scores:

Last night on the Club alleys the Central league had another successful tournament. Good scores, as a rule, were made by the different teams. The Costas again carried off the honors, rolling two fine 900 scores to start with, but unfortunately could not keep up the pace and fell by the wayside in the last game. Jack started off like a house a-fire in the first game, chalking up 236, but the last game, no doubt, will be treasured in his memory for some time to come. No team was successful in winning all three games. The Dinning Favorites caught the string. Field club napping for one game. The best individual bowling was by Bell of the Field club, who had high score of 217 and best average of 191 1-3. Billet of the American Bridge club also put up a very fine average. BILL KNOX SKIRTS END EASILY; IS NOT CAUGHT

Work of Allegheny Boy Pleases Yale Coaches—Princeton Sends for Many Tickets.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 9.—Princeton and Yale have no quarrel this year, both teams having received their respective eligibility lists of players. Neither side has any protest, and the era of good feeling continues. Princeton has enough confidence in the Tiger eleven to have claimed 7,500 seats for the game, a somewhat larger proportion than usual. Taking their tip from the coaches, the Yale students are quietly confident.

The varsity tried the new formations against the scrubs, smothering the latter. The Yale coaches are satisfied with the team, and have no fear now of a slump. But, although the varsity scored several times in each of the two halves played, the scrubs scored once. Knox was again the halfback who skirted the ends and was not caught. This style of attack was welcomed by the coaches inasmuch as it is what it is expected that Brown will attempt on Saturday.

Hoyt, for the first time since early October, played 10 minutes at halfback. He is Yale's best punter, but his injured knee must be favored yet.

COUDERSPORT DROPPED FROM THE INTER-STATE

DUBOIS, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—The officers and directors of the Interstate Baseball league had their annual meeting at Kane today. Coudersport was dropped from the league. It is agreeable to the other towns—Erie, Bradford, Olean, Dubois and Kane—to increase the number of teams to eight for next season. Applications for franchises were received from Warren, Oil City, Punxsutawney, Jamestown and Hornellsville. As only three can be admitted, they will be decided upon at the schedule meeting in January.

The official batting averages of the South Atlantic league show that Cobb of the Augusta club led the league with the high average of .326. Bob Spade, the former Kent (O.) pitcher and outfielder, hit at .295. Oyler, a brother of the former W. and J. boy who led the league last year, being the only .300 hitter, batted at .225 the closing season. Chip Hanford, the Youngstown catcher, hit at .187. Hanford was sixth among the catchers in fielding. Jim Fox, formerly of Wheeling, who played first for Macon, led the first sackers with the mark of .993. Oyler was second among the shortstops, his average being .922. Pender of Kent, O., who hit at .232, was third in the first base column.

Zion Council Second Loses.

Lafayette A. C. club of the South Side, Jr. league, at Zion institute last night, defeated the Zion Council second, 21 to 17. The score favored Lafayette in the first half, 9 to 8. In the second half Zion council placed Nieman of the first team in the game. The lineup:

Lafayette—21.		Zion Council II.—17.
Townsend	F.	Breman
Price	F.	Alter
Griffith	C.	Leveson
Prosser	G.	Margolis
McGlenn	G.	Shintzer

Field goals—Price (5), Griffith (3), Prosser (2), Peterson (1), Breman (3), Leveson (2), Nieman (3). Foul goals—Griffith (3), Breman (1). Referee—Oliver. Subs—Peterson for McGlenn; Nieman for Margolis.

Garfields Lose at Home.

The 100-ball match pool game between the Crescents of Wilkinsburg and the Garfields at the Garfields' room, 953 Penn avenue, last night, was won by the Crescents by the score of 100 to 82. This makes one game each, as Garfield defeated the Crescents last week, 100 to 96. Scores:

Garfield—		Crescent—
Will	20	Hill	37
Birch	40	Cronin	30
Weber	24	Malloy	37
Totals	84	Totals	104

Scratches—Garfield (12). Crescents (4). Referee—Johnson.

New Players for Lyceum.

The new players showed up for practice with the Lyceum eleven at Pittsburgh college field last night. They are Quarterback Quartz, formerly with Pastimes, and A. C. Roe, formerly of the Sycamores. The practice last night was the final previous to the game with the Monaco Y. M. C. A. team at the Pittsburgh college grounds Saturday. Capt. McInerney will play left of Bowman, the new guard, and with Daily, the big guard at the other end, Lyceum will have a formidable line.

Fred Beell Throws Jim Parr.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Fred Beell of Wisconsin tonight defeated Jim Parr, the English wrestler, in two straight falls. Time, 27½ and 8 minutes.

AMONG THE BOXERS.

Jimmy Dunn is in fine shape to meet Tommy Murphy at South Sharon next Monday.

Mull Bowser or his manager is requested to call at William Walker's billiard academy between 3 and 5 o'clock today.

On November 17 Gus Gardner and Mike Donovan will meet in the ring at Buffalo, and George Memsic and Rolf Turner at Denver.

Jimmy Britt is in Indianapolis, and Battling Nelson has reached Cincinnati. Both are traveling with variety shows and doing boxing turns.

At Erie on Wednesday Bert Wing of Cleveland and Bert Welsh of Erie fought 15 rounds to a draw. The fight was one of the fastest ever seen in Erie.

Willie Fitzgerald and Fred Landers are scheduled to meet in a 20-round bout before the Colona club in California tonight. Ed Gravey will be the referee.

It is probable that Manager Tom McCarey will declare off the proposed battle between Jack O'Brien and Jack Twin Sullivan, which is scheduled for November 28 at the Pacific Athletic club.—Los Angeles Herald.

At Los Angeles tonight Eddie Hanlan and Aurelia Herrera will meet in a 20-round contest. The fight was postponed from last Friday because Herrera developed a case of grippe. Hanlan is a 10 to 9 favorite.

Jack Bruce of Pittsburgh and Jimmy Hanlon of Washington, Pa., were matched last night to box 10 rounds at 150 pounds, weigh in at 8 o'clock on the day of contest, at Bellevernon, Pa. The date has not yet been selected.

The deposit of Kid Tyler at this office to meet any 124-pound boxer will be taken down this evening if it is not covered in the meantime. The manager of Tyler will take his man to California if he cannot get on a match here.

Frank Morgan, the clever Pittsburgh welterweight, will be seen in action soon. Morgan has several matches in view and will begin training today. Morgan is one of the most popular boxers in this section. His past performances in the ring in this city have pleased all who have seen him in action. He is not only clever, but a good puncher as well, as he has shown by some of his quick knockouts. Morgan has been taking men on at catch weights all along. In every fight last winter he was outweighed. Hereafter he will box in his own class, 128 to 142 pounds, and will meet any white man in the country at that weight. Morgan is being assisted by Mike Madden and Patsy Brannigan, who will meet anyone their weight.

BOWLING NOTES.

Fitzharris, the crack bowler of Tarentum, has joined the North Side team and will be eligible to bowl on November 18.

Silber, Smith, Cook and Griffith are requested to be at Sam Heimbuecher's at 4:45 o'clock this afternoon to get the 5 o'clock train for Waynesburg.

The Howards will bowl the Arsenals on Monday on the Club alleys, and would like to know what is the matter with the amateur bowling teams, as they cannot get any games. Howard players are Perry, Mike, Koerner, Alberts, White and Smith.

HANLEY REBELS AND THE COACHES YIELD

Harvard Tries to Keep Back Fullback, but "Honeys Him Up" When He Balks.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 9.—The efforts of the Harvard football coaches to discipline Hanley and thus prevent him from getting conceited, came within an ace today of being detrimental to Harvard's interest as the big fullback rebelled and threatened to throw up the sponge for keeps if the coaches did not come down off their high horse. Hanley won his point, and harmony was finally restored in the Crimson camp.

In 1903 and 1904 Hanley got a raw deal from the coaches who had charge of the back field candidates. This year he has suffered a similar fate, but of late injuries to the regular fullbacks and substitutes have forced the coaches to go down the line in search of more material. Hanley showed his card by playing a phenomenal game for the second eleven, and Reid took him over to the varsity Monday. On Tuesday he twisted his ankle slightly, but still desired to continue playing. It was another brilliant opportunity for the coaches to stuff off the young giant, and they did so. The climax was finally reached last night when the list of those going to Pennsylvania was published. In this list were included the lame, the halt and the blind, as it were, but Hanley was not thought of. Rumors went around Cambridge that Hanley had thrown up the job, and when these reached the coaches they got down to business with a rush, and this morning assured Hanley that it was all a mistake. Hanley is no child, and he knows a few things. Reluctantly he swallowed the pill, and said he would accompany the squad.

The varsity squad left Cambridge today for Philadelphia after going through light scrimmage work on Soldiers' field.

Indians.

CARLISLE, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—This afternoon's practice for the Carlisle Indian football squad was the last before the game against West Point on Saturday and Coaches Woodruff and Kinney were careful not to work the men hard enough to undo their healing hurts. Carlisle's coaches look forward to victory notwithstanding the cadets' superior weight. Exendine, right tackle, will hardly be able to play owing to bruises received in the Harvard game. The redskin lineup will probably be: Left end, Wahoo; left tackle, Capt. Bowser; left guard, Dillon; center, Scott; right guard, Larocque; right tackle, Roy; right end, Lubo; quarterback, Mt. Pleasant; left halfback, Sheldon; right halfback, Archiquette; fullback, DuBois. Archie Libbey, the substitute quarterback, ran the first Indian eleven through their signals this afternoon more easily and rapidly than they have done this year.

TWO GAMES ARE SCHEDULED IN THE SCHOOL LEAGUE

Two games are on the card in the League of Secondary schools today. The Sewickley High school will play Allegheny High school on the W. U. P. grounds and the Wilkinsburg High school will play the Allegheny Preps at Wilkinsburg. Allegheny High school is now leading the league, but if it loses today and the Preps win there will be a tie. Next Friday the two teams will play probably at Millvale.

Joe Harter, the 168-pound guard on the Allegheny High school team, is laid up with blood poisoning in the hand. One of the backfield men will take his position.

The Swissvale high school wants a game at home this afternoon. Any local school team call 477 Wilkins, between 11:30 and 12 o'clock.

There will be a meeting of the captains of the teams in the Interscholastic Hockey league at The Gazette office Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Duquesne Shy One Point.

Before a crowd of several hundred people, the Zionist council first team defeated the Duquesne A. C. of Duquesne last night 15 to 14. The Zionist council will line up this evening against the Irwin A. C. at Irwin. Line-up of game last night:

Council—15.		Duquesne—14.
J. Left	Forward	Davis
Fisher	Forward	Delursby
Raphael	Center	Bissel
Resmel	Guard	Hall
Moses	Guard	Bond

Former Captain Works With Men on Osborne Field—Practice Is for Fair.

TENNEY IS AT QUARTER

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 9.—The gates were thrown open at Osborne field this afternoon and over 500 undergraduates trooped down in a procession to encourage the team by their presence and lusty cheering. During the open part of the practice today the squad was divided into small bunches and each coach took his men off to a different part of the field where he could watch all their actions carefully.

WORK GROWING FAST IN STATE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.

The Mothers' congress of the state began its seventh annual convention in this city today. The meetings were held in the First Baptist church, Seventeenth and Sansom streets. Mrs. Howard W. L. Lippincott, state president, presided at both sessions and read her annual address in the evening. It was hoped that Mayor Weaver would attend the evening session and make an address. Preparations had been made to give the mayor a reception. The mothers were disappointed, for the mayor left this afternoon for Atlantic City to take a little rest after the arduous labors of the campaign.

The morning session today was given up to getting the meeting organized, appointing committees and arranging the program for the last two days of the convention. In the afternoon the reports of officers and committees were read and received. The reports show that the congress is growing and its influence spreading throughout the state. The greatest interest has been manifested in the child labor laws and that question is one of those that will demand a great deal of the time of the convention.

Those who will read papers and their subjects are: Dr. E. B. Bryan, president of Franklin college, Franklin, Ill., on "Child Study;" Dr. John Stuart White, ex-president of Boston Latin school, now principal of Phillip Brooks' school, Philadelphia, on "Environment and Heredity;" Miss Lillie Williams, of Trenton, N. J., "Home and School," and the allied subject, "Mother and Teacher;" "Great Literature As Helps in Character Building," by Miss Herman H. Birney of Philadelphia. Mrs. Annie R. Ramsey and Miss Burd will talk of the juvenile court and probation work in this city.

Mrs. Lippincott having declared that she will not accept a re-election as state president, the election of officers has become an important feature of the convention. The election will be held tomorrow.

Saturday morning Mrs. Frederick Schiff, president of the National association, will address the convention on the Mormon question, and its relation to the rearing and training of the children of the west for citizenship.

WORKS IN MANY FIELDS.

Pittsburgh Branch of the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary Will Hold Annual Session in Bellefield.

The annual meeting of the Pittsburgh branch of the Woman's auxiliary to the board of missions of the Protestant Episcopal church will be held today in the church of the Ascension, Neville street and Ellsworth avenue, Bellefield. The services will begin at 10 o'clock, when the Rev. John Mann of Brazil will be the speaker. Miss Sallie Stuart of Alexandria, Va., will speak at the afternoon session. John Ward of New York, corresponding secretary of the board of missions, and Charles Y. Vickrey of New York will be the speakers at the night session, which opens at 8 o'clock.

The society is a national organization and has headquarters in New York. Miss Julia C. Emery is president of the governing board and there are diocesan and parochial branches. Each diocesan branch promises to contribute a certain amount each year for joint work. Last year the Pittsburgh branch pledged $1,200, which was raised by the parish branches. This money was sent to Miss Emery to distribute in the mission fields of Alaska, Mexico, India, Africa, China, Brazil and to negro missions.

Another feature of the auxiliary is the united offering made every three years at the general convention. The first offering, 12 years ago, amounted to a few thousand dollars, while the last one, made in Boston in October, 1904, amounted to $150,000. The money is used for the support of workers in this country and foreign missionary fields.

TELLS OF CONVENTION.

Director Anderson Enlightens Chamber of Commerce on Freight Rate Row in Chicago.

At a meeting of the chamber of commerce yesterday Director George Anderson presided in the absence of President John Eaton, and gave a report on the recent interstate commerce law convention in Chicago. He said every delegate was expected to sign an indorsement of President Roosevelt's freight-rate regulation plan, and that he, together with 450 other delegates, refused to commit themselves at this time and started a rump convention. A. P. Burchfield, the other local delegate, signed the indorsement with the option of the right to change, and he sat through the original convention.

The elections reform committee of Pennsylvania asked for the support of the chamber in an effort to have the election laws revised. The communication was referred to the legislative committee. It was decided to send two delegates to both the rivers and harbors convention to be held in Cairo, Ill., beginning November 15, and to the national convention of the same organization to be held in Chicago in January.

MRS. HUBBARD SAFE, AND REPORTS SUCCESS

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard, Jr., who has been exploring in Labrador, and for whose safety fears were entertained, today reported her successful completion of the expedition. The following telegram signed by her and dated yesterday at Chateau bay, Quebec, was received today by Herbert L. Bridgman, of Brooklyn: "Successful. Will return by the steamer King Edward."

"Tom, Dick and Harry."

"Tom, Dick and Harry," the new musical comedy which will introduce Messrs. Bickel, Watson and Wrothe, among the foremost trio of comedians now before the public, will be the next offering at the Alvin. "Tom, Dick and Harry" is one hodge-podge of clean-cut and wholesome mirth. It is a show that will create an impression anywhere because of the fact that it is built on original and unique lines.

Naturalists' Club to Meet.

The meeting of the Andrew Carnegie Naturalists' club will be held in the botany school at 2 p. m., tomorrow, when classes will be organized and the class work started. Every member is requested to bring an essay. The committee appointed to secure a hall in which to hold the meeting for the awarding of prizes will report.

ONE house seemed almost too small to hold all the debutante bouquets received by Miss Helen Ayers yesterday, on the occasion of her formal coming out. She was introduced at a large tea given by her mother, Mrs. Samuel Ayers, at her residence in Morewood avenue, Shadyside, from 3 until 6 o'clock. Mrs. Ayers and her daughter received together, assisted by Mrs. James Carr, Mrs. Albert C. McCallam, Mrs. William S. Huselton, Mrs. Wesley G. Carr, Mrs. Robert Wilson Patterson, Mrs. Horace Bravo, Mrs. William P. De Armitt, Mrs. William D. Hamilton, Mrs. Edwin B. Scull, Mrs. William S. Foster, Mrs. William Robinson, Mrs. J. J. Miller, Miss Nellie McCallam, Miss May McCallam, Mrs. Ralph Longnecker, Mrs. William Boyd, Mrs. Wallace Delemater, Mrs. William W. Wishart, Mrs. James Humbird, Mrs. W. S. Arter, Miss Eleanor Humbird, Miss Anica Humbird, Miss Emma Humbird, Miss Pauline Dilworth, Miss Hester Singer, Miss Elizabeth Hamilton, Miss Katherine Jennings, Miss Mary Jennings, Miss Ruth Walker, Miss Helen Witherow, Miss Evelyn Black, Miss Martha Chambers, Miss Josephine E. McConway, Miss Rachel McClintock, Miss Emily C. Lyon, Miss Martha Heron, Miss Georgia Neale Heard, Miss Harriet W. Balken, Miss Mary Flinn, Miss Frances Huselton, Miss Annabelle W. Baggaley, Miss Mary Rolfe, Miss Agate Brown, Miss Marion Clapp, Mrs. Charles H. Curry and Mrs. William B. Boggess, the last two of whom are brides of the summer.

The bouquets received by Miss Ayers filled every available space in the drawing room and overflowed into the hall, where they were fastened to the smilax-trimmed banisters and occupied places on the mantel, and on the fret work above the doors. The centerpiece on the dining room table was of oncidium orchids with sprays of asparagus springerii radiating from it over the white embroidered cloth. The small electric globes were shaded in yellow and asparagus springerii hung over and from the red opalescent shade. The piano in the drawing room was banked with small clusters of violets, while a basket of oncidium orchids and lilies of the valley, with violets tied to the handle, was at one end and a hamper filled with white chrysanthemums at the other. A large green basket of pink roses hung from the center of the mantel directly at the side of which were arranged all shades and colors of chrysanthemums and roses, while the shelf was banked with a variety of other small blooms. American beauty roses almost covered the frame of one large door and chrysanthemums of another, while on the tall lamp was fastened a cluster of red roses and standing about the room were baskets of various other blossoms, a particularly dainty one being filled with tiny Bon Selene roses.

Announcement Causes Surprise.

The announcement yesterday of the marriage of Miss Marie Ellison Hazlett to James Madison Garrison, Jr., was received in East End social circles with some little surprise. The wedding took place last summer and, owing to the serious illness of the bride's father, the young couple kept their secret carefully guarded until a few days ago. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hazlett of Emerson street. She was educated at Miss Thurston's school and at the Pennsylvania College for Women, where she completed a course in music which placed her among the talented pianists of the city. The groom is a son of J. M. Garrison, a prominent attorney of Pittsburgh, and is connected with the Western Insurance Company of this city. Both he and his bride are members of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. They have announced at-home days after November 15 in the Marigold apartments, Brushton avenue and Tioga street.

Visitor Leaves Today.

Miss Fagan of Philadelphia, who has been visiting Mrs. Guilliford B. Sweeney of South Negley avenue, will leave for her home today. She was guest of honor at a delightfully informal tea given yesterday afternoon given by Mrs. James Wellington Cowright at her home in Baum street. The hostess and her guest of honor, receiving together, were assisted by Mrs. Sweeney, Mrs. Clarence Burleigh, Mrs. Adolphus Edward Nieman, Mrs. Thomas E. Jones, Mrs. William Bennett Moore, Mrs. John P. Ramsey, Mrs. Robert Perres, Mrs. A. E. Masten, Miss Elizabeth Hallis, Miss Eva Brown, Miss Martha Hagan and Miss Mary Nimick. Although the affair was informal it was quite large and beautifully appointed. American beauty roses were effectively arranged in the drawing room, while green and white were the colors carried out with chrysanthemums and foliage in the dining room.

Has Guest from Ireland.

Miss Mabel Dwyer of Cork, Ireland, a cousin of Katherine Cecil Thurston, the authoress, shared honors with Mrs. William D. Phelan, a June bride, at Mrs. A. X. Phelan's reception yesterday afternoon. The entertainment was conducted at the home of the hostess in Bartlett street, Squirrel Hill, from 3 until 5 o'clock, with a dinner for the aids and an equal number of men and a dance for the young people in the evening. Mrs. Phelan appeared in a toilette of pale pink chiffon, Mrs. William Phelan wore her wedding dress and Miss Dwyer was in white satin. In the line of assistants were Mrs. R. W. Stewart, with whom Miss Dwyer is spending the winter; Mrs. Henry Dallmeyer, Jr., Mrs. Eugene S. Reilly, Miss Mary Madden, Miss Katherine Vilsack, Miss Collette Phelan, and Mrs. John Walsh.

Reception for Pastor and Wife.

The officers of the Shadyside Presbyterian church gave a very enjoyable reception last evening in honor of their new pastor, the Rev. Dr. J. Kinsey Smith, and Mrs. Smith. The chapel and the parlors were prettily decorated for the occasion in poinsettia and palms. The music of a stringed orchestra was a feature of the evening and a buffet supper was served. The officers, who, with their wives, received with Dr. and Mrs. Smith, are William Scott, Ogden M. Edwards, Thomas R. Robinson, Charles L. Taylor, Lawrence Dilworth, George A. Berry, Henry A. Breed, Robert Pitcairn, Wilson A. Shaw, William Ralston Crabbe, Samuel L. Seymour, William E. Hallock and Henry C. Rughman.

School Friend Will Receive.

Miss Durant of Flint, Mich., a school friend of Miss Annabelle Whitney Baggaley, will receive with Miss Baggaley and her mother, Mrs. Ralph Baggaley, at the tea the latter will give next Tuesday to introduce her daughter. The hours are from 4 until 6 o'clock, and the aids for the afternoon will be Miss Helen Ayers, Miss Josephine E. McConway, Miss Helen Barnhart of Grand Rapids, Mich., Miss Anica Humbird, Miss Elizabeth Eaton, Mrs. Charles Curry, Mrs. William B. Boggess, Mrs. John Fremont Steel, Mrs. Charles B. McLean, Miss Marian Mellon, Mrs. Helen Rook Carroll, Mrs. Alexander Rook Carroll, Mrs. David King Irwin and Mrs. Charles Alexander Rook.

Dinner for Bridal Party.

Mrs. J. A. Davidson of Kincaid street gave a prettily appointed dinner of eight covers last Friday evening in honor of Miss Stevenson and James G. Blaine McAuley, whose marriage will be an event of next week. The wedding will take place on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Stevenson, in Edgerton avenue, with the Rev. A. R. Van Fossen, pastor of the East End Presbyterian church, as officiant. Miss Ethel McAuley will be maid of honor and the bridal party will be completed by Chester Hull as best man. The couple will live in Cable place, Oakland, at the conclusion of a wedding trip.

Mrs. McCoy's Tea.

From 3 o'clock until 5 yesterday afternoon Mrs. George L. McCoy of Baum street, received her friends in honor of Mrs. John Dalzell of Washington, D. C. Tea and chocolate were poured by Mrs. William B. Rodgers, Mrs. William Rittenhouse Kuhn, Mrs. Murry A. Verner and Mrs. John Jennings Brooks, while a number of other friends assisted informally through the different rooms. The tea table had an attractive centerpiece of pink roses and the same flowers were used in the small drawing room with white chrysanthemums in the larger apartment.

Miss Elkins Has Guests.

Miss Cook of Norfolk, Va., and Miss Greenfield of Montclair, N. J., arrived in Pittsburgh last evening to be the house guests of Miss Katherine Elkins over her wedding to Albert Curry next Wednesday evening. Mrs. William L. Elkins of Philadelphia, is expected on Monday, to be with Mrs. John P. Knable, a sister of the bride-elect, at her home in Ellsworth avenue until after the wedding. It is to be very quiet as the Elkins connection is in deep mourning.

Finley-O'Neil Nuptials.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Prof. D. S. O'Neil of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Emma Finley of Uniontown were married at noon today at St. John's Catholic church by Father C. P. Keams. After a wedding luncheon Prof. and Mrs. O'Neil left to spend the winter in California. They will live on the Pacific coast. The bride's maiden name was Mosier and she is a member of a well-known Fayette county family.

Will Produce a Cantata.

Arrangements have been made to produce the cantata, "King Rudeless in No Manners Land," in Homestead Carnegie Music hall next Thursday and Friday evenings. The principal parts will be taken by Harry Van Horn, John P. Jones, William McDermitt, J. J. Sullivan, L. L. Cunningham, D. L. Orr, Emma Summergill, Nellie B. Jesson and Sarah Fisher. A feature will be the chorus and drill of 100 children.

THE CLUBS

Good Work of Crittenden Home.

A large number of people attended the annual reception at the Florence Crittenden home in Center avenue, Herron Hill, yesterday, many leaving substantial donations of money, provisions and household supplies. Not the least acceptable were the donations received from a number of the girls who at some time have been residents in the home, many of them forcing a $5 or $6 bill into the hands of the president as their contribution to the institution which provided them with a home when they needed it. The reception continued through the afternoon and evening, and addresses were made by the president, the Rev. D. C. Martin, who gave a history of the home; Mrs. Bregz, a deaconess, now working in the Jewish mission with Mr. Ruben; Mrs. Ruben and also Mrs. Morrison, whose work is in connection with the prisons and the workhouse, meeting the women when they leave those places and finding some temporary home or work for them. Miss Martin and Miss Kyle sang, accompanied by Harry Stratton, the organist in the East Liberty Presbyterian church. The visitors to the home were received by the officers assisted by Mrs. Martin, Mrs. S. S. Gilson, Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Van Meter. The Florence Crittenden Home and Rescue association, which was organized 17 years ago, is established in the old Passavant home in Center avenue. It has a debt of $4,000 on the house, having been able this past year only to pay the interest. An attempt was made for state appropriation, which failed. The donations received yesterday included table linens and ginghams from Mrs. Thomas Mellon, carpets from Kaufmanns and Pickerings, supplies from Hornes and many other household goods from firms and individuals.

Meeting of Officers and Chairmen.

A meeting of the state officers of the Pennsylvania State Society of Colonial Dames of America, and the chairmen of the various county committees will open this morning at 10 o'clock in the Twentieth Century club house. The program for the day will include an address of welcome by Mrs. William T. Wallace, chairman of the Allegheny county committee, followed at noon by a reception given for the visiting dames by the Allegheny county committee, when Miss Julia Morgan Harding will make an address. A luncheon for the colonial dames will be served at 1 o'clock in the club house. At 3 a reception will be conducted in the block house by the directors of the Allegheny County Daughters of the American Revolution, followed by a trolley ride through the East End. In the evening the visiting dames will be guests at the Pittsburgh orchestra concert, and on Saturday morning the eastern women will return to their homes. The decorations in the Twentieth Century club house today will consist of yellow chrysanthemums with blue ribbons, the colors of the Colonial Dames being buff and blue. Mrs. Charles C. Harrison, the first vice president, will preside, since the president, Mrs. A. J. Cassatt, will not be able to attend.

Sunday Laws of the United States.

"The Sunday Laws of the United States" was the unusual subject presented at the meeting of the Thursday Afternoon club of Wilkinsburg yesterday afternoon. Only three states were found to have no Sunday laws whatever, Arizona, California and Idaho. Mrs. Walter M. Bickley had made a comprehensive study of the laws of the various states of the union for the benefit of the club, and divided the states into five groups: First—Those states whose laws are framed according to the model of Charles II.; second, those states whose laws contain a general prohibitory statute. Of those there are 18, Pennsylvania being one; third, those states whose prohibitory laws are materially weakened by many exceptions, of which there are 13; fourth, those states whose laws are inherently weak and limited, of which there are five; and fifth, those states which have no Sabbath laws at all. The program presented yesterday included also a paper on "Early History of Canada," presented by Mrs. J. S. Sloan. Miss Caroline Patterson gave an enjoyable book review taking up "The Prospector," by Roy Conner, for criticism. The club was entertained by Mrs. R. W. Allison and Mrs. Curtis A. Graham in Mrs. Allison's home in Wood street.

Study of Gothic Cathedrals.

Dr. G. W. Allyn delivered an illustrated lecture last evening in the auditorium of the Martin school, his subject being "Gothic Cathedrals of England." He has made a special study of this subject and spent several months in England making the collection of photographs which were exhibited in this lecture. The views include both interior and exterior and comprise a wide range, beginning with the pre-Norman period and extending down through the centuries. The more prominent cathedrals mentioned were Lincoln, Winchester, Peterborough, York, Ely, Durham, St. Cross, Salisbury and Westminster.

Soho Women Meet.

The second of the fortnightly women's meetings in the Soho settlement house was held yesterday afternoon with a good attendance. Interesting talks were given by Mrs. Alfred Longmore of the board of managers of the Soho bath; Mrs. George Porter, chairman of the Soho settlement committee, and Mrs. John Cowley of Allegheny. Mrs. Cowley told of the mothers' meeting conducted in connection with the vacation schools and summer playgrounds in Allegheny.

Initial Matinee a Success.

The first matinee of the Alliance Francaise held this season was a great success. It took place yesterday afternoon in the Twentieth Century club rooms. There were French recitations and songs by Miss Irma Nachod. After the program the members remained for French conversation and tea.

Sewickley Needlework Ingathering.

The annual ingathering of the needlework guild of the Sewickley Presbyterian church was held in the church parlors yesterday afternoon. A large variety of articles had been contributed and will be distributed among the poor and in the hospitals in Pittsburgh.

Will Wed Army Officer.

GREENVILLE, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Cards have been issued by Mrs. Nellie Robinson of Mercer for the marriage of her daughter, Miss Mary Robinson, to Lieut. William Blaine of the United States army, Wednesday, November 15. Miss Robinson, prominent socially in Mercer and Pittsburgh, is a Wilson girl and a niece of the late Henry Robinson, disbursing clerk of the national house of representatives.

Mrs. Bakewell's Tea Postponed.

As Mrs. Thomas W. Bakewell is recovering from an attack of typhoid fever she has postponed the tea which she was to have given on Wednesday until later in the winter. The affair was planned to introduce Miss Euphemia Bakewell, who is with her mother in New York city. They will not be home until Mrs. Bakewell is able to travel.

Coming Social Events.

Mrs. Albert A. Horne of Beach avenue, Allegheny, has cards out for a buffet luncheon from 1 o'clock until 3 on the afternoon of Friday, November 17.

Mrs. William Steinmeyer of Wallingford street, Shadyside, will give a tea on Saturday afternoon, December 2, to introduce her daughter, Miss Madeline Steinmeyer.

Mrs. Adolphus Edward Nieman of Stratford avenue, will issue cards shortly for a reception on the afternoon of Wednesday, November 22, to meet Mrs. Charles A. E. Succop, who was Miss Ethel Craig before her marriage a short time ago.

Notes of Society.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCrea of Ellsworth avenue gave a small and informal dinner last evening.

Mrs. Frank Alden of Sewickley gave the first in a series of luncheons yesterday afternoon. Covers were laid for 10. The afternoon was spent at fancy work.

The Misses Minnie and Elizabeth Anderson of Sewickley gave the first in a series of bridge parties at their home yesterday afternoon. The second will be given this afternoon.

Mrs. John C. Slack of Shields gave a subscription concert at her home last evening, the first in a series of six which she will give during the winter. The musical numbers were given by the Von Kunits quartet and Mrs. Lawrence Litchfield of the East End. There were 175 guests, principally from the valley.

TEASDALE DIVORCE SUIT IS COMPROMISED OUT OF COURT

Owing to Nature of Charges It Was Decided Wiser Not to Air the Case—Mrs. Teasdale Is Living in Pittsburgh.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 9.—Attorneys on both sides in the Teasdale divorce suit effected an agreement as to alimony today and the personal affairs of the principals in the suit will not be aired in court.

The case was called before Judge S. W. Smith this morning. Owing to the nature of the charges made by William Teasdale in his petition and by Carrie Haas Teasdale in her cross-petition, the attorneys held a consultation as a final effort to settle the matter out of court. This afternoon they announced they had agreed. The terms were not made public. It is said Mr. Teasdale will pay his wife alimony and she will be allowed to secure a divorce at an uncontested hearing.

Mr. Teasdale is the proprietor of a large dye house. When he filed the suit he invited his wife and friends to a dinner and sprung a surprise on them by having notice of the suit served at the table.

A large number of witnesses were in court when the case was called today. The principals had prepared for a bitter fight. During the past few months they had taken numerous depositions.

Mrs. Teasdale has been making her home in Pittsburgh since she separated from her husband. She appeared in court with her brother, Benjamin. Shortly afterward Mr. Teasdale entered. They did not speak nor even exchange a look of recognition.

The date for the hearing of Mrs. Teasdale's suit, uncontested, has not been set.

BEAUTIFUL ART GLASS WINDOWS FOR CHAPEL

Four of Them Have Already Been Donated by Friends of St. Paul's Orphan Asylum.

The subject for the stained glass windows for the new chapel being built at St. Paul's orphan asylum at Idlewood have been selected, and yesterday the Rev. Father Michael Lynch, manager of the asylum announced the subjects selected. So far four of the windows have been donated by friends of the orphans. The first to offer to bear the expense of a window was Bishop Canevin.

There will be 16 art glass windows in the chapel and the subjects decided upon are: "The Annunciation," "Holy Night," "Immaculate Conception," "Presentation in the Temple," "In the Temple With the Doctors," "Marriage at Cana," "Sermon on the Mount," "The Tempest Calmed," "The Transfiguration," "Christ Blessing Little Children," "Entrance Into Jerusalem," "The Last Supper," "Christ, the Gethsemane," "The Resurrection," "The Ascension" and "Come To Me, All You That Labor and Are Burdened, and I Will Refresh You." The last named will be the sanctuary window, the largest one to be placed in the chapel.

Father Lynch is endeavoring to have each window donated by a friend of the orphans, and has arranged that the name of the person for whom the window is erected as a memorial will be inscribed on each window. The names of the donors will be inscribed on a tablet, which will be placed in the chapel. The contract for the windows has not yet been let.

The handsome new chapel for the orphans is rapidly nearing completion and the building is almost ready for the roof. The chapel will be English-Gothic in style, and when completed will be one of the handsomest in the country.

ORCHESTRA CONCERTS.

Jean Gerardy, the Famous Violoncellist, to Be the Soloist This Evening and Tomorrow Afternoon.

The second pair of concerts of the Pittsburgh orchestra season, with Emil Paur, conductor, will be given this evening and tomorrow afternoon with the assistance of Jean Gerardy, violoncellist. Mr. Gerardy, a man of 26 years, is in many respects the first among concert 'cellists of the present day. Since he was 11 he has been playing before the public and with constantly increasing authority, until today he is welcomed at the exclusive concerts of Berlin, Vienna and Leipsig, as he is in Boston and Pittsburgh. His most important solo number is the Saint-Saens concerto, one of the most grateful works for the 'cello in the entire repertoire. As solo numbers he plays three short pieces by Bach, Schubert and Popper.

The orchestra program Mr. Paur has prepared runs the gamut of sentiment from the gay measures of Mozart's "Figaro" overture to the intense dramatic mood of the Russian composer, Tschaikowsky. A novelty at these concerts is the symphonic poem by Bourgalt-Ducoudray. The list in full is as follows:

Overture, "The Marriage of Figaro".....Mozart
Concerto for violoncello and orchestra in A minor, op. 33.....Saint-Saens
Symphony No. 5 in E minor.....Tschaikowsky
Symphonic poem, "Burial of Ophelia".....Bourgalt-Ducoudray
(First time in Pittsburgh.)
Symphonic poem, "Dance Macabre".....Saint-Saens
For solo violoncello, "Aria".....Bach
"Wiegenlied".....Schubert
"Papillon".....Popper
Hungarian rhapsody No. 2.....Liszt

The Weber Stock Co.

This is the first year that the Weber All-Star company has ever played at Pittsburgh. Immediately after this limited trip, it will return to its Music hall on Broadway to make a new production. The piece has already been written and is in rehearsal, but the great question is that of a name. Mr. Weber has remained true to the tradition of the success of the lightest and frothiest musical farces which are not burdened with a plot, but which have plenty of fun in them.

Calve and Company Coming.

Calve and her concert company will sing at Carnegie hall on Monday evening, November 20. One of the numbers which Mme. Calve will sing is the celebrated "Habenera," from Carmen, which is now almost synonymous with Calve, and which is one of the most delightful things in the opera. The sale of seats will open at Mellor's music store, Fifth avenue, on Monday.

Sewing for Poor Children.

Opportunity circle of the King's Daughters met yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. J. A. Hartford in Linden avenue, East Pittsburgh. The afternoon was spent in making garments for the little poor of Lawrenceville, all the members of the circle coming from that section of the city. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Hartford. The next meeting will be held on the second Monday of December at the home of Mrs. Margaret Smith in Butler street.

Mr. Fairbanks Now a High Mason.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 9.—Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks was given the Masonic degrees up to and including the thirty-second degree at the Scottish Rite temple last night.

"Loveland."

This musical comedy at the Belasco has but three more performances. The piece has been much improved, and is pleasing in its musical quality.

MORE LIGHT IS NEEDED FOR THE TECH SCHOOLS

Lack of Illumination in Schenley Park Compels Young Women to Walk Through the Dark.

Friends of the Carnegie Technical schools are about to call the attention of the department of public works to the lack of proper illumination in Schenley park. With short November days it is dark when the students are dismissed, and the boys, as well as the young women employed at the institution are obliged to seek their way to Forbes street through the gloomy walks across the Junction hollow bridge and past the dark walls of the Carnegie institute.

At 5:30 o'clock Schenley park is as dark as a remote country highway. Director Bigelow gave the Technical school board to understand that the park's thoroughfares were well lighted, but two are lights placed on either end of the bridge are the only illumination provided, and these do little except to intensify the darkness. Because of official red tape the board likewise was obliged to make a cement walk from the Bigelow monument to the school buildings.

Eighteen New Cases of Typhoid.

Eighteen cases of typhoid fever and one of diphtheria were reported yesterday to the Pittsburgh bureau of health.

REAL MONEY STRINGENCY IN NEW YORK MARKET

The Rate for Call Loans Advanced to 15%, the Highest for More Than Two Years—Stocks Declined Steadily and Closed Weak.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The fluctuations in the rates for call loans were wider than those in anything else in the New York market yesterday. There was real stringency in the money market, and it had its inevitable effect of forcing liquidation of speculative holdings of stocks. The rate for call loans opened at 8 per cent, and before the noon hour borrowers were bidding 10 per cent without finding adequate accommodation. Early in the afternoon 14 per cent was quoted, and there were rapid fluctuations between this figure and 10 per cent. Before the close of the market the rate touched 15 per cent. This is the highest quoted since the spring of 1903, when the surplus reserves of the New York banks were almost identical with the total reported last Saturday. The final rate yesterday was 6 per cent, but this was quoted after borrowers had supplied their needs for the day, and was not significant of any change in money market conditions.

Secretary of the Treasury Shaw was in New York during the day and it was said that he was conferring with leading financiers regarding the situation. Out of this grew the rumor that he contemplated increasing the amount of government deposits with the banks by $30,000,000 to $25,000,000, but this rumor could not be confirmed, and the late action of both the money and stock market indicated that the rumor was unfounded. It is estimated that since the last bank statement the New York institutions have lost $4,500,000 on account of currency transferred to the country through the subtreasury. This amount taken from the reserves reported last Saturday would put the banks below the legal reserve line. The only offset would be the calling of loans, and this the banks were doing quite freely yesterday. The stock market operator had to choose between paying the trust company or the private money lender 10 to 15 per cent for the money to carry stocks which yield 3 to 6 per cent, or liquidate his stocks and stand aside for the time being. That many operators chose the latter alternative was plain from the pressure to sell stocks, which in turn was followed by a general decline in prices.

That the foreign money markets are undergoing an experience somewhat similar to our own is revealed in the weekly statements of the great banks yesterday. The Paris and Berlin markets are the center of interest, and in both markets there was heavy loan contraction during the week. The Bank of France reports a decrease of more than $40,000,000 in bills discounted and a decrease of $510,000 in gold. The Imperial Bank of Germany, which unexpectedly raised its rate of discount last Saturday, reports a decrease of $11,210,000 in loans and an increase of $1,205,000 in cash holdings. The Bank of England incresed reserves by $3,380,000 and reduced loans by $6,295,000, and Wall street derived some satisfaction from the fact that the governors of the Bank of England did not raise the minimum rate of discount. There was also satisfaction extracted from the fact that the higher rates for call loans had some effect upon rates for sterling exchange, and that gold exports from New York cannot now be made at a profit.

The liquidation in the stock market was general, embracing the high-priced railroad issues and the industrial common stocks. It was regarded as somewhat significant that Standard Oil interests were apparently not supporting their stocks. St. Paul closed 1¼ per cent lower and Northern Pacific 4 per cent lower. The Harriman stocks also closed at practically the lowest. Union Pacific at a loss of 1¾ per cent and Southern Pacific 5¾ per cent. Missouri Pacific broke to 97¾ and Wabash preferred closed 1 per cent off. The "bear" party no doubt took advantage of the genuine liquidation in progress to help along the reaction. At one time during the day United States Steel issues were offered in heavy blocks slightly above the prevailing quotations. The only industrials to close slightly higher were Tennessee Coal and Iron and American Smelting.

The dealings in Reading were again on a large scale, but that stock did not overshadow the rest of the market. It closed 1½ per cent higher than on Wednesday. The tractions and Consolidated Gas were as weak as anything else on the list, and closed at the lowest.

Dealings in the Pittsburgh market again consisted largely of a cheap mining stock. Out of total sales of 17,751 shares, 13,500 shares were Ohio Tonopah, which sold at 28 and 29 cents a share. Lustre Mining was fairly active, but closed lower at 29¾. Trading in United States Steel common was larger than for some time past, but the bulk of the transactions was thought to represent "scalping" operations between here and New York. The stock closed ⅝ lower at 36¼. Crucible Steel common closed ¼ lower at 13, while the preferred held steady at 67. The coal stocks were weak. Pittsburgh Coal common closed ⅜ lower at 15 and the preferred closed a dollar lower at 52½. River Coal preferred sold unchanged at 23½. There was very little doing in the natural gas list and prices closed steady. Westinghouse Electric lost a dollar a share, selling at 85. There were no transactions in Air Brake. Brewing stocks were steady, and Pittsburgh Brewing bonds advanced 1½ per cent to 114. The regular dividends were declared on Pittsburgh Brewing common and preferred and Inependent Brewing preferred.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

A Pittsburgh banking and brokerage house yesterday received from officers of four of the larger New York national banks opinions as to the probable future of the money market. There was general agreement that a firm tone would characterize the market for the remainder of the year, the head of one of the largest banks saying he looked for an average of 5 to 6 per cent for call loans to prevail until after the turn of the year. The chief reason why bankers look for a firm market is that the movement of cotton is comparatively slow and cotton bills are fully 40 days late in making their appearance. The rate of 15 per cent for call loans touched yesterday has been reached only momentarily, and that but once in March, 1903, since December, 1902. During the early hours of the day the presence in Wall street of the secretary of the treasury gave rise to a confident assumption in speculative circles that government measures for the relief of the money market were in contemplation. Such measures would presumably take in the national banks. This confidence prompted some of the speculative holders of securities to defer the renewal of loans called during the morning, with the idea that a later announcement of the government measures to be taken would cause an easier tone in the money market. No such announcement was forthcoming, and disclaimers were made of any purpose to take such steps. With the disappointment of the earlier hope there was something like a rush among belated borrowers. This was said to account for the severity of the stringency developed. Money continued to go out of New York in large volume, $600,000 being deposited at the sub-treasury for transfer to Chicago and New Orleans. About half as much was received from San Francisco by the same process. Foreign exchange weakened decidedly under the stress of the money situation and New York exchange at Chicago also recovered sharply.

R. C. Hall sold and Masten & Co. bought about 10,000 shares Ohio Tonopah. A block of 500 shares United States Steel common at 36¼ changed hands on the local board, Robinson Brothers to Hooker.

In connection with the talk of relief for the money market by the United States treasury it was pointed out that the government bond refunding under the offer of the secretary of the treasury has come practically to a standstill, although the refunding thus offered opens the way for considerable expansion of the note issue privileges of the banks. The failure to take advantage of the opportunity would be likely to constitute an argument against offering other facilities on the part of the government authorities.

United States new 4s declined ¼ per cent on call in New York. Other government issues were unchanged.

Directors of the Adams Express Company declared a regular dividend of 2 per cent and an extra dividend of $2 a share out of the income accumulated from investments. Both dividends are payable December 1. For a number of years dividends were paid at the rate of 8 per cent, but when a 100 per cent dividend was declared in 1898 the rate was reduced to 4 per cent. From 1900 to 1902 8 per cent was paid. Since 1903 the rate has been 4 per cent.

The directors of New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk have declared a regular semi-annual dividend of $2 per share and an extra dividend of $1 per share, payable December 1 to stockholders of record November 15.

The sharp decline in December wheat was attributed to tight money and increased receipts of the grain at primary markets.

The American Express Company has declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent and the usual semi-annual dividend of 1 per cent on income from other investments, both payable January 2 to holders of record November 29.

The Pittsburgh Brewing directors have declared the regular quarterly dividends of 1¾ per cent on the preferred and 1¼ per cent on the common stock, payable November 20 to stock of record November 11.

The Fidelity Title and Trust Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 4 per cent, payable November 15 to stock of record November 11.

A Philadelphia dispatch says: It can be stated on authority that H. C. Frick will be elected to the board at the next meeting of the Lehigh Valley railroad directors.

Dun's index number of commodity prices proportioned to consumption established a new high record for recent years on November 1 at $103.853, against $100.429 a month previous and $99.421 on November 1, 1904.

The Independent Brewing directors have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable November 25 to stock of record November 15.

The directors of the American Cotton Oil Company have declared a dividend of 1 per cent on common stock. The same amount was paid a year ago. They also declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent on the preferred stock.

The anthracite coal shipments in October proved to be larger than those of the previous year and the largest ever made in that month. The increase over last year was 74,139 tons, the shipments for the month being 5,205,694 tons. In six of the months this year the production of coal has exceeded 5,000,000 and in one month it was more than 6,000,000 tons. All the companies except the Delaware and Hudson, Pennsylvania, Erie and Delaware, Susquehanna and Schuylkill were above their percentage allotment, but the difference was not great in any case and the production may be said to be remarkably regular and uniform. Reading's shipments were somewhat larger than were expected, but were a few thousand tons below those of October, 1904. The price of Reading common stock is just double the quotation of a year ago.

There has just been a marked illustration of the elasticity of the currency in Germany. Under the law which allows the issue of notes by the Imperial bank on the payment of a tax of 5 per cent the taxed circulation of the bank at the close of September rose to $112,500,000. Three weeks later this issue was reduced to $6,395,000.

In Parisian financial circles it is reported that the czar of Russia has been transferring his personal fortune into first mortgage American railroad bonds and other United States securities.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH	IN WALL STREET
Ohio Tonopah the only active stock in the local market.	Call loan rates advanced to 15 per cent, the highest for two years.
Pittsburgh Coal common declined to 15 and the preferred to 53½.	The stringency responsible for extensive liquidation in stocks.
Westinghouse Electric closed $1 a share lower at 85.	With few exceptions everything on the list closed weak and lower.
Steel stocks closed slightly lower, but steady at the decline.	Reading an exception, closing at a net gain of 1⅛ per cent.
Regular dividends declared by both the Brewing Companies.	Sales included 1,300,500 shares stock and $3,580,000 bonds.

THE MONEY MARKET.

Much irregularity is reported in the distribution of loanable funds in the local market. Some institutions are closely loaned up, and quote a firm 6 per cent rate. Others are still putting out call money at 5@5½ on choice collateral. Clearing house comparisons:

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Money was rather scarce and in good demand in the market today for heavy repayments to the Bank of England. Discounts were quiet. Considerable caution was exercised in view of the political and monetary outlook abroad. Trading on the stock exchange was quiet and the tone was troubled. The approach of the settlement checked speculative commitments. The market closed dull and irregular. Consols were slightly easier. Home rails occasionally were lower on profit-taking. Americans opened weak, steadied to rather above parity and in the absence of activity sagged and weakened. During the last hour Wall street advices promoted selling and the market closed flat. Foreigners were comparatively steady. Japanese were in fair demand on the likelihood of an early conversion loan. Brazilians were not affected by the news of the revolt of the garrison of Fort Santa Cruz at Rio Janeiro. Peruvians were exceptionally weak. Japanese Imperial sixes of 1904 were quoted at 101¾. Consols for money, 85 9-16; consols for account, 85⅝; bar silver quiet at 23d an ounce; money, 1 per cent; the rate of discount for short bills 4@4¼ per cent; the rate of discount in the open market for three months' bills is 4 per cent.

PARIS, Nov. 9.—Prices on the bourse today were heavy. Brazilians fell under the alarming reports from Rio Janeiro. At the close prices were weak. Russian Imperial fours were quoted at 91.35 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 87½. Three per cent rentes, 99 francs 90 centimes for the account; exchange on London, 25 francs 15½ centimes for checks.

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—Prices on the bourse today were rather weak, especially Russians; exchange on London, 20 marks 42½ pfgs. for checks; discount rates, short bills, 4¼ per cent; three months' bills, 4⅝ per cent.

Foreign Bank Statements.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 40 per cent. Last week it was 38.5 per cent.

PARIS, Nov. 9.—The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows the following changes: Notes in circulation, decreased 90,490,000 francs; treasury deposits, increased 8,250,000 francs; general deposits, decreased 35,027,000 francs; gold in hand, decreased 1,550,000 francs; bills discounted, decreased 200,925,000 francs.

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—The weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany shows the following changes: Cash in hand, increased 4,320,000 marks; treasury notes, decreased 366,000 marks; other securities, decreased 44,860,000 marks; notes in circulation, decreased 56,540,000 marks.

Banks and the Treasury.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the Seattle assay office today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $32,993. Total thus paid out since Friday, $274,170, against $760,029 for the same period a wee kago. Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $5,019,000. Payment by banks to government, $7,225,000. Balance on the day's transactions, $2,206,000 paid by banks to government. Total net payment by banks to government since Friday, $4,383,000, against $3,116,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago, and $238,000 also paid by banks to government a year ago. Included in the foregoing summary is $1,150,000 deposited by banks with the sub-treasury for payment at interior points. Total thus deposited since Friday, $1,176,000, against $1,190,000 for the same period a week ago.

FOREIGN ADVICES HAVE NO EFFECT ON MARKET

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The Herald this (Friday) morning says:

Stocks ruled heavy yesterday, closing lower, and in numerous instances for noteworthy declines. All things considered, however, such as the very high prevailing range of most prices, and the disturbing character of news developments, the general list showed a strong undertone. Quite a number of issues, and among these were issues not generally popular, were advanced in the face of increasing monetary stringency which carried call money up to 15 per cent. Among issues which closed higher on the day were American Smelting and Refining, Corn Products preferred, Havana Electric Railway, Lake Shore, Knickerbocker Ice Company of Chicago, New York Air Brake, Reading common, Tennessee Coal and Iron, United Railway Investment Company and several others. It cannot be said that the advances in these stocks inspired any great degree of confidence in brokerage officers, but was of course, when stocks are advanced in a 15 per cent call money market the result shows how clearly unnecessary it is for satisfying professionals to ask for government money market aid.

Aside from the money market little developed in the way of news during the day. Russian news was decidedly less favorable, telling of riot among the land and naval forces of the czar at Russia's most important port of Cronstadt. This naturally depressed all foreign markets, under the theory that the concessions granted by the czar had not been sufficient to stem the tide of impending revolution. New York paid little or no attention to foreign developments, however. In investment circles there was still much uncertainty and nervousness over the result of the elections, the contest in the city and the success of socialistic candidates elsewhere in the country. Brokers, however, were much more concerned over the increasing stringency in the money market. Further heavy losses of currency were reported to the interior. Call money ran up to 15 per cent and time money hardened. There was one cheerful report that the treasury would come to the aid of Wall street, but that proved unfounded. The entire market hinged upon the monetary situation.

The Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Cotton—Spot closed quiet at 20 points higher. Middling uplands, 11.35c; middling gulf, 12.05c; sales, 325 bales. Range of prices:

BIG APARTMENT IN TWENTIETH

J. B. Jones Will Build a $45,000 Structure at Millvale and Ben Venue Avenues.

ACTIVITY IN THE EAST END

The popularity of the Twentieth ward as a center for high-class apartment houses is again evidenced by the project of J. B. Jones of J. B. Jones & Co., iron dealers of Allegheny, to build a $45,000 structure at the southwest corner of Millvale and Ben Venue avenues. Some time ago Mr. Jones commissioned Architect George H. Schwan to prepare plans for the structure and the contract was just been awarded to the W. E. Alberts company. Work will be started at once, so that the building may be completed by March 15 in time for the spring renting season. It will be three stories high, with walls of pressed brick, and will stand on a site 90x130 feet. There will be 18 suites in the building, each having six rooms, tile bath and pantry, and being finished in hardwood. This is the sixth apartment house project announced within 10 days, and all of the buildings will be such as will rent for from $25 to $75 per suite.

Architect Schwan has also awarded the contract to R. C. Tannehill for the stone parish house to be built for the Christ Protestant Episcopal church in Union avenue, near Ohio street, Allegheny. The building will contain a large auditorium, club room and study rooms, and will be entirely separate from the church building.

A third good building contract just awarded was for the residence of D. W. Dunlevy in Hampton avenue, near North Negley avenue, Nineteenth ward. Plans for the residence were drawn by the Century Architectural Company, of which Charles R. Porter is president, and the contract is to be handled by Scott & Kreible. The house will be a 12-room center hall residence costing $15,000.

The Land Trust Company also sold through its agent, Thomas Travers, for S. Schreiber to Attorney L. F. Monahan his residence at 324 Farragut street, between Jackson street and Stanton avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $10,000. The house is a reception hall dwelling of 11 rooms, finished in hardwood, and stands on a lot 34x140 feet.

Oakland Houses Bring $19,500.

Through the office of C. C. Hamilton three reception hall brick houses belonging to A. D. Harrison of the Wilkinsburg Real Estate & Trust Company have been sold to John F. Young for $19,500, or $6,500 each. The houses stand on lots 22x100 feet facing in Robinson street, near Fifth Avenue, Fourteenth ward, and are rented for $45 a month each. They were secured by Mr. Harrison about two years ago and his present sale nets him a handsome profit on that purchase.

M. J. Ehrenfeld has sold for I. Glick to Charles F. Knowlen an eight-room brick house and store building, with a six-room brick house on 20x100 feet on the north side of Forbes street, near Moultrie street, Fourteenth ward, for $11,000. The property extends back to Ann street and is well rented.

Through the Gordon Smith company an exchange deal totaling $20,000 was articled for yesterday. In the deal James Powell secured from Michael Nozzellillo four frame houses on 62x140 feet in Winslow street, near Park avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $13,000. The houses are rented for $100 a month. In part payment Mr. Powell tendered a farm of 181 acres near Connellsville, Fayette county, on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, which was valued at $7,000.

It develops that the exact price paid for the Jacob Neff apartments in Thomas boulevard, near Fifth avenue, was only $64,500. They were deeded to Annabel Van Horn, wife of Robert M. Travis, the commission merchant, his Avalon residence having been tendered in part payment. The two apartments are four-story brick structures standing on lots 54x197 feet each.

Lease South Side Warehouse.

Another one of the 40 big warehouses in the group of the Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse and Transfer Company on the South Side has been leased to McCreery & Co. for a term of five years, through the Samuel W. Black Company, which has the exclusive agency for the warehouses. McCreery & Co., after a careful search over the city for the most suitable place for large storage facilities, hit upon the South Side location as being by far the most complete and convenient quarters in the city. The firm secures a six-story warehouse 20x155 feet, the six floors having over 18,000 square feet of inside floor space.

The John K. Ewing company has secured the renting agency for the 12 new brick houses of Golden & Crick in Bedford avenue, the total income from which will be $200 a month.

Persistent rumors have been afloat for two weeks of a large sale in Penn avenue, near Beatty street, East End. Further than that two options have been given in that territory nothing definite has been settled. Brokers are no longer wondering at the growth of the East Liberty business district toward the west, for recent developments there show that the movement has a substantial foundation and values of vacant frontage are going up accordingly. The new $40,000 store building of Albert J. Massmann and the $15,000 store and waterproof building of Wendell, Scott & Co., which is now under erection, are both the properties of firms which have built up their business in East Liberty and know in detail the possibilities of that district. It is to be noted also that two of the seven storerooms which the estate of E. M. Ferguson is building in Penn avenue, just west of Highland avenue, are already rented, although the buildings will not be completed for several weeks.

Sales Made by Brokers.

GENERAL MARKET HAS FAIRLY STEADY TONE

Demand for Potatoes and Apples Continues Strong With Fair Receipts.

Trade on the market was generally good yesterday after a lull during the two previous days. Prices were steady during the entire day. Receipts of potatoes have been good during the past week, but this has had no effect on the market, as the demand for fine quality continues strong. There is a good demand for molasses and sugar syrups. The cool weather always brings forth cakes and waffles and, of course, syrup is a necessity.

The cheese market presents about the same features and shows little if any change in prices. General demand is good and business is done at full prices. Receipts show a slight shrinkage for the week.

The demand for good apples continues and high prices are obtained for goods of fine quality. Receipts have been somewhat better. Cranberries were advanced in barrel prices yesterday and the sales are very good. Southern string beans are finding a good market. Fair pickles, Quebecs have made about their last appearance for the season and the stock is just fair.

HAY AND GRAIN.

The market was extremely strong on oats, with prices advancing on all grades. Arrivals yesterday were not equal to the demands. Hay continues firm and active. Prices are higher on straw, arrivals being scant. Old corn continues scarce and active and prices are firm. Millfeed is active.

Hope Natural Gas Company Gets Pleasant Surprise from Test

Few completions were reported from the lower southwest fields. In the southwest end of the Littleton field, Wetzel county, the Hope Natural Gas Company met with a surprise when it drilled its test on the David Sole farm into the Gordon and got a good oil producer. When drilled into the pay the well made several flows and is estimated to be good for 50 to 75 barrels a day. The Carter Oil Company holds the oil right on the Sole farm and the well will be turned over to that company. The southwest extension to the Littleton pool has proven very strong. Some very good producers have been found, but the producing formation lacks regularity, and dusters and very light wells have been frequently encountered in close proximity to large producers. Near Downs, Marion county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has drilled a test on the Nancy L. Brand farm into the Big Injun and has developed a good gas pressure. The Hope is now underreaming to where it strikes the Big Injun or drill on to the lower sands.

In the Yellow Creek development, Calhoun county, the Carter Oil Company has completed its No. 8 on the J. E. Snyder farm and has a show for a 60-barrel producer. The Zinn-Hazel Oil Company has drilled its second test on the W. M. Sherwood farm into the Berea grit and has a show of oil. The Eastern Oil Company's No. 3 on the R. M. Ramsey farm is holding up at 120 barrels a day. In the Wolf Summit field, Harrison county, the South Penn company's No. 17 on the L. Haymond farm is holding up at 115 barrels a day. Near Wallsburg, Brook county, William Beidling has completed a test on the Charles Green farm and has a duster in the Berea grit. This well will be drilled to the Gordon and will be the first in that locality to test the lower formations.

In the Wolf Creek district, on the Ohio side, in Washington county, the Pugh & Henne test on the E. Vanfleet farm is reported to be producing 10 barrels a day. This location is in advance of developments and will be the incentive for starting some new work. The shallow sand territory is especially attractive at this time. The drills can be drilled to the sand cost than in almost any other locality, and even though light pumpers can be operated at little expense, making them profitable producers, as compared with the deep sand districts in West Virginia. A good many operators have, for the time being, shut down development work in the deep territory and are now engaged in operating the shallow territory in the lower southwest and Southeastern Ohio.

At New Gallilee, Beaver county, the Calumet Oil and Gas Company has completed a second test on the Bradford farm and has a show for a four or five-barrel pumper in the Big Injun formation. West of the Bakerstown tunnel, Allegheny county, the Pittsburgh Rose and Carnation Company has drilled its Nos. 3 and 4 on the Crystal farm through the sand and has a brace of good gassers. In the Brush Creek field, same county, Stage & Leidecker have completed their No. 4 on the Duthill tract and will have a very light pumper, not good for more than four barrels a day. North of Dellaven, the Enna Natural Gas Company has drilled in its No. 3 on the John Fugger farm and has a show for a 20-barrel producer in the 100-foot. W. J. Dunlap & Co. have started to drill at a test on the I. G. Bickle farm. The American Natural Gas Company has completed its second test on the Samuel Michaels farm and has a five-barrel pumper. W. C. Walley & Co. have the rig completed for No. 3 on the A. Bryan farm, in the Murdockville field, in Beaver county. The Crescent Oil and Gas Company is down 500 feet at a test on the William Davis farm. The Johnston Oil and Gas Company is drilling at the same depth at a test on the McNamee heirs' farm, and Marks & Co. have the rig completed for No. 4 on the James M. McCoy farm.

COKE PRODUCTION GROWS WITH BETTER CAR SUPPLY

Increased Transportation Facilities Permits the Firing of Many More Ovens.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Nov. 9.—As a result of better car supply last week the coke output increased over 4,000 tons. The increase in the Connellsville region alone was nearly 4,000 tons. The increase in production was close to 4,000 tons. Over 100 ovens were fired and further increase in production may be looked for.

A summary of the Connellsville region for the week ended November 4 shows a total of 23,273 ovens, of which 21,483 are in operation. The week's production is estimated at 271,591 tons, an increase of 3,892 tons over the previous week. The shipments aggregated 11,911 cars, distributed as follows: Pittsburgh district, 4,258 cars; west of Pittsburgh, 6,329 cars; east of Everson, 1,327 cars. The shipments amounted to 275,485 tons, an increase of 3,953 tons over the week previous.

The week's shipments from the Mazontown field aggregated 2,478 cars, distributed as follows: Pittsburgh district, 240 cars; west of Pittsburgh, 2,094 cars; east of Everson, 144 cars. These shipments are estimated at 69,284 tons, or 608 tons over last report.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

A report of the assays made of the ore discovered recently in the Rambler mine in the Silver Crown district, 25 miles west of Cheyenne, shows that the ore body opened up runs $57 to the ton in zinc and $19 in gold, silver and copper. The vein is increasing in width and richness as depth is attained and it is believed by mining men who have examined the claim that a bonanza has been struck.

The Boysen Mining Company, the $25,000,000 syndicate with preferential rights to one square mile of mineral lands in the Wind river reservation, Wyoming, to be selected before the opening of next year, has already commenced to invade the reserve with a large force of prospectors equipped with modern machinery. The men and machinery have been brought in from the Copper mountain district, where they have been at work on mining claims and are on their way to the western part of the reserve.

In the federal court at Salt Lake the injunction prohibiting the United States Mining Company from extracting lead ores from disputed territory was reinstated on the application of Enos A. Wall et al, pending the final adjudication of the suit now before the supreme court at Washington. Independent of the ores in dispute the management has sufficient to meet the requirements of the lead furnaces for a year or more.

The bullion output of Utah Consolidated for October exceeded all records. Returns from the road over which the bullion is shipped to the refineries show an output for October of 1,725,000 pounds.

Zinc ore reached $55 a ton this week in Joplin, while the assay basis was $52 per ton. Lead sold for 4c, the price paid last week, and some choice lots sold at $66 56 per ton. Zinc shipments were 712 tons larger than last week, though lead shipments fell off 184 tons because of lack of available cars.

GOOD SPEAKERS FOR CLUB DINNER

Traffic Men Will Enjoy Autumn Evening at Schenley—Officers for Next Year.

NEW STATION AT WILKINSBURG

Announcement regarding the autumn dinner of the Traffic club of Pittsburgh was made yesterday. While this dinner has become a fixture with the club, it has not until this year taken on anything of the character of the big annual dinner held each spring. For the coming banquet, which will be held at the Schenley on Monday evening, November 20, a number of notable railroad men have been secured to make addresses. These men, so far as announced to date, are: Col. J. M. Schoonmaker of this city, vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad; J. C. Whitney of Baltimore, second vice president of the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company; J. B. Cockrum of Indianapolis, general attorney of the Lake Erie & Western railroad, and Frederick A. Butterworth, commercial agent of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton-Pere Marquette system. Mr. Butterworth is to be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Toledo Traffic club tomorrow night. With the exception of a few guests to be entertained by the club at this banquet, the invitations are being confined to the members. The committee in charge of the dinner is composed of Traffic Manager L. H. Constans of the Pittsburgh Steel Company, General Agent E. F. Lalk of the Santa Fe system and General Agent D. F. Hurd of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway.

Announcement was also made of the committee's report of nominations for officers to serve the club for the next year, the election to occur in December. T. C. Miller, who is now chairman of the board of governors, is the nominee for president with no opposition, as successor to Mr. Hurd. Thomas J. Walters and William V. Taffner are nominated for re-election, respectively as secretary and treasurer, without opposing candidates. Following are the other nominees: First vice president, John G. Crandall; second vice president, E. C. Childers; second vice president, E. C. Sattley, C. S. Belsterling, W. S. Campbell and Paul Gruber; governors to represent the railroad traffic men (three to elect), D. F. Hurd, A. D. Huff, G. G. Herring, W. A. Terry, E. E. Lalk, W. W. Scully, C. F. Perkins and V. C. Williams; governors to represent the industrial traffic men (two to elect), W. R. Orr, A. L. Robison, W. B. Everett, C. E. Lloyd, S. F. Woodside and J. E. Hill, Jr.

Wilkinsburg to Get New Station.

Wilkinsburg is to get a new Pennsylvania railroad station, whether the tracks are elevated through the borough or not. When the company's recent proposition to the borough council for elevating the tracks no mention was made of the proposed new station except in an incidental way. It was learned yesterday that the company intends to build the station as soon as the question of elevating the tracks is settled. It is probable, however, if the track raising matter is dropped, the station will be so constructed that it can be elevated and used for the elevated trackage if the raising should be done a few years later.

The station question is being discussed with much interest by the people of Wilkinsburg, and especially by the thousands of persons who use the suburban trains between there and the city. At the meeting of the borough council Monday night the subject was thoroughly discussed, estimates having been compiled by the officers as to the cost of the work, aside from the direct expense to the railroad for building the new station and constructing the street viaducts. It was estimated that the cost for changing the street grades eight or nine feet, as outlined in the railroad's preliminary plan, would be about $80,000, while the property damage resulting to the private owners would be $150,000. It was the opinion of the councilmen that unless the Pennsylvania should be willing to bear half of this expense the project would be dropped.

The Pennsylvania's estimated expense for the roadwork alone was $95,000, while the excavation, masonry and superstructure of the bridges over the streets affected would cost $250,000, making the total expense of $345,000 for the railroad's side of the matter. As the property damage the Pennsylvania itself would be the heaviest loser, for the company owns half of the property that would be damaged in Wood street, half of that in Pitt street and one-fourth of that in Penn and Rebecca streets. South avenue and Hay street would also be affected, but the railroad does not own property in these two streets.

Farewell Reception for Peebles.

Invitations have been issued by the Buffalo and Allegheny branch of the Young Men's Christian association for a farewell reception to be tendered William J. Peebles tonight. Mr. Peebles, who has been promoted from freight agent of the Valley in Pittsburgh, to special agent of the Pennsylvania's freight department in Philadelphia, has been one of the principal men identified with the founding and work of the Valley association. He is now chairman. The reception will be held at the association building in Forty-third street.

Members of Ohio Joint Committee.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 9.—At a meeting of traffic officers of Ohio railroads here today the agreement with the Ohio Shippers' association, calling for the appointment of a joint committee to hear all complaints in regard to rates and classifications of shipments, was ratified and the following men were appointed to represent the railroads: G. W. Davis, general freight agent of the Cleveland, Akron & Columbus; A. E. Billings, division freight agent of the Lake Shore, and J. H. Hackett, division freight agent of the Erie.

Can Now Handle the Throttle.

The following men passed a successful examination under Train Master C. T. Kalbaugh of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie for promotion from firemen to enginemen, and have been assigned to duty on the right side of the engine cab: T. C. Crawford, B. W. Spangler, C. L. Brewer, J. R. Wadsworth, A. G. James, N. H. Ward, H. S. Kelly, Charles Walters, J. C. Schaffer, W. C. Evans, F. C. Glaney, H. H. Hipple, H. H. Wolfenbarger, C. E. Sullivan, Adam Black, G. W. Higgins and L. S. Stewart.

P. & L. E. Orders 1,000 Box Cars.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company awarded a contract yesterday to the American Car & Foundry Company for 1,000 box cars for delivery in 1906. These cars are to be of 80,000 pounds capacity. The company recently placed an order for 1,250 steel gondolas with the Pressed Steel Car Company. These cars are a portion of the Lake Erie's equipment program for 1906 delivery. It is also a portion of the 25,000-car order outlined in the New York Central lines a few days ago.

Railroad Notes.

C. H. Free has been appointed steam boat inspector at the Union station.

John C. Wood, traveling freight agent of the Indiana Harbor road, was in the city.

James Marlow, brakeman on the Panhandle's Cannelburg express, is on the sick list.

It is rumored in the east that H. C. Frick is to become a director of the Lehigh Valley.

The Panhandle transportation officers will hold a meeting to discuss the fall schedule in a few days.

E. E. Deem, clerk in the general passenger transportation offices of the Pennsylvania lines, is on the sick list.

Joseph Feidkamp has been appointed night yard master of the Pennsylvania at Island avenue, Allegheny.

Grant Campbell, baggage master on Panhandle trains Nos. 23 and 8, is again on duty after a week's illness.

P. C. Stevenson of Toledo, assistant general freight agent of the Clover Leaf, left for New York after spending the day in Pittsburgh.

District Passenger Agent C. O'D. Pascault of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh has been spending a few days hunting in the vicinity of Punxsutawney.

General Agent D. F. Hurd of the Lake Shore returned from the annual meeting of the Merchants Dispatch Transportation Company's agents at Buffalo.

Pennsylvania coal and coke shipments last week amounted to 961,955 tons—640,876 tons of bituminous coal, 242,256 tons of coke and 78,960 tons of anthracite coal.

Vice President B. A. Worthington of the Wabash lines east of Toledo, who is spending this week with President E. A. Delano on a trip over the lines west of Toledo, is expected home tomorrow.

General Freight Agent H. J. Booth of the Wabash is soon to become a full-fledged Pittsburgher in residence as well as in business. He has secured a home in Thomas boulevard and will remove his family from Cleveland to this city in a couple of weeks.

SUGGESTS TO ASSESS HIS CITY EMPLOYES

Alleges Mayor Hays Offers to Raise $1,500 by This Means for Federation.

"After denying us the $5,000 which had originally been promised, Mayor Hays offered to give up $1,500 which he proposed to raise by levying an assessment upon city employes," declared Uriah Bellingham of the United Mine Workers yesterday. He was discussing the statement in The Gazette by him yesterday morning, in which he declared that the city administration had refused to live up to its promise to have councils appropriate $5,000 to the entertainment of the delegates to the convention of the American Federation of Labor. The city had offered them an invitation to meet here. The refusal, he says, was due to William Dodds accepting the Republican nomination as clerk of courts.

The federation indignantly refused to accept any donation which might be got by assessing city employes, and other labor organization men waxed warm in their denunciation, yesterday, of such a suggestion, especially after the heavy burden under which the city employes have suffered in contributing to the case lost by the election of Tuesday.

Mr. Bellingham cited the fact yesterday that the American Federation of Labor, while in session in San Francisco last year, had urgently been invited here by the city administration for their silver jubilee convention, especially because of the fact that the federation was organized in Pittsburgh. The delegates voted for Pittsburgh on the strength of the urgent invitation and promise of a royal reception.

President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers and Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation, will arrive in the city Saturday night and will address the convention, whose delegates represent 5,000,000 workingmen in America and Canada. President Gompers will address the chamber of commerce at a special meeting Monday night. It is expected the convention will remain in session at least 10 days and efforts are being made by local organizations to provide some kind of entertainment in the face of the utter and humiliating disappointment resulting from the city administration.

THINKS PRESIDENT CAN SIDETRACK PRECEDENTS

Simon Wolf Makes Another Appeal on Behalf of the Russian Jews—Will Raise Funds.

(By Associated Press to The Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Simon Wolf, former president of the B'Nai B'Rith, has sent the following appeal to President Roosevelt:

To the President of the United States: The man that sidetracked precedents by ending the coal strike; that conjured peace between Russia and Japan and who has, in a hundred ways, showed marvelous versatility and courage, can he not take the initiative and bring about concert of action to end the cruelties in Russia? How long is the ghastly, fiendish holocaust to continue?

Mr. Wolf is heading a movement to raise funds for the relief of the stricken Jews in Russia, pending any action that may be taken by the United States or other nations of the world. He points out that 25,000 Jews have been killed and 100,000 have been injured during the recent massacres in Russia:

"We have got to raise millions of dollars in this country and Europe," said Mr. Wolf today. "The situation is acute and calls for our best and strongest efforts to succor the persecuted Jews in the land of the czar."

TAKE A TEST VOTE ON ANTI-CHURCH BILL

PARIS, Nov. 9.—The senate today began the debate on the bill providing for the separation of church and state. Premier Rouvier, in the course of the debate, said the rejection of the bill would involve the retirement of the cabinet. A motion to postpone the debate was defeated by 152 to 29 votes, which was considered to be a test vote showing the ministry's large majority for the bill.

THE THREE RIVERS

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 2 o'clock last night was 8.7 feet and the river was stationary.

(Special Telegram to The Gazette.)

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 9.—River 10.5 feet and rising. Departures were: Keystone State, Pittsburgh; Greenland, Pomeroy and Charleston. The boiler on the coal digger of the Queen City Coal Company let go this morning, killing Engineer O'Hara outright and injuring two others. The body of T. R. Coates, who was missed off the towboat J. B. Finley, was recovered today. Clear and pleasant.

LOUISVILLE—River stationary; in canal, 4.9 feet; on falls, 2.7 feet; below locks, 9.5 feet. Fair.

WHEELING—River 8 feet 7 inches and rising. Cloudy and cool. Departures: Lorena, Pittsburgh, 5 a. m.; Greenland, Pittsburgh, 10 a. m.; H. K. Bedford, Parkersburg, 11 a. m.; Jewel, Newport, 11 a. m.

PARKERSBURG—River 8 feet and rising. Cloudy and cold. The French left for Creston, the Virginia for Pittsburgh.

MORE WATER IS NEEDED.

Coal Barge Stage Will Be Reached With a Little Rise.

The Ohio river will have to raise a few more inches before a coal barge stage is reached. While the rise may come, it is not expected. A large amount of coal is in the harbor and the upper pools, and this will be taken down if the rise occurs.

Several boats are being overhauled. The tug Emily Jung has been brought up from Louisville and placed on the Manchester docks, where she will receive new boilers and a new hull. The shaft of the Crescent is being repaired at the same docks. The Tom Rees is on the Marine docks at Elizabeth.

The Ben Hur arrived and departed yesterday. The J. C. Woodward also arrived yesterday.

Several boats are due today. Among these are the Columbia, Lorena, the Greenland and the Virginia.

The Queen City, which has been repaired throughout, will leave Cincinnati on Saturday. The Pittsburgh & Cincinnati packet line will resume the regular schedule on Monday. For several weeks only two boats of this line have been leaving this harbor during the week, but starting on Monday, there will be a boat out of here on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday.

United States Commissioner Lindsey yesterday afternoon held a hearing in admiralty in the case of Wm. H. Green vs. the sandboat T. J. Carlick, owned by the Sharpsburg Sand Company. Green claims the defendant owes him $9.25 for wages as steward of the boat. Manager George M. Hughes appeared for the sand company and testified that the defendant had paid the $9.25 claimed by Green to the claimant's wife. Green denied he is married or ever had a wife. The commissioner decided that the claimant has a probable case and allowed the defendant to present his case in the United States courts without bail.

FUNERAL DELAYS MARSHALL TRIAL

Commonwealth Succeeds in Having a Number of Papers Admitted in Evidence.

TRUST COMPANY GOES UNDER

Judge Macfarlane yesterday excused the jury in the A. G. Marshall case until Monday, so that Juror Robert Fleming can attend the funeral of his mother.

Director Harrison Snyder testified that the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Company had no assets in December, 1904, and that the Rockwood Brick and Coal Company never was operated by the Pennsylvania company. M. J. Fritz, cashier of the Somerset National bank, testified he would not consider the Rockwood company stock worth more than 25 cents on the dollar. O. C. Dorgo corroborated Snyder's testimony.

After a legal fight to get in evidence books and papers, Judge Macfarlane admitted the bill of particulars in the cases of the North American and Duquesne companies, in which Marshall is charged with embezzling $25,000 from each of these companies. The court also allowed the statement of the Duquesne company, its salary account, stock account, personal account and commission accounts to be admitted in evidence.

Samuel Palmero, an Italian fruit dealer, was convicted of obtaining $170 by representing he owned a store in Fifth avenue, which belonged to another.

Matilda Lepper, in a rule on her husband, Ralph J. Lepper, alleges he did not support their children pending a determination of his suit for divorce, nor did the Odd Fellows committee, in whose hands he said he had placed money for their support, give her anything.

The Lawrence Gas Fixture and Supply Company, of which the Island Avenue Real Estate and Trust Company, began proceedings for a receiver, in which the company joins, as it had never started business.

Thompson & Co. have filed an answer in support of their motion to dissolve an attachment issued by the Lawrence Gas Fixture and Manufacturing Company. The amount alleged to be due is neither admitted nor denied, but the defendants deny any fraudulent or attempted disposal of property to defraud its creditors. It says it is not insolvent.

A capias was issued by Vaja Vujnovic for the arrest of Samuel Kosanovitch, from whom $5,000 damages is demanded for the alleged alienations of Mrs. Vujnovic's affections. Vujnovic avers the defendant persuaded his wife to go to Joliet, Ill., where he had them arrested.

Howard Brown & Bro. sued the Second Cumberland Presbyterian church for $350 for commissions alleged to be due for securing the church a loan of $16,000.

The McKees Rocks Christian church filed an affidavit of defense to the suit of William A. Barton, who built its church. It is denied that the church is indebted to Barton. It is alleged he fraudulently made a bid of $8,000 for the construction of the church and then caused it to cost $11,200, the difference for which he sued.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against Morris Henderson, a merchant of Altoona. The petitioners are Harris & Ginsberg, Diamondstone & Lehman and John Broida, all of Pittsburgh, whose claims aggregate $1,650.

The grand jury for the December term of criminal court was drawn yesterday as follows: K. K. MRS. EGGERS GETS DIVORCE.

Report of Commissioner Shows Her Husband Was Cruel and Had Deserted Her.

Mrs. Mary M. Eggers was granted a divorce from Frederick W. Eggers in court of common pleas No. 1. Commissioner D. J. Buckley filed his report, which showed the couple was married November 7, 1888, and that Eggers deserted his wife over two years ago and had treated her brutally for years.

Servants and others testified that Eggers did not contribute to his wife's support, that he called her vile names, beat her on several occasions and threatened her life. One servant saw him with his hands on her throat. It was also shown that Mrs. Eggers treated her husband kindly and did everything in her power to make him a pleasant home, yet he never spoke a pleasant word in the house. She was even compelled to ask for bolts to sleep in the same room with her because she was afraid of her husband. Eggers has not been heard of for over two years, it was averred.

FIRST REPORT IS VERY FAVORABLE

Independent Brewing Company Stockholders Learn Undivided Profits Are $201,018.

SAME DIRECTORS ELECTED

Stockholders of the Independent Brewing Company, which began operations last February, were well pleased with the report submitted at the first annual meeting yesterday at the company's general offices in the Farmers Bank building. The report showed net earnings to November 1 of $733,830 32, and undivided profits of $201,018 32.

The old board and officers were elected as follows: Anton Lutz, chairman; John Benz, president; W. P. Hansell, vice president; C. F. Stoop, treasurer; John H. Shaffer, secretary; James P. Mulvihill, sales manager; Joseph Diererle, Jr., W. M. Lindsay and Peter Hermes. The report of President Benz to the stockholders follows:

I beg leave to submit the following report as the result of the operations of the company, which commenced its business on February 9th of this year.

During the period that we have been in operation we have completed our business organization, and thus far the affairs of the company have resulted profitably.

Five Breweries Abandoned.

In the operation of the company it has developed that certain of the plants taken over are not necessary to the profitable operation of the company. These plants are the old Lion brewery in Allegheny, the Gambrinus plant in New Kensington, the Foehl plant in Millvale, and the unequipped and uncompleted property proposed to have been constructed and operated by the Highland Brewing Company. From the plants above named all the personal property and equipment have been removed, and they serve no useful purpose in the conduct of the company's business. They are, however, subject to the lien of the first mortgage of the company to the Colonial Trust Company, as trustee. The board of directors have instructed me to recommend that they be sold, and the proceeds of such sale be distributed in accordance with the provisions of the first mortgage of the company. I therefore make such recommendation, and ask you at the election at this meeting to give your consent, which is necessary to carry the recommendation of the board into effect.

The board is congratulating itself, and I ask you to permit me to congratulate you upon the financial results of the 8 2-3 months' business experience of the company. Those results show that after paying the dividends on the preferred stock in May and in August, 1905, providing for the payment of the dividend on same in November of this year, the payment of all taxes, interest on the bonds July 1; also revolving the amount of interest and accrued taxes to November 1, 1905, as well as charging off $100,000 for depreciation, the company is enabled to place to the credit of its surplus account over $200,000.

The board submits to you that these results, taking into consideration the difficulties and complications arising in taking over the separate plants, reorganizing the same and organizing the business systems of the company, are most gratifying.

I beg to announce to you that the board at its last meeting declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable on November 25, 1905.

CAR GOES OVER BANK; FOUR PEOPLE ARE HURT

Grade on Chartiers Street, West End, Is the Scene of a Serious Traction Accident.

Four persons were injured and others given a severe fright in a traction accident in Chartiers street, near Linehart street, West End, at 6:40 a. m. yesterday, when car 148 of the Sheraden division jumped the tracks and plunged over a 20-foot embankment. The more seriously hurt are:

MRS. G. HEINDACHER, aged 45, 16 Love avenue, West End; injured about head and body and suffering from shock.

LINEHART SCHAFFER, aged 70, Linehart street, West End; shoulder and face bruised and suffering from shock.

T. J. CONNOLLY, conductor; injured about head and body.

B. MEENER, motorman; injured about face and body.

The injured people were taken to the office of Dr. William Frederick and later sent to their homes in carriages. There were five passengers in the car, and some of them were cut by broken glass.

Chartiers street is very steep, and special care is exercised in operating cars on the hill. When the car, which was going south, was approaching Linehart street it jumped the tracks and started down the embankment. In the descent the conductor and passengers were thrown to the front end of the car. The car stopped in the soft earth at the foot of the embankment.

Schaffer had just left a storehouse in the rear of his yard and did not notice the car coming down the hill. The car hit a tree and one of the limbs struck Schaffer on the shoulder, knocking him down.

CORONER FIXES NO BLAME IN POWDER MILL DISASTER

UNIONTOWN, PA., Nov. 9.—(Special)—After but a few minutes' deliberation the coroner's jury returned a verdict at 9:30 o'clock tonight that the 18 victims of the explosion at the Rand powder mill September 4, came to their death from causes unknown to the jury. In the final sitting of the jury tonight, which lasted two hours, witnesses were examined in an effort to show that there had been carelessness at the plant, but no definite charges were made.

THEORIES ABOUT FOOD.

Also a Few Facts on the Same Subject.

We hear much nowadays about health foods and hygienic living, about vegetarianism, and many other fads along the same line.

Restaurants may be found in the larger cities where no meat, pastry or coffee is served and the food crank is in his glory, and arguments and theories galore advanced to prove that meat was never intended for human stomachs, and almost make us believe that our sturdy ancestors, who lived four-score years in robust health on roast beef, pork and mutton, must have been grossly ignorant of the laws of health.

Our forefathers had other things to do than formulate theories about the food they ate. A warm welcome was extended to any kind, from bacon to acorns.

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meat furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables or grains.

Dr. Julius Remmson, on this subject, says: "Nervous persons, people run down in health and of low vitality, should eat meat and plenty of it. If the digestion is too feeble at first it may be easily corrected by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three hours, and no matter how weak the stomach may be, no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply the pepsin and diastase necessary to perfect digestion, and every form of indigestion will be overcome by their use.

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspeptics should eat plenty of meat and insure its proper digestion by the daily use of a safe, harmless digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, composed of the natural digestive principles, pepsin, diastase, fruit acids and salts, which actually perform the work of digestion. Cheap cathartic medicines, masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures, are useless for indigestion, as they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food.

Dyspepsia in all its many forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food, and the sensible way to solve the riddle and cure the dyspepsia is to make daily use at meal time of a preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which is indorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles.
